POMONA BLUE LAW WINS BY SMALL MAJORITY

Charles Holds to Throne

YIELDS TO FORCE AND CONSENTS TO WITHDRAW PLANS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VIENNA, April 4.—A compromise has been reached between Emperor Charles and the Hungarian government, according to confident advices, whereby he will issue a proclamation maintaining his claim to the throne and declaring he only yields to the force of circumstances. He has the fullest confidence in the power and capacity of the Hungarian people, he declares.

WILL STAND BY ALLIES.

A Steinamanger dispatch says Charles is fully informed as to the feeling of the National Assembly and the government and, realizing the difficulty of the situation, consents to abandon his original plans for returning to the capital.

Dr. Fitzwilliams, the English physician who yesterday visited former Emperor Charles at Steinamanger, today told the Associated Press that Charles had a temperature and a hard cough and that he thought it would be unwise for the ex-Emperor to travel until his condition improved.

The Austrian Cabinet has notified the Hungarian government that, unless an early hour is set for the certain departure of Charles, the Austrian government will cancel his safe conduct. This notification has evoked a promise from Hungary that Charles would leave that country within forty-eight hours from Sunday night.

The steady influx of Hungarian nobles and former officers continued at Steinamanger, and there are reports that Royalist demonstrations are being planned.

TRAIN IS READY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, April 4.—The train for ex-Emperor Charles has arrived at Steinamanger from Budapest, a report to the semiofficial Austrian news agency says.

LONDON, April 4.—Confirmation of reports that the "little entente" has threatened military measures against Hungary if former Emperor Charles does not leave that country before Thursday is given in advices to Reuter's Limited. It is stated that an ultimatum to this effect has been sent to Hungary by Czecho-Slovakia, Rumania and Jugo-Slavia.

ENTENTE ACTS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) April 4.—In an ultimatum delivered to Hungary yesterday, the Jugo-Slav, Czecho-Slovak and Rumanian governments are understood to have threatened the severance of relations and commencement of military operations against Hungary if former Emperor Charles has not departed by 6 p.m. Thursday. They are determined to require Hungary to settle definitely the dynastic question, giving adequate guarantees to surrender immediately Western Hungary to Austria, and to suppress irregular troops there.

WANTS TO STAY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, April 3.—Former Emperor Charles told the members of his suite at Steinamanger today that he was unwilling to leave Hungary. If he could not remain as King he would settle in the country as a private citizen, he declared.

It had been previously stated that the ex-ruler was refusing to leave

NEW AND IMPORTANT JOB TO BE GIVEN PERSHING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—What is to be done with John J. Pershing, general commanding the United States Army, who today in a sense is a man without a job?

This question of what to do with Pershing has given concern to two administrations. It is possible today to forecast definitely the place that has been prepared for Pershing, one which will be in keeping with his rank as general of the Army and which will give him a wide field of commanding service.

With the present temper of the people as they and their legislators view a large standing army, it is necessary that the United States shall have a reserve force which shall be able to give men and officers promptly to the new government in case of need.

Congress is to authorize a standing army of not more than 175,000 men. The reserve, which consists of the National Guard of all the States, the reserve officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, must be brought into a state of effectiveness, and must be developed to the full in personnel.

PERSHING'S JOB.

The army thus represented is greater than the standing army, and it can be said today, without much fear of misconstruction, that Gen. Pershing is to be charged by the government with the special duty of developing all the reserve forces. It probably will not be long before he will enter upon this new and enlarged field of duty.

The National Guard of the States is not recruited up to anything like its proper strength. It is out of touch with the Regular Army, and to some extent out of sympathy with it. The officers of the reserve army number about 80,000 men. The number of enlisted men in the reserve is not known definitely. Gen. Pershing's high duty will be to use his influence and advice in securing the co-operation of the State authorities in the work of bringing the National Guard up to full strength and in the work of bringing the Guard and the reserves into sympathetic touch and action with the War Department and with the Regular Army.

IS NOW OUTRANKED.

This work for Pershing will remove him from the anomalous position in which he finds himself today. He is the commanding general of the United States Army, and yet he is under the direction of the IRISH OUTRAGES LISTED.

Over Ten Thousand in Year; Police Slain Number 243; Soldiers Lose 90.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 4.—Figures of outrages attributed to the Sinn Fein during the year ending March 31, given by Denis Henry, Attorney-General for Ireland, in the House of Commons today in reply to a question, showed a steady increase of killings and woundings of police and military forces.

In the last quarter there were 2246 outrages. Eighty-eight policemen were killed and 156 wounded, while forty-four soldiers were killed and eighty-four wounded. The year's outrages numbered 10,894. The police loss in killed totaled 243 and the wounded 3810. Soldiers killed numbered ninety and wounded 262.

NO NEGOTIATIONS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 4.—Replying to several questions on the Irish situation, Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons this afternoon stated that he is continuing to watch the situation most carefully, but that no useful purpose could be served by adding to what he has already said on the subject. The moment the leaders of Irish opinion are prepared to negotiate or discuss the question of a settlement in Ireland they will find the government quite willing to meet them, he declared. The Premier stated definitely that

Two Divisions Destroyed, Thousands of Prisoners Taken, Turks Report.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 4.—The Greek official communication of April 3 admits operations on the Eski-Shehr front have been halted, but declares the enemy is not pursuing. The Turkish communication says: "We destroyed two divisions, taking thousands of prisoners."

It is reported the Turks have recaptured Afium Karahissar and a Greek division there.

The Greek retreat has not been confined to the northern sector, it is declared, but is general to the line held before the present offensive.

PRINCE DIES OF WOUNDS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 4.—Prince Andreas of Greece, brother of King Constantine, has died from wounds received in fighting near Brusa, says a Constantinople dispatch to the Evening News, quoting a Turkish announcement. The Turks also assert that Gen. Vlachapoulos, who was in command of the Greek attack against the Turkish Nationalists on the Brusa front, has been killed in action.

FRENCH NOT ATTACKED.

PARIS, April 4. — Reports that the Turks had attacked the French in Cilicia and that the Angora government had repudiated the France-Turkish agreement negotiated in London last month, were formally denied by representatives of the Turkish Nationalist Assembly here today.

Cardinal Gibbons' Will Disposes of $100,000 Estate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, April 4.—The will of Cardinal Gibbons, filed today, disposes of a personal estate of about $100,000.

To Bishop O. B. Corrigan, administrator of the Baltimore diocese, the Rev. L. R. Stickney, rector of the cathedral, and the Rev. E. J. Connelly, chancellor of the diocese, is left the bulk of the late prelate's estate.

In a private memorandum he designates the disposition of certain funds for Catholic educational purposes in the archdiocese.

Pacific Must be White Man's Ocean, Declares Sir John Findlay.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, April 4.—Sir John Findlay, former Minister of Justice of New Zealand, in an interview published in the Westminster Gazette this afternoon, declared the Pacific must be a white man's ocean.

"The mandate given Japan over islands which were formerly German, and especially Yap, with its cable stations, has increased the sense of uneasiness on the part of Australia and New Zealand as to the future expansion of Japan in the Pacific," he said. "The population of Japan proper is now 60,000,000 with 20,000,000 more in the surrounding colonies, and in fifteen years it is estimated that she will have 130,000,000.

"Australia and New Zealand are committed to a white policy and will resist an influx of Asiatics. We fear that the home authorities do not fully realize the danger."

This interview is interpreted as a warning to the home government that the dominions will bitterly oppose a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty and will press for an understanding with America when the dominions conference meets in London in June.

Plea for Jews Terrorized by Vladivostok Mob

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 4.—The Jewish population of the Vladivostok district is being terrorized by anti-Semitic mobs and threatened with pogroms, according to advices to the Zionist organization from Vladivostok today.

An appeal has been sent to the committee of Jewish delegates in Paris requesting intervention by the Allied representatives in Vladivostok, the dispatches say.

MELON MAY FILL LONG FELT WANT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BURLINGTON (Colo.) April 4.—V. H. Chanlear, prominent melon grower, has contracted to raise one acre of watermelons for each of three real estate dealers in Burlington. Chanlear to receive $1 for each melon that equals or exceeds 10 per cent alcoholic content. When the melons are half grown, Chanlear will plug each melon and insert in the cavity from which the plug comes, a special yeast of his own invention. The rind part of the plug will then be replaced, covered with grafting wax and sealed in place with adhesive strips.

FLEET PLEASES DENBY.

Secretary of Navy Has Not Yet Decided on Dividing Naval Strength.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—With worthy sealegs—worthy enough for a tossing, plunging destroyer—a sun-browned countenance and a sailor's cap tilted jauntily on his head, Secretary of the Navy Denby returned to Washington today from his first inspection of the Atlantic Fleet.

The Secretary came all the way from Santo Domingo to the navy-yard dock at Washington aboard the destroyer Pruitt, a non-stop run of 1600 miles at an average rate of twenty-five knots an hour.

"It was some trip," said the Secretary as he landed at the dock. "You can't help admiring the destroyer after such a trip as I have had through some pretty stiff weather, too. Sixteen hundred miles and no stops and going at an average rate of twenty-five knots. I guess that won't be beaten for some time. I'm a pretty good sailor, you can see, to stand that kind of a trip on a destroyer."

PRAISE FOR FLEET.

The Navy Secretary had nothing but words of praise for the officers and men of the fleet, which he inspected at Guantanamo and his trip has left him firm in the conviction that the United States should have a big navy.

"I still insist that we should go ahead to carry out the 1916 building program," he said.

"Have you made up your mind what should be done about the fleet policy, whether it should be continued divided in the Atlantic or Pacific or be reunited into one fleet?" the Secretary was asked.

"Haven't decided that yet," he replied. "We'll get to that later."

Secretary Denby, who made a thorough inspection of the marine stations in Haiti and San Domingo found conditions favorable.

"I think that things in Haiti are now getting along all right," he said. "From my observation there appears to be cordial good will now between the American marines and the natives of Haiti."

After leaving the fleet the new Secretary sent a wireless message to Admiral Wilson congratulating the officers and men on their work and winding up with the wish, "good luck to all of you."

WORK WAITS AS HUNGRY WALK STREET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 4. — One hundred thousand or more able-bodied men are walking the streets of Chicago looking for work, according to a survey made by the Association of United Charities. Thousands of these men have dependent wives and children. Their savings have been used up and the merchants refuse them further credit. Many are threatened with eviction from their homes, while others are reported ill and hungry.

The United Charities is asking for $10,000 a month additional to care for these cases. It is said conditions are growing worse. It is proposed to open a municipal clearinghouse for migratory workers and reopen the municipal lodging-houses.

These conditions exist in face of the fact that $300,000,000 are ready to be put into building projects as soon as labor unions agree to reduce their scale from $1.25 an hour to $1 an hour. Contractors agree to start, within thirty days, building projects totaling $100,000,000 if this change is made. This would mean plenty of work for all sorts of men for a long period, and it is regarded as certain the unions, now voting on the proposition, will accept the reduction.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, April 4.—Pomona went blue today by a majority of fifty-five votes. The blue law ordinance, which will close all of the city's amusement places on Sunday, received 2078 favorable votes. Opposing the Sunday observance issue 2023 ballots were cast. Though the total registered vote of Pomona is placed at 6100, only two-thirds of the registered population visited the polls to defend or defeat the proposed ordinance, despite the fact that the issue presented itself as the most bitterly contested electoral battle in the history of the city.

The fight that for the last few weeks has divided the tranquil little valley city into two rival camps had aroused the entire country during its last stages. The Civic Betterment League, sponsors of the blue law, conducted their campaign with arguments that the passage of the Sunday-closing ordinance would save Pomona from disgrace, would save the boys and girls of the town, and would save their homes from the bad influence that certain kinds of motion pictures brought to their doors.

The American League of Freedom, organized to combat the blue law, in the instances of the motion-picture industry, in their campaign to defeat the ordinance charged a certain class of Pomonans with endeavoring to launch a widespread campaign to paralyze the cinema industry.

The count on the ordinance was completed before any statement was made to total up votes for candidates for various city offices. Late tonight T. R. Ovington was leading W. A. Vandegrift by a handy margin for Mayor, a partial count in three precincts giving Ovington 495 and Vandegrift 337. In partial returns from one precinct J. F. Allard had 91 votes for City Attorney and Walter C. Guerin 91. No returns on the Councilmanic race were available.

British Army Prepares for Eventualities; Industrial Crisis Near.

Railway, Transport Men Soon May Join Diggers; Former Favor Walkout.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 4.—John L. Lewis, British labor leader, announced in a telegraphic letter that he intended to enlist the support of American workers by means of a strike in behalf of striking British miners to "nationalize the mines, placing them under the direct control of the miners."

Jones, who is a representative of the Triple Alliance of Great Britain, said he had information that British railway men and transport workers would join the miners in their strike within forty-eight hours.

He said propaganda would be spread in this country urging American miners and transport workers to aid in boycotting British shipping here.

CRISIS IS NEAR.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 4.—Signs tonight point to a dispute between the coal miners and the government drifting toward the most serious industrial crisis in recent years.

There are rumors the government has decided on certain military steps, which are likely still further to enrage the miners, while further emergency regulations will be issued giving governmental departments almost unlimited powers to take possession of mines, lands, buildings, work, gas, electric and water supplies, horses, food and forage, and to requisition transport, close ports, control shipping and cargoes, fix prices of coal and prohibit or regulate sale and supply of motor fuel.

Much may depend on the attitude of the government as revealed by the debate in the House of Commons tomorrow, and Wednesday will be a critical day, deciding whether other sections of the triple alliance, the railway men and transport workers, will strike in support of the miners. Railway men strongly favor a strike.

MAY RESCIND BILL.

Moderate opinion is concentrating in favor of the suggestion offered by Alfred Bigland, coalition Unionist, that the so-called decontrol bill should be rescinded and the time for control fixed for May 30, instead of March 31, giving time for discussion and arrangement of the wages and the education of the miners of the real position.

Mr. Lloyd George presided at a Cabinet committee meeting tonight held to discuss the situation.

The balance of opinion tonight is that the triple alliance will refrain from the declaration of a general strike until it is certain attempts at a peaceful settlement are hopeless. It is announced the Admiralty has cancelled all leaves.

ACCUSE LLOYD GEORGE.

The anti-governmental press accuses Premier Lloyd George of trying to maneuver the Labor party into a false position, whereby he could appeal to the country against the labor policy of "direct action and Bolshevism."

The British government is most anxious to probe every suggestion to see if a solution of the strike might be found. Premier Lloyd George told the House of Commons, in answer to a question. He declared he was alive to the importance of giving every assistance possible.

In the Skewenheats colony in Wales, a fire was reported burning, which it was feared would destroy the workings.

The announcements that additional big industrial works were preparing to suspend their double shifts, preparatory to closing, and the damping down of the furnaces, came during the morning. In line with other measures restrictive of ordinary activities, because of the strike, the race scheduled to be held at Lingfield were abandoned,

MARK TWAIN RECALLED.

Revival of Packets on Mississippi.

Big Passenger Boats Will Ply Between Pittsburg and New Orleans.

Old Stories of Mint Julips, Gamblers and Good Times Are Retold.

[BY WIRE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 4.—[illegible] of old days on the Mississippi river when steamboats, piled to the [illegible] with cotton, plied between New Orleans and Pittsburg, Pa., and this city by way of the Ohio.

Barges have carried freight traffic on the great river for many years since the packets were driven out by railroad competition. In the days of Mark Twain the Mississippi packets were celebrated for their "eats," their famous races, their pilots and even for their poker games.

It used to be no uncommon sight to see from fifteen to thirty passenger vessels, from the palatial packet to the weather-beaten tramp, leave the New Orleans landings daily for up-river points.

PRESTIGE LOST.

Coming of the railroads with quicker service for perishable cargo, steamlines almost parallelling the river between the most important landings caused river traffic to lose its prestige. Shippers began sending cotton and other nonperishable freight by rail and the steps of the river packets were fewer and fewer as the years went on.

Plantation landings rotted away, planters began to buy railroad tickets instead of steamer passage and made their plans to spend the difference in time in New Orleans instead of on the boats. Planters moved to town, social life in the country began to wane, and shore country traders became farmers and plantations became farms. It was romantic to be a planter, but much more profitable to be a farmer. All of this directly affected passenger traffic.

PLEASURABLE AFFAIR.

A river voyage in the olden days was a pleasurable affair if the boilers did not blow up or the vessel hit one of the shifting sandbars, mud-dumps or hidden snags. A comfortable berth, wonderful meals, dancing at night, watermelon parties, well-stocked bars, [illegible] and [illegible] poker games for the patrons of that form of amusement, and last, but not least, the antics of the negro roustabouts all combined to make things pleasant for the traveler.

Coffee in bed was the rule, then a breakfast of bacon, eggs, waffles, pancakes started the day. At noon there was fruit, fish, roast, vegetables, the ever-present coffee and whatever desert the cook had in mind for the meal. The feast of the day came in the early evening with creole gumbo (if the cook happened to hail from New Orleans as most of them did), fried fish, roast meat with baked or candied yams, beef or pork, fruit in abundance, dessert and "small black" coffee with brandy. It wasn't variety, but quantity that made the steamer bill of fare famous.

DAYS OF HARD LIQUOR.

In the heat of the afternoon, behind shielding mosquito bars, the passenger, if he so desired, could quaff mint juleps or sip corn whisky cocktails, not to mention the old fashioned toddies, made with sugar, water, pineapples and orange juice and, of course, whisky. The old-timers here, with scanty stocks of liquor and facing the coming years with visions of nut sundaes, never tire of telling the younger generation of the old "Hard Liquor" days of the river steamboats.

The card games were for big stakes. Veterans vouch for the truth of stories of a planter embarking in Mississippi worth "a plantation with 200 negroes" and disembarking at the Canal-street landing in New Or-

KING TAX BILL IS BOOMERANG.

Railroad Commission Action Scares Administration.

Machine Politicians Aghast at Possibilities.

BY KYLE D. PALMER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Failure of the State Railroad Commission to play machine politics has fashioned the King tax bill into a political boomerang that today brought wails of anguish and consternation from administration sources.

Unless the Stephens faction can offset the expected wave of resentment felt around the San Francisco Bay region in Central California as a result of increases in gas rates granted by the Railroad Commission no care for increased taxes under the King bill, it is conceded by administration leaders themselves, the people will clean house at the next election.

The Railroad Commission is accused of political treachery, of "base ingratitude" and of rocking the boat generally. Yet the only thing the commission did to draw this bureaucratic ire was to follow a course of action prescribed by law.

ACTION PREDICTED.

Further, in granting increases in rates to the gas companies in question, the commission took action exactly as it had predicted. Thus the bitter truth was brought home to the tax urgers in Sacramento today that the commission meant what it said several weeks before the King bill was adopted, when it announced that "any increases in taxes must, under the law, be reflected in increased rates."

State machine politicians are aghast at the possible consequences of the commission's action, and it is not at all unlikely that the administration itself will start a campaign of propaganda directed against the rail board.

The full weight of public disapproval now is being felt by those who clubbed the King bill through the Legislature, and the dismay of those who shouted, "The people vein!" as the measure was passed, is laughable.

FULL REALIZATION.

Although last week the opponents of the King bill regarded the commission's increased rate order as complete justification for their fight against the bill, and despite a feeling of irrigation in the administration camp, it was not until reports reached Sacramento today that full realization of the administration debacle was felt.

"However," according to Senator Harry Chamberlin of Los Angeles, "it will not be until all of the public utility rates have been raised that the people of the State will fully comprehend how they were victimized by the State administration.

"The people eventually will understand," he said, "that those who voted against the King bill and who were charged by the administration with representing the corporations were representing the people and representing the people better than those who shouted for more money to spend.

FACTS TOO PLAIN.

"The administration may condemn the Railroad Commission and yell 'politics,' but the facts are too plain now to be distorted."

One of the first reprisals considered by the administration, it is said, may involve a move to cut down the Railroad Commission's proposed appropriation for the coming biennium.

However, nothing hasty will be undertaken by the administration even under the present goad of resentment. This was clearly shown in the Assembly today when Speaker Wright and Floor Leader Pettis prevailed upon Assemblyman Fellom to withhold a resolution calling upon the Railroad Commission to reopen the gas rate hearing.

Fellom was rather proud of his independent move to spank the commission, apparently believing that his gratuitous offering would please the adminstration leaders and failure of the Speaker to permit his resolution to come before the House left him somewhat crestfallen.

BUDGET REPORT RIDDLED.

The administration came in for more trouble in the Senate when the report of the Budget Investigation Committee was torn into shreds and shown to be full of the grossest sort of errors.

Senator W. J. Carr of Pasadena, chairman of the committee, was diverted from a program in which the administration, not desiring a fight, was prepared to retreat gracefully by voluntarily requesting that certain objectionable portions of the report be deleted.

He had not proceeded far with his project, which was decided upon in the Governor's office after Senator Breed had threatened to "blow the lid off" if passage of the report in its entirety was insisted upon, when the attack from opposition sources became general.

First, Senator Burnett brought out the fact that in the committee's anxiety to make a good showing an item of $1,064,553.78, covering a deficit for the previous biennium, had been subtracted twice from the proposed 1921 biennium budget of $81,000,000.

Thus it was shown that instead of the $8,585,329 increase in the budget over the $18,000,000 voted by the people, the increase was nearer $10,000,000. Other inaccuracies were noted.

The economy and efficiency hearing conducted by joint committees of the Senate and Assembly is expected to reach consideration of the Governor's reorganization plan tomorrow. Will H. Fischer, director of the Taxpayers' Association of California, has completed his brief in favor of the taxpayers' reorganization plan which would save the State approximately $3,000,000 during the first two years of its operation.

Backers of the Governor's plan have not indicated whether or not they will submit a table of savings similar to the detailed statement made by Fischer.

Dissatisfaction over continued inaction in the Governor's office relative to the reapportionment question is growing in the Legislature. It is probable that a resolution asking for an early consideration of this question will be introduced in the Assembly. Los Angeles city and county reapportionment considerations were discussed today at a caucus of Los Angeles representatives and Senator Charles W. Lyon, chairman of the Los Angeles delegation, appointed a committee to draw up certain recommendations setting forth the policy to be followed by the southern legislators.

The committee consists of Senators Rominger, Hart and Gates and Merriam, Lee, Benton, Bromley and Weber.

Choosing Counsel

When you choose advisers in law, medicine or surgery, you exercise thought and care. A real advertising expert is a rare bird, the number of them is less than two hundred in the whole United States.

Advertising is a business, some art and some science. It is not codified or digested as are laws and medicine. It cannot be learned out of a book.

Nevertheless, nearly every one speaks of advertising confidently, as with the voice of authority. The self-confidence of the prospective advertiser may be justified, but a more conservative plan would retain the best advertising counsel to be had.

The most experienced advertisers pay for real service; the least experienced choose advertising advisers quite casually.

But those days are gone. If plans of those interested in river traffic bear fruit the modern steamers will eliminate gambling, carry well-drilled crews and furnish modern meals at modern prices.

FIRST MATES FAMOUS.

In advertising sailings of vessels of the olden days the name of the first mate always was given. The first mates became known up and down the river, either as good or bad by the manner in which they handled the roustabouts. A meek man did not last long as first mate.

Saturday was usually the sailing day for up-river packets from the port. There was great rivalry between boat owners and crews and usually from one to a dozen boat races were pulled off as the vessels chugged up the river. It was then that boilers blew up with marked frequency.

The most famous of these races was run by the Natchez and the Robert E. Lee, two of the largest of the river packets. So keen was the rivalry that early in the seventies it was plannd to have them race from New Orleans to St. Louis. No passengers or freight were carried and for weeks the coming race was the chief topic of conversation along the river. The Robert E. Lee was in command of Capt. Cannon, while Capt. Leathers was master of the Natchez. No stops were made except for fuel. The trip to St. Louis was made in just a few hours over three days, an unheard of record then with the Robert E. Lee, the winner by a small margin.

RACE ENDS IN DISASTER.

Another famous race between the White Rose of Memphis and the Grand Republic ended in disaster. After racing upstream for hours in a "neck and neck" contest the White Rose struck a snag and sank. Before the Grand Republic could clear a near-by bend her boilers exploded, killing a number of the crew.

After the war between the States steamboats had been perfected to a higher degree and river traffic became more important. While most of the boats used wood for fuel, getting it from well-established woodyards along the river, still they made good time and business was flourishing.

While as a general rule the boats were operated independently by their owners even as early as 1870 there were several lines operating many large passenger vessels. The largest and best known was the Anchor Line, which operated between New Orleans and St. Louis, making regular schedule, while another line was operating between St. Louis and St. Paul. The City of New Orleans and City of Baton Rouge were the larger and best-known vessels of the Anchor Line. The largest sidewheeler operated on the river was the Republic.

SMALLER COMPANIES.

In addition to the Anchor Line there were several smaller companies operating from New Orleans to Natchez, Vicksburg, Greenville and "The Bends." They usually carried 100 or so passengers and large freight cargoes. They were mostly sidewheelers. From St. Louis the line operated as far north as Fort Benton, Mont.

Freight from up the river included flour, pork, beef, furniture, hay, cotton, rice and sugar. The largest cargo of cotton ever brought down was landed by the Henry Frank and consisted of 9000 bales. The cotton was not compressed and the record has stood.

All the old boats were built on the same general pattern—broad hulls with large spacious cabins above and with wide guards, usually piled high with freight. They were almost always painted white and each was equipped with a whistle slightly different from the others. It was quite an accomplishment, or was so regarded by negroes at the various landings to be able to distinguish the distant whistling and call the name of the boat.

Promoters now are figuring whether human nature has changed from the olden days, whether a person will be content to idle the time away on long trips which he could make in a fraction of the time by rail; whether they "have time" to take quiet pleasure.

Freight rates, Interstate Commerce Commission hearings, uniform bills of lading and other prosaic commercial matters figure in the traffic side of the question. The passenger business is regarded as a gamble.

JAIL NOT PROOF AGAINST CUPID.

Wedded in Jail, Father Forgives Daughter and Provides Nuptial Spread.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MUSKEGON (Mich.) April 4. — Troubles encountered by Carl Budd of Muskegon and Miss Florence Dineen of Lacon, Ill., which, however, did not prevent them from being married in the jail here, ended today when the girl's father appeared, gave the parental forgiveness and provided the wedding breakfast.

The larceny charge preferred against the girl was withdrawn.

REPORT SOLDIERS' BILL.

Assemblyman Hart's Measure Calls for Loans from Revolving Fund.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Assemblyman Hart's bill, to be known as the "California Soldiers' Farm and Home-Building Act," was favorably reported out today by the Assembly Committee on Soldiers' and Sailors' Affairs, with a recommendation that it be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means because it carried an appropriation.

The bill, if considered favorably, would create a California soldiers' farm and home-aid board of three members, including two former service men.

COULD BUY FARMS.

This board could secure listings of farm and home properties of maximum value set tentatively in committee at $7500, and could purchase such properties, reselling them to veterans on easy terms, providing for payments over long periods at low interest. An initial appropriation of $1,000,000 would be provided to form a revolving fund for the operations of the board.

Annual reports, accounting safeguards, and other details also are worked out by the law, which has the approval of the American Legion, the service men's caucus, and other veteran organizations.

It was understood here that the reporting out of this bill precluded the probability of any cash bonus legislation at this session.

WRANGLE OVER BUDGET.

A long debate, featured by many parliamentary wrangles and a few sharp exchanges, brought no decision tonight as to whether or not the Senate should go on record against increasing any of the items that make up the budget of $81,000,000 appropriations proposed for the next biennium.

Under an agreement that a substitute would be offered, the Senate rejected 22 to 15, a resolution declaring against increases in the budget and then, failing to agree on the substitute, put final decision off until tomorrow.

TAKING LID OFF.

Before this stage was reached Senators Dennett and Inman warned that refusal to adopt the substance of the proposition would mean "taking the lid off appropriations" and sanctioning "a raid on the State treasury."

The controversy was brought on by consideration of a report of the special committee that arranged the Senate's four weeks' investigation of the budget. The report proposed certain tentative findings as a result of the inquiry, and among them the 30, and lengthening it correspondingly at the close. The object, Ross said, was to give northern hunters a chance. He said ducks now left for the south before the hunters could get at them in the spring.

By McGee: Permitting the establishment of a California industrial reformatory as a division of the State correctional school; the object was explained as being the segregation of the depraved from the reclaimable in such institutions.

By McGee: Authorizing the use of convict labor on public roads and highways; this act merely extends the existing provisions.

By Powers: To allow the county Board of Education in Modoc county, which receives no salary, mileage to and from its meetings.

By Helsinger: Directing district attorneys to act as counsel for school boards in certain matters, particularly bond issues.

By Gray: Providing for examination and licensing of "dental hygienists" and defining their rights. Also a bill providing for the employment of such dental hygienists in certain school work.

By Coombs: New section of Political Code providing for the reassessment of taxes noncollectible because of errors in assessing.

By Bromley: Authorizing tax assessors and collectors to accept checks in payment of taxes subject to certain restrictions.

By Greene: San Luis Obispo county government bill.

ROWELL ON GAS RATES.

Chester H. Rowell, of the State Railroad Commission, who came to Sacramento today, for the announced purpose of conferring with members of the Legislature in regard to a letter from Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden, discussing a recent raise of rates granted to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, tonight gave out an informal statement of the matters involved.

"The fact is," said Mr. Rowell, "that the relation of the tax element in this case does not differ from the part played by all tax bills in all decisions of this and all other commissions from the beginning. The only new thing, is in the amount of newspaper attention it has attracted.

"The committee rendered two decisions, on two consecutive days, the first reducing, and the second increasing, rates for service. In the Southern California Edison Company, the Electric rates were reduced on an average about 6 per cent, though individual reductions amounted in some cases to 15 and even 25 per cent.

WORK INTERFERED WITH.

"In the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, case, decided the next day, gas rates were increased on an average of 7.2 per cent. Both of these cases had been under consideration for some time and would have been reached earlier except for the interference with the work of the commission caused by the legislative investigation. There was an urgent reason why the Southern California Electric case had to be decided by April 1, and the decision in the Pacific Gas and Electric case on gas rates was already long overdue.

"In both of these cases, as in all other cases, the tax rate was considered as an operating expense, in making up the rates. If it had not been for this element, the reduction in the rates in the Southern California Edison case might have been 8 per cent, and the increase in the gas rate might have been only a little over 5 per cent.

"The principal reason for the increase in the gas rate was the increase in the price of oil. Since oil is the principal element in the production of gas, and a rapidly decreasing element in the production of electricity, it was possible in the face of the rising price of oil to decrease the rate on electricity in the Southern California case, but it was impossible to do this with gas in the Northern California case."

FRAUDS IN ELECTION ADMITTED BY WOMEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Mrs. Ursula Bothwell and Mrs. George Radonich, election officials at the primary election in August, 1920, today pleaded guilty in Superior Court to indictments charging them with election frauds, and will be sentenced Wednesday.

It was alleged that the women voted under the names of a number of men.

NEW JOB FOR GEN. PERSHING.

To Develop Reserve Force of United States.

National Guard Must be Made Effective.

General Staff. The ranking officer, therefore, in outranked in influence and in actual authority, and today he is little more than a figurehead, whose chief occupation in life is to represent the service at various official and private functions throughout the United States.

If Secretary Weeks does for Gen. Pershing what it is predicted will be done, the act will solve one of the perplexing problems of the War Department. There have been a few complaints from recruits who have entered the Regular Army recently that some of the promises made were too glittering to be real. Recruiting virtually has been stopped because of the known intention to decrease the size of the standing army, but this matter of getting recruits by the promise route is to be investigated, and the intention is to determine if good accrues from the present method.

STOP AMERICANIZATION?

The belief also is that hereafter there will be no attempt to induce foreigners who cannot speak English to enter the Regular Army for purposes of teaching them the English language and Americanizing them while they are being taught their drill and their duty to their new flag.

Commander F. W. Galbraith of the American Legion recently said that he believed eventually the Legion and the Regular Army would get together sympathetically and that the reserves and the Legion also would forget past differences and would enter into a compact of close comradeship. It was said today that the War Department intends to do everything that it can to forward this movement for an entente, and, of course, Gen. Pershing, as has been intimated, will have a large share in the work.

The new administration of the War Department has called a halt on the sale of ammunition and supplies. It can be said today that the administration does not intend to allow the country to drift into the state of unpreparedness which was its fate in a day of unhappy memory. There are today supplies of ammunition and of other war necessaries sufficient for the use of an American army for six months in time of war. Of course, in time of peace, a minimum of supplies is necessary. This supply represents everything that is necessary for the maintenance of an army.

AIR CO-OPERATION.

There has just been held in the office of the Secretary of War a meeting of all the departments which are interested in the Air Service. There has been a lack of co-operation in the various fields of the flying craft. Hereafter there will be co-operation in every way in building aircraft, and in the supplying of appurtenances thereto, and in the developing of the material and the personnel of the flying service.

The present administration of the War Department believes in the absolute necessity of the maintenance on a high plane of efficiency of the gas service, known officially as the Chemical Warfare Service. Secretary of War Weeks believes that gas as used in warfare is a barbarous weapon, but he knows that if an enemy uses it, our army must use it too, or lose whatever war it enters.

There seems to be a feeling in the War Department that there may be an agreement among the nations of the world never again to use gas, but as the world knows that this promise once before was broken there never can be any assurance that some nation entering war will not break it again.

This necessitates on the part of the American Army officials the maintenance of a gas service for defensive purposes. It can be said that if an agreement is made by the nations of the world not to use gas, the United States, even though prepared to use it, will not fire a gas shell unless the enemy country shall break its agreement. Secretary Weeks has just reappointed Brig.-Gen. Amos A. Fries as chief of the Chemical Warfare Service. He was the chief of the A.E.F. gas forces.

SECRETARY'S PROBLEM.

One of the problems which confronts the Secretary of War today is that of preparing a proper list of nominations for the positions of brigadier-general and major-general in the United States Army. A complete list was sent over by the recent administration, but the Senate failed to act, save in one or two cases. It can be said that when the new lists are submitted they will contain the names of men who, it is believed, deserve the promotions. Secretary Weeks knows that it is never possible to give exact justice in promotion by selection, but justice in each case almost always can be approximated. There has been a great deal of feeling in the Army on this subject of promotions. The Secretary of War will not countenance service cavil. He is going to do the best that he knows how in the promotion matter.

As soon as the immense amount of work which now confronts the new Secretary of War is disposed of, it is his intention to visit all the larger army posts of the country and many of the old cantonments. Personally, he will make his investigations into conditions and will frame recommendations for such changes as may be necessary. Mr. Weeks has been a service man, and apparently he intends to remain one in spirit and truth.

CHARLES YET IN STEINAMANGER.

Steinamanger because he had been taken ill, and two professors from the medical faculty of the university here went to steinamanger to learn what the ex-King's condition really was. If his health was poor an automobile ambulance would be secured, it was declared, in which he could take up his journey out of Hungary.

The new announcement of the unwillingness of Charles to leave Hungary at all came through Prince Windisch Graetz.

"King Charles has declared categorically that he is unwilling to leave the country," said the Prince, "and if he cannot be King, is resolved to settle as a common citizen."

In commenting on the ex-monarch's announcement, Count Andrassy said:

"I am afraid the King's sojourn might be longer than would be good for him and his dynasty."

ACCUSE GOVERNMENT.

The government is charged with being irresolute in the punishment of persons of pro-Charles tendencies. Bishops, politicians and officers arrested have been released from prison. Some of the law experts declare they could not be punished under the criminal code because Charles really holds the title of King. In fact, they say, anyone interfering with the King's prerogative might be held guilty of treason.

Charles is being treated with great respect at Steinamanger.

The military council of the republic, consisting of forty officers under the presidency of Admiral Horthy, the regent, discussed Saturday night measures which might be made necessary by the presence of former Emperor Charles in Hungary.

"I took an oath to maintain the constitution and I will not break it," said the regent. "Help me save Hungary."

STATES TO MEET.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 4.—States formed from the former Austro-Hungarian empire will confer at a meeting April 6, it is announced in a Rome dispatch today. A Madrid dispatch quotes the Fabre agency as declaring erroneous the report that Prince Sixtus of Bourbon furnished former Emperor Charles with a Spanish passport under a false name.

Negotiations for the departure of former Emperor Charles from Hungary are still continuing, it is said in dispatches to the French Foreign Office from Budapest. There is no confirmation of reports that Charles is ill.

Resolutions demanding the arrest of Count Andrassy and Gen. Lehar, the latter Governor of West Hungary, have been adopted by the Hungarian national assembly, it is reported to newspapers here.

A Vienna dispatch says the Hungarian government has fixed August 20 as the date upon which a King will be elected.

Budapest advices today announced that the French, British and [illegible] high commissioners there [illegible] to the Hungarian Premier [illegible] the resolutions adopted by the allied council of ambassadors [illegible] forth the opposition of the [illegible] the restoration of the former [illegible] peror. Premier Teleky, the [illegible] added, telegraphed to Paris [illegible] that arrangements for the [illegible] departure should be hastened.

There is much discussion in political circles as to whether Charles will leave Hungary without delay. The Tempa, commenting on this says certain persons, considering incident about to be closed, proposed that France, Great Britain and Italy counsel the Rumanian, Czecho-Slovak and Jugo-Slav governments to be moderate in their actions against Hungary.

HELD PRISONER.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, April 4.—Gen. Lehar, holding former Emperor Charles prisoner at Steinamanger, refuses to permit the former King to quit Hungay, according to a report received in French official circles this afternoon.

The information, which comes from Vienna, states that Lehar remains there is finished when Charles leaves the country, especially since Admiral Horthy replaced him as regent governor of West Hungary. It is therefore desirous of holding Hapsburg as long as possible. It is hopeful that the Allies will take no action if Charles remains there and that another attempt at restoration later may succeed.

"Charles has no intention of leaving Hungary," said Lehar to the Vienna Neue Presse correspondent. "Why should he? The troops have declared themselves in his favor and an immense majority of the population have announced their fidelity to his cause. If he gives up it will only be through the Allies' force.

As a result of Charles's refusal to depart, the Little Entente sent an ultimatum to Hungary this week, announcing that it would begin military operations to force the Hapsburg out of the country unless he leaves voluntarily by Thursday.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—State Department in note to Germany backs up Allied demands, but suggests reopening of negotiations.

The course of action now contemplated by the administration is the rejection of the Versailles Treaty and the re-establishment of peace with Germany by means of the Knox resolution and separate treaty settling war damage claims.

B. M. Jewell and A. B. Garretson gave President Harding their views today on the railroad labor question.

Gov. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board told southern bankers today that they could remedy the southern trade situation if they would lend more money to cotton planters instead of tying it up in speculative deals.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said he had not made up his mind on the question of a sales tax.

The House plans to pass the emergency agricultural tariff bill on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Passport control affecting Americans leaving or returning to the United States and outgoing aliens has been terminated as a result of the war legislation repeal, but the Attorney-General holds that passports must still be required of aliens entering the United States.

The Antisaloon League objects to the proposed transfer of prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Department of Justice.

SALES TAX IS OPEN QUESTION.

Secretary Mellon Has Not Made Up Mind.

Harding Not Expected to Make Suggestions.

President May Only Ask for Early Revision.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has not as yet made up his mind as to the desirability of the proposed sales tax. He indicated today that he still is giving the subject consideration, and is carefully weighing all the arguments for and against the proposition.

In view of the delay in deciding upon recommendations, it is expected that President Harding will not attempt to embody in his message to Congress next week any suggestions relative to the chief points of controversy in connection with tax legislation. While the President is expected to recommend an early revision of tax laws, and may urge the repeal of the excess profits tax, it is likely that he will not attempt to dictate the exact form of the new legislation.

TO GIVE VIEWS LATER.

Although Secretary Mellon later on will express his views on the question of the sales tax and other proposed new forms of tax, it is quite possible that the President may keep out of the controversy, contenting himself with urging a speedy revision of tax laws in order to give relief to taxpayers burdened by present objectionable taxes.

In discussing the question of a sales tax, Secretary Mellon said that careful consideration was being given to all the different schemes proposed, together with the suggestions for exemptions. He pointed out that under the sales tax as advocated by Senator Root there would be an exemption of business houses and farmers doing a business of less than $4000 a year.

One of the questions under consideration in this connection is with reference to commodities which are now taxed, such as tobacco. It is contended by some of the treasury experts that tobacco is taxed about as heavily as it can be, and that it either should be exempt from the proposed sales tax or relieved of present tax burdens and made subject only to the sales tax.

Dr. Thomas S. Adams, chairman of the advisory tax board of the Treasury Department, is strongly opposed to any general sales tax. Dr. Adams is one of the treasury experts with whom Secretary Mellon is discussing the entire situation.

FAILURES IN QUARTER SHOW HUGE INCREASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 4.—An increase in business failures are shown for the first quarter of 1921, in the report of R. G. Dunn & Co., made public today.

Failures totaled 4870, involving an aggregate indebtedness of $178,589,989. In the same quarter last year there were 1627 insolvencies, with an indebtedness of $29,702,499.

OPPOSES TRANSFER OF DRY ENFORCEMENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Anti-Saloon League, according to its general counsel, Wayne B. Wheeler, does not look with enthusiasm upon the proposal to transfer the prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the Department of Justice.

While Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Atty.-Gen. Daugherty are both inclined to favor such a transfer, nothing definite has been done in the matter and the Anti-Saloon League hopes that law enforcement will stay where it is, in the Internal Revenue Bureau of the treasury.

"The administrative features of the Volstead law," said Wheeler, "were placed in the Treasury Department because that department is charged by law with the control of, the production of, the traffic in liquors, and the assessment and collection of taxes accruing therefrom. The manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors is still lawful for certain purposes and stamp and occupational taxes are still imposed and collected on nonbeverage liquors.

"The Justice Department could properly supervise and control some of the law enforcement work, but not the administrative part of it. The Federal prohibition code provides the machinery to enforce the law, if honest officers in sympathy with the law and its enforcement are placed in charge. Unless this is done it will fail in any other department."

OPEN BRIDGE BIDS.

Three Los Angeles Companies Seeking Rio Hondo Contract.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, April 4. — The State Highway Commission today opened bids for the construction of the Rio Hondo bridge in Los Angeles county. The contract will be awarded at a future meeting.

The bids received were: Brelin & Sons, San Diego, $77,521.55; Healey & Tibbits Construction Co., San Francisco, $51,940; William Ledbetter, Los Angeles, $85,256; Mercereau Bridge and Construction Company, Los Angeles, $90,498; Ross Construction, Sacramento, $93,960; Edgar T. Wheeler Co., Los Angeles, $93,829; Frank Hudson, Santa Monica, $94,837.35; Ernest Zimmerhn, Palo Alto, $106,221.

The estimate of the highway engineer was $117,300.70. The proposed bridge will be of reinforced concrete.

ASKS COURT TO HELP ENFORCE AGREEMENT.

CHEMICAL COMPANY OFFICER SAYS BOSTONIANS FAILED IN CONTRACT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4. — An action to compel them to pay $500,000 into the treasury of the Eagle Chemical Company in connection with the locating of potash, soda ash and borax deposits on 1400 acres in the Searles Lake region of San Bernardino county, was filed today against Robert Gordon, Homer Albers, George Eaton and other prominent Boston residents.

Philip Ehrlich, an attorney, who filed the action, complained that the Boston residents promised to buy $550,000 in stock in the company, which he formed at a time when potash was selling for $350 a ton. Subsequently the price dropped to $35 a ton and they repudiated the agreement without completing the payments, he said.

Ehrlich said that he located on the lands and then formed the company in Nevada to work out the deposits on a plan to be breached by the defendants.

CIVIL COURT GETS ASSERTED SLACKERS.

TEXAS RULING ON DRAFT EVADERS, HELD HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO, April 4.—Tom and Joe Caplis, sons of a wealthy Louisiana planter, who have been held by military authorities since December on charges of draft desertion, were turned over by Federal to civil authorities today on a writ of habeas corpus issued by U. S. Judge West.

Judge West's decision is regarded as of high importance because if upheld by higher courts, it may become the basis for transfer of thousands of alleged draft deserters from military to civil jurisdiction. The chief ground for the writ cited by Judge West was that notices of their being drafted had not actually been delivered to the Caplis brothers and that they were not legally inducted into the military service without such delivery.

PASSPORTS NOT NOW REQUIRED.

Attorney - General Delivers Ruling on Question.

Holds Congress Repealed All Wartime Laws.

Aliens Entering Country Must Have Papers.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—You do not need a passport to leave the United States or to return to it. In some countries in Europe and other parts of the world you may need a passport to enter the boundaries. The Attorney-General has ruled that Congress, in the closing days of the last session, wiped out the passport law except as it applies to aliens arriving in the United States.

The intention of Congress was to extend the passport law till specific legislation amending or otherwise changing the law was enacted and passed a bill to that effect.

This bill was signed by the President.

PASSPORT LAW REPEALED.

Congress also passed a bill incorporating in its provisions the repeal of all war measures except certain specified acts. The passport bill was not among the ones exempted from repeal. President Wilson signed this bill and the Attorney-General has just ruled that all passport regulations relating to citizens of the United States so far as their leaving or returning to the United States failed with the law.

The Attorney-General has ruled, however, that the law still exists as far as it related to incoming aliens. His ruling has been followed at Ellis Island, and at other immigration stations, but one alien arriving the last of last week at Ellis Island without a passport demanded that he be admitted. He was refused and promptly retained an attorney, who brought a writ of habeas corpus to test the Attorney-General's decision.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINIONS.

The Department of Justice was not ready to try out the matter on its merits and has made frantic efforts for a continuance. Expert lawyers in and out of the immigration service on the rights of aliens to enter under present laws, believe the courts will hold that all passport laws and regulations were repealed when Congress passed and the President signed the general repeal bill for wartime measures and that outside of the immigration laws there is no bar to aliens entering the United States.

The demand for passports has dropped to a minimum and the old-time war pressure on this division of the State Department is but a memory. Few citizens of the United States take the trouble to get a passport unless its possession is necessary for entry to certain foreign countries and in many cases where this is required, travelers from this country make no provision for the same and frequently have to change their plans.

OUTRAGES IN IRELAND TOLD.

there were no negotiations now going on.

An incendiary fire, suspected to be the work of Sinn Feiners, was discovered in Bromley Common, Kent, this morning.

Sixteen men, mostly Irishmen, were arrested in Manchester today in connection with the discovery of a Sinn Fein arsenal on Saturday containing a tremendous amount of explosives and ammunition.

CROWN FORCES AMBUSHED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, April 4.—Crown forces were ambushed today in Shanbally, County Tipperary, one attacker being killed and one wounded. In another ambush at Ballina, County Mayo, a constable was wounded.

Last night a constable walking with a civilian in Carlow, County Carlow, was attacked. The constable was killed and the civilian wounded.

The reply of Gen. Allgood, military commander in Northwest Ulster, to the scenes of violence in Londonderry over the week-end has been to advance the curfew one hour.

Flying columns of the Irish republican army are officially reported to be operating in Fermanagh, Armagh, Tyrone, Kildare and Queens counties. There has been much destruction of roads and in many cases intimidation has been resorted to.

A fight occurred last night in the hills near Dundrum, four miles south of Dublin.

Crown forces had proceeded to the hills in lorries to investigate reports of firing. They found twenty armed men, some of whom, after firing at the military, mingled with women and children, who were picnicking, for which reason the crown forces refrained from using their machine guns.

They pursued the others, however, who were escaping to another hill and shot two. The remainder set fire to the shrubbery on the hillside and escaped in the smoke screen.

BOMBS ARE THROWN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BELFAST, April 4.—Belfast this morning had its first experience of bomb throwing when two bombs were hurled at men guarding the Ulster Club, at which Gen. Bainbridge, in command of the troops in Ulster, is a frequent visitor. Only one of the bombs exploded, however, and this caused neither damage nor casualties, although it produced much excitement. The bomb throwers escaped.

IRISH AGENT ARRESTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) April 4.—O. T. Grattan Esmonde, alleged Irish Republican agent, was arrested here today on a charge of sedition by order of Mayor R. H. Gale. The charge is said to have resulted from a report of a secret meeting here last week at which Esmonde is alleged to have delivered an anti-British address.

Esmonde was detained on board the steamship Makura on its arrival here last week, until immigration authorities had investigated into the refusal of Australian authorities to permit him to land. He was finally allowed to debark here on condition that he proceed at once to England.

LABOR LEADERS IN PLEA TO HARDING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4. — Amnesty for persons convicted for wartime offenses was requested of President Harding by a delegation of labor leaders, headed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who called today at the White House. The President was quoted by members of the delegation as having said he was giving the matter of such prisoners serious consideration.

"I think," Mr. Gompers said, "that the President made the committee hopeful of good results."

Surrenders on Alienation of Indians Charge

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, April 4.—Jonathan Tibbett, prominent resident of Riverside, indicted by the Federal grand jury on the charge of having "alienated the confidence of the Mission Indians of Southern California in the government," today surrendered to Sheriff Wilson. Frank B. Daley, Los Angeles attorney, accompanied the indicted man to the Sheriff's office, where the warrant was read.

Tibbett gave a bond of $3000 before U. S. Commissioner Benshoff. The bond was furnished by Mrs. S. J. Snoddy, a sister, and P. N. Arnold, a brother-in-law, both of Los Angeles. Daley and Bryne of San Bernardino will defend the accused man.

Tibbett returned today from a trip to the Cahuilla Reservation, where John Largo, an Indian policeman, recently met his death at the hands of two other Indians as the result of an old feud.

What the Los Angeles Critics Said About

Alfred Cortot

Distinguished French Pianist

DUO-ART

Reproducing Piano

Alfred Cortot, whose wonderful technique and poetic interpretation have earned him an undisputed place among the world's greatest pianists.

Cortot Performs With Duo-Art

ONCE more the remarkable reproduction of the artist by highly specialized mechanics was demonstrated at Philharmonic Auditorium last night when the Steinway Duo-Art piano shared in honors with Alfred Cortot, noted French pianist, before an audience which crowded the house.

Mr. Cortot has been heard here on previous occasions, and his fine technic and poetic interpretation are warmly cherished in the memories of his hearers. It was therefore of especial interest last night to realize with what exquisite quality of tone coloring, delicacy of shadings and dynamics and identity of tempos, the Duo-Art catches and holds in permanent form the best of his work.

Novelty was introduced into the program by several duet numbers between the pianist and his own reproductions upon a second instrument. This was notable in the Chopin Polonaise, where the artist in person performed the orchestral part of the number, as accompaniment to his reproduction solo performance. A similar presentation accompanied Saint-Saens' arrangement of a Theme by Beethoven Op. 53 for two pianos, and the audience found variety and great musical charm in the numbers.

Cortot was heard in entire solos in the Schubert-Cortot "Litany;" two Chopin Etudes, Debussy's "La Cathedrale engloutie" and "Minstrels;" Albeniz's "Seguidilla" and Saint-Saens' Bouree for left hand alone. He alternated with the Duo-Art in the Liszt Hungarian Rhapsodie No. 11, and Saint-Saens Etude en Forme de Valse Op. 52, giving the audience every opportunity to compare the reproduction with the original interpretation of the artist.

As a matter of entertainment, the concert was well worth while, but in its larger ideals it displays to musicians and the layman as well the vast opportunity which science has brought to musical genius in making possible the perpetuation of individual art and quality of every artist of note in the music world today.

Students in generations to come can compare the various renditions of the classics from these remarkable records, and musical taste must advance rapidly with a library which includes the classics of the piano library interpreted by the masters of pianistic art.

The audience was enthusiastic throughout the evening, and Cortot was greeted with tremendous applause.

PIANIST CORTOT IN FINE PROGRAM

By Florence Pierce Reed

Alfred Cortot, French pianist, played duets with himself and later sat at one piano and watched another do a recording of the work of his remarkably facile fingers last night at Philharmonic Auditorium at his joint concert with the Duo-Art reproducing piano sponsored by the George Birkel Music Company.

Mr. Cortot is one of the greatest pianists heard on the Coast, and his own work, so technically stupendous, warm and colorful and superb in interpretation, was augmented in high degree by the uncanny reproductions made by the Duo-Art.

TRUE PICTURES

The reproductions were not mere mechanical soundings of hands playing trills and crescendos, but were true pictures of mood and paintings of style. As to certain mannerisms of fingering, these, too, were recorded with exact finish.

In the "Polonaise" (Chopin) the Duo-Art played a reproduction of Mr. Cortot's playing while he accompanied with the orchestral part at a second piano. Exactness of tempo, phrasing, tone quality and technical form were observed, and the same was true where Mr. Cortot alternated with his own playing the recorded playing of the Liszt "Rhapsodie Hongroise."

MASTERFUL PERFORMANCE

It was a masterful performance of the "Etude em Forme de Valse" (Saint-Saens) which Mr. Cortot played in person, followed by an absolutely true reproduction of the composition at the Duo-Art, with the pianist sitting with folded arms and swaying to the music created by his own rhythmic flying finger work visible on the recording instrument.

The program ended with "Variations on a Theme by Beethoven" (Saint-Saens) for two pianos.

The DUO-ART is chosen by such great artists as Cortot, Paderewski, Hofmann, Bauer, Busoni, Friedman, Ganz, Grainger, Novaes and scores of others as the one reproducing medium through which to hand down their marvelous playing to posterity.

The DUO-ART may be obtained only in the Steinway, Steck, Stroud, Wheelock and the famous Weber pianos, either in Grand or Upright models. There are daily demonstrations at the Birkel Company. Feel free to come at your convenience. You will be under no obligation to buy.

SUGGESTS RATE READJUSTMENT.

Interstate Commerce Official Makes Statement.

Would Reduce Grain Tariffs for Export.

Net Revenue of Carriers Far from Adequate.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Acting on instructions from Edgar E. Clark, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, W. V. Hardie, director of traffic, declared today in a letter to railroad representatives suggesting adjustment of rates on grain and grain products, that "the net revenues of carriers generally at present are far from adequate" and that "reductions in rates apparently are, therefore, at this time undesirable except in so far as they may be necessary to stimulate traffic to remove discrimination or to relieve situations where rates appear to be unduly burdensome under present conditions."

WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

"Based upon information now available and without prejudice to any different conclusions, which might be reached upon a more adequate record," he said, "there appear to be no objections to the following readjustment of rates at this time:

"A reduction of 3 cents east of Chicago in the all-rail export rates on grain and grain products.

"A reduction of 1 cent on grain and grain products from Missouri River points, including Sioux City, to Chicago and Chicago rate points, limited to apply upon export traffic only.

"A reduction of 4 cents in export rates east of St. Louis on grain and grain products.

CHANGES FROM PEORIA.

"Changes from Peoria and other related markets corresponding to those from St. Louis and Chicago to preserve existing equalization.

"No reduction to the midwest of St. Louis.

"Existing 'at and east' rates on export grain, now scheduled to expire April 15 to be continued beyond that expiration date, but no further reductions to be made in such rates at this time.

"The 'at and east' domestic rates on grain on April 15, to revert to the rates in effect Aug. 25, 1920, plus 40 per cent, such increase to be applied to the net rates."

TAX FIGURE IS LOW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—Approximately $75,000,000 less income tax will be collected in the Chicago district for 1920 than was collected for 1919, according to final official figures made public today.

STAND DIVIDED ON SHORT WEEK

Different Opinions Among Employing Printers.

Union Leaders Declare That 2121 Men Are Out.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—Employing printers of the closed-shop division of the United Typothetae of America took a divided stand today on how far employers were bound by this division's convention in New York in September, 1919, accepting the forty-four-hour week. The controversy over the shorter week, scheduled to be effective May 1, 1921, has been taken under consideration by the international joint conference council of the printing trade, to be considered again in New York on June 27.

Following a referendum vote in favor of the forty-four-hour week by the five unions of the printing industry, the action was accepted by a committee of the closed shop division in New York in September, 1919, according to George H. Gardiner of Cleveland.

Considerable objection from many employers has since been raised, Harris Hatch of Philadelphia, an employer's representative on the council, said.

FELT OBLIGATED.

At the council's meeting here Saturday, William Green of New York, expressed the opinion that those employers who accepted the forty-four-hour week at the 1919 convention should put it into effect, declaring that he and other New York employers felt obligated to do so by the convention's action.

Several other unorganized employers spoke strongly against the proposed four-hour reduction.

In the report of the Chicago conference Saturday night, April 2, it was stated erroneously that the United Typothetae of America had favored the forty-four-hour week at the New York convention of 1919. It was the closed shop division of the United Typothetae that took the action, according to Mr. Gardiner.

WAGE STRIKE IN BOSTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, April 4.—Union leaders said tonight that 2121 printers, bindery workers and electrotypers had quit work in fifty shops today as a protest against a reduction in wages. No movement looking toward a settlement had been made. Spokesmen for the employers said the only means of settlement would be acceptance of the employers' terms by the strikers.

TO CUT RAIL PAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, April 4.—Intention to reduce wages of all employees and executives May 1, was announced by officials of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway today. The amount will be determined at conferences here between officials and representatives of the 20,000 employees, the announcement explained.

STRIKE SETTLED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURG (Kan.) April 4.—Settlement of the strike at the mines of the Patton Coal and Mining Company, in progress since March 22, was announced today. Alexander Howat and five other officials of the Kansas Miners' Union, are to be tried Wednesday for contempt of court in calling the strike in violation of an injunction.

The settlement of the strike is said by the miners' union officials to have been a victory for the contention of the union.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 4.—Retail coal prices were reduced 50 cents a ton here today. For domestic use, coal was delivered for $4.25 a ton.

THE DALLES (Or.) April 4.—With the great part of the 1920 Wasco county wheat crop unsold, local mills and export buyers today reported that 92 and 95 cents a bushel is the maximum price they will pay. No sales were reported.

NORTHAMPTON (N. Y.) April 4. Most of the building trades went on strike today in protest against a reduced wage schedule.

EMPORIA (Kan.) April 4.—Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, here tonight, en route East from California, refused either to deny or affirm unofficial reports that the corporation would reduce wages 20 per cent and institute an eight-hour day.

UTICA (N. Y.) April 4.—Union men in job printing shops which declared adherence to the open shop plan quit work today. Plant managers expressed the belief that they would soon be operating full handed.

ITALY LIKELY WILL TRADE WITH RUSSIA.

FOREIGN MINISTER DECLARES ACTION NECESSARY TO ECONOMIC LIFE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROME, April 4.—Questioned in the Senate concerning the government's policy towards the Russian commercial mission now in Italy, Count Sforza, the Italian Foreign Minister, said that in spite of legitimate fears that the members of the mission may be the means of spreading Bolshevist propaganda it is impossible for Italy to resume her normal economic life without trade intercourse with Russia.

He declared Italy should follow England's example and conclude an economic agreement with the soviet government and that the Italian government considers the Russian expedition as a forerunner of trade negotiations.

TEXAS STARTS TO BUILD.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) April 4.—From many of the larger cities and smaller towns come reports of a revival of building activities. Lumber dealers generally are conducting home-building campaigns. According to architects and contractors more building will be in progress within the next few weeks than for several years.

DRAFT EVADERS TO STAY IN GERMANY.

ONE CONDITION OF RELEASE OF AMERICANS WHO TRIED TO NAB BERGDOLL.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, April 4.—The Baden government's order releasing Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer, American detectives imprisoned for attempting to arrest Grover Cleveland Bergdoll and his chauffeur, Eugene (Ike) Stecher, on German soil, contained this phrase: "The release is made on the supposition that the young woman shot in the hand will be suitably compensated by the Americans and that the two German-Americans, Bergdoll and Stecher, will remain in unoccupied German territory and under no circumstance be molested."

Insertion of this clause was made against the advice of the central government in Berlin, it was learned today.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—An unofficial suggestion has been made to the United States, it was learned today, that an indemnity be paid to the German girl shot in the hand at the time Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer attempted to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, at Eberbach, Baden. The suggestion was made by German officials, it was said, and about $1500 mentioned as the proper sum. The matter is under consideration by the State Department.

Recent advices from Germany said the girl would probably lose her hand and War Department officials are disposed to view the indemnity suggestion favorably.

Chairman Kahn of the House Military Committee, announced today his resolution for investigation of the escape of Bergdoll, would be introduced on the opening day of the extra session.

Ready for Play in South's Amateur Golf Championship.

High Lights Who Will Tee Off at Beverly Hills.

Here are four Southern California stars who will play in the first eighteen-hole leg of the thirty-six-hole qualifying journey at the Los Angeles Country Club today. At the left is Ed B. Tufts, president of the Southern California Golf Association. Ed's game isn't as wicked as he looks, but he can still shake a mean club. Everett Seaver is the present Southern California champion, and E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong at his left, has held the title in past years. At the extreme left is Dr. Paul Hunter, State champion and favorite in this year's southern tourney.

COLLEGE WILL DROP ATHLETICS FOR YEAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA CLARA (Cal.) April 4.—University of Santa Clara, whose teams long have figured prominently, is to drop all intercollegiate athletics for at least one year, Graduate Manager James B. O'Connor announced here today.

Interclass athletics will be continued. Instructions to cancel all scheduled contests, have been issued by Father Timothy Murphy, president of the university, O'Connor announced. Although university and student body officials would not be quoted as to reasons for the move, it was said the order was issued because of dissatisfaction with the lack of success Santa Clara teams were meeting.

HOME-RUN BAKER WANTS A HEARING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—The application of J. Franklin (Home Run) Baker, formerly with the New York Americans, for reinstatement to organized baseball still is awaiting a hearing, L. M. O'Connor, secretary of the baseball commission headed by Judge Landis, said tonight. Mr. O'Connor's statement was made in connection with reports Baker had refused to furnish the commissioner with certain information and would remain suspended.

There are so many applications before the commissioner, he said, that each has to be considered in its turn.

GEYER TO AGAIN BOX JENKISSON.

Charles Jenkisson, George Blake's wonderful fighting protege, and Ad Geyer, Pacific Coast A.A.U. champion welterweight boxer, are coming together. It would be hard to conceive an announcement more interesting than this to the glove fans, and certainly no battle with greater possibilities could be arranged here.

The match will be the main event in the big full-dress society show to be staged by and at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Monday evening, April 25, for the benefit of the suffering women and children of Ireland. There will be four other good matches on the card, in addition to wrestling, jiu-jitsu and athletic events of high class—of a character to interest the society ladies of the city. Aside from the merit of the cause itself, Jenkisson and Geyer should draw to the limit.

About four months ago young Jenkisson turned up at L.A.A.C. and George Blake picked him out as a comer and started him off. A month later he was matched one night with Geyer, the veteran who was considered invincible, with the result that Geyer was outpointed and beaten. Since then Jenkisson has appeared several times on the L.A.A.C. card and always his opponents have gone down, walloped to a frazzle. Now he is on the way to Boston to participate in the national championships at the end of this week, and it is believed he will bring home the honors. He will return in ample time for the benefit affair.

PICK EDDIE TO REFEREE AUTO RACES.

Believe That the Ace of Aces Can Handle Wild Bunch of Speed Demons.

Evidently figuring that a guy who could shoot down twenty-five Huns in aerial combat ought to be able to handle eight or nine peevish racing drivers, the Los Angeles Speedway Association yesterday selected Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker, American ace of aces, to referee the American sprint championships at the Beverly bowl next Sunday.

A MEAN AFFAIR.

When Barney Oldfield withdrew as referee last week, considerable trouble was anticipated in selecting an official, particularly in view of the circumstances which led to Oldfield's resignation. Barney suggested that the feeling between the drivers was going to make the race a very mean affair to handle and that someone who combined an intimate knowledge of racing with the nerve to enforce the rules would have to be found.

The fact that Rick, before going to war, was regarded as one of the greatest racing drivers in the country makes him an ideal official and when reached by telephone yesterday, he was told the circumstances of Oldfield's withdrawal and asked to take the job and promptly consented. The nomination was sent to Chairman Kennerdell of the A.A.A. contest board and late last night he wired back his approval, saying that in view of the conditions he regarded Rickenbacker as the ideal man for the job.

JUST A RUMOR.

A sensational report was going the rounds yesterday to the effect that Eddie Hearne, with his supercompressed Revere, had made five laps faster than 109 miles an hour in practice. No affirmation was possible, owing to the fact that by request of Fullen, Milton and Sarles the track has been cleared of all spectators and private practice hours set for each of the drivers during which time no one else may be admitted to the big inclosure.

NEW EXPOSE IS PROMISED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—Promises of a new expose in the baseball scandal came from an unexpected quarter when attorneys defending the eight Chicago White Sox players indicted with ten others for conspiracy in the alleged throwing of the 1919 world series announced they had uncovered a "real scandal, in which men hitherto not mentioned had won more than $300,000." The attorneys said full particulars would be given when the case is tried.

The statements were made by the attorneys when they made motion before Judge McDonald for reduction in bail. Judge McDonald reduced the bail for Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, Buck Weaver, Swede Risberg, Oscar Felsch, Fred McMullin and Joe Jackson, White Sox players, from $48,000 each to $7500, but announced he would permit no reduction in the cases of the alleged gamblers. It is believed the seven players will surrender soon.

COAST LEAGUE ON ITS WAY.

Far West Baseball Body Enters Nineteenth Season; Sketch of Teams.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Where they play in the Coast League today:
Seattle at Los Angeles.
Vernon at Sacramento.
Portland at San Francisco.
Oakland at Salt Lake.

In reality the Pacific Coast League today enters its nineteenth year, but poetically, one might say that it rises Phoenix-like into a new birth from the ashes of the 1920 smirch.

It is generally felt among fans all over the circuit that the chastening process so well handled by Prexy McCarthy last fall will bear fruit and that the present season will be perfectly innocent of any nefarious work. In short, we look to see this year pass into Coast baseball history as a banner year in all particulars.

After a careful survey of the eight organizations which compose the league, one is led to believe that four of the clubs rather outclass the others. However, one of the poorer four nines may turn out to be a surprise party — viz Sacramento. The Solons have a knack of coming along lickity scoop at the tag end of the season when most of the first-division teams have settled their status.

POOR DUCKS.

Of Portland it is begging the question that the Ducks will hardly show to much advantage until McCredie's affiliated team comes to his rescue. Salt Lake is only a shadow of its former greatness and Oakland is about of its usual mediocre caliber.

A little running comment on the personnel of all the clubs probably would be more pat to the purpose, so here she goes:

Los Angeles—Losing somewhat in pitching strength by the loss of Keating and Fertica. This loss is more than offset by the acquisition of Carroll and Lindimore, which gives speed and batting strength to the Angels. Nishoff is playing a whale of a game at second and if he can maintain his present standard of work he will plug up a weak spot in the Seraphic infield that has caused local fans much weeping in the last few years.

BETTER YEAR.

McAuley says he will have a better year than last, while Art Griggs, at first, is sure to be there with his old bludgeon. The outfield, with Carroll, Killefer and the old reliable Crawford, is indeed formidable. The Angels are almost certain of a first-division berth and should make a strong bid for the pennant.

Vernon's pitching staff is the best ever gotten together in a minor league. This fact alone makes the Tigers dangerous at all times. The infield is not so strong as that of 1920. Fisher and Johnny Mitchell were names to conjure with last year when the infield was taken into consideration. Gorman is an experiment at short, but has shown

"CALL OF THE OPEN ROAD" WEEK IS ENTHUSIASTICALLY LAUNCHED BY MOTOR PARADE.

Although a somewhat wintry wind was emphasizing the call of the open fireplace, the parade opening "Call of the Open Road" week yesterday was pronounced the most successful affair of its kind in the history of our fair city. More than one hundred automobiles and floats comprised the pageant which moved through the downtown streets on the heels of a leather-lunged band while thousands of spectators clambered all over each other to see the beautiful cars.

Interspersed through the column were floats donated by the Motor Car Dealers' Association, sponsor for "The Call of the Open Road—Are You Prepared" movement, the Bear Valley Chamber of Commerce and the B. H. Dyas Company. The association's floats by clever artistry offered the mountains and the lakes with the near-by pines as a lure to tempt the motorist and the fisherman. A real 400-pound brown bear surmounting a float made entirely of pine cones brought from Big Bear Valley, one of Southern California's most famous mountain resorts, attracted universal attention. The Dyas float, with a complete auto camp, carried two modern fishing maids dressed in the very latest sport habiliments.

A bevy of bathing girls from Venice in the "motor boat" of the Warner Motors, which had been decorated for the occasion, got a wild cheer all down the line of march. Despite the chilly wind that prevailed they disported themselves as though they were gamboling on the warm sands of their famous beach resort.

MOVING AUTO SHOW.

The parade of autos, representing the latest model of practically every line with a distributing house or agency in Los Angeles, was in reality a moving automobile show. Gaily dressed women and cars and flutter-

Pacific Coast Season Opens at Washington Park.

Seattle Tackles Killefer's Rejuvenated Angels.

Game to be Preceded by Usual Street Parade.

That great day dedicated to the Pass Moocher, the opening day of the baseball season, has arrived. Crouching in their new concrete dugouts at Washington Park, the hungry hordes representing Los Angeles and Seattle are awaiting the hour of 3:30 to spring at one another in the first game of the 1921 Pacific Coast League baseball season this afternoon.

CHANGED LOOK.

Red Killefer's pennant-pursuing Seraphs will present a much changed appearance when they face Bill Kenworthy's Purps today while the latter, with the exception of a clean shave apiece and an outfit of uniforms sliced out of defunct billiard table covering, will look absolutely the same as they did at the tail end of the 1920 season.

In addition to brand new uniforms, Mr. Killefer and Mr. Powers have bought a flock of new athletes to hang them on. The Seraph catching staff resembles last year's about as much as the April inhabitant of the White House resembles the February occupant. Not one of last year's wearers of the iron mask remains to tread on Billy Phyle's bunions, the whole squad having been replaced by solid, substantial citizens capable of stopping anything from a two bit baseball to a crime wave.

IT IS ALL NEW.

The left hand side of the Angel nine is all new. Bert Nishof who cruised around third base last year, has been gently but firmly pushed over to second base, where he apparently fits like Mary Thurman's bathing suit. In his place is a stalwart bird named Lindimore, who has shown in the five weeks preseason training that he is good enough to elbow nearly anybody off the difficult cushion. He is a fast fielder and wields a wicked willow, we are informed.

Out in left field is a party named Dixie Carroll, the only other man in the world besides Irvin S. Cobb who admits that he hails from Paducah, Ky. This young man, besides having a reputation for snagging flies on the dead run and knocking the ball down the pitcher's throat every time he steps to the platter, is also credited with being the fastest thing in baseball pants since the bloomer girls left town.

ANOTHER NEW MUG.

Eddie Bogart, a young outfielder of great promise, completes the new faces on the Seraph squad aside from

Investment Value of Chalmers is High

THE Chalmers investment value is high. Its first cost is reasonable. Replacement and repair charges are held to a minimum.

Motorists who select a car on a sound business basis, readily see the extra value of the Chalmers. They know they will receive continuous, comfortable service at low cost.

Wonderful Chalmers Motor

The worth of the Chalmers is assured by its wonderful motor. Because the fuel is pre-heated by the hot-spot, greater mileage is secured. The gasoline is all consumed in the cylinders. None leaks down past the pistons into the crank case to cause motor trouble.

Chalmers Beautiful as Well

But it is not the motor alone that makes the Chalmers such a good motor car investment. It is a beautiful car of good design and great comfort.

We ask that you allow us to prove this to you with a demonstration of the Chalmers.

MANY GOLFERS TO MAKE TRIP.

British Links Cracks to Invade America in July.

Championship Tourney to be Held at Columbia Club.

Charles Evans, Jr., Amateur Star, to be Contestant.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Word has reached the Columbia Country Club, where the open golf championship of the United States is to be staged July 19-23, that the party of British golfers may be larger than that already announced.

In addition to Ted Ray of Oxney, England, the present United States open champion, Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, the present British open champion, will come to try to win the American championship. They will bring with them several other British professionals, all of whom have become known in recent years as players of first rank.

WILL NOT COME.

Definite word has been received that Harry Vardon, James Braid and J. H. Taylor, all several times winner of the British open, will not come. In place of these world-renowned players, however, assurance has been given that at least two of the "big four" amateurs in American golf will play in the open.

Charles Evans, Jr., of Chicago, the present American amateur champion, and Robert T. Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, runner-up in the 1919 amateur event, have assured Columbia officials they will play in the blue ribbon event of American golf this year. Jones will leave this country soon to play in the several British events to be held in the spring and in view of his recent fine play, golfers consider there is a chance he may bring home a title. A sister Atlantan, Miss Alexa Stirling, has gone to Great Britain to play in the British women's championship. Miss Stirling holds the American women's title.

NEW FIFTH HOLE.

The course over which the national open will be held will measure upwards of 6500 yards when the tee-plates are put back for the championship. Several major improvements have been made on the course since the championship was awarded to Columbia—chief among them being completion of the new fifth hole, 555 yards, and completion of a new green at the eleventh hole, stretching it out to a distance of 430 yards. Minor readjustments are under way and Walter J. Travis, the prominent course architect who built the course, has come to Washington to put finishing touches on the championship links.

Walter Hagen, twice American champion, Jim Barnes, Leo Diegel, Jack Burke and Peter Harmon are the professionals among those expected to finish well up in the coming titular event. Diegel and Burke tied with Harry Vardon for second place in last year's championship. Joe Hutchison of Chicago and Fred McLeod, the professional at Columbia, are variable quantities. Hutchinson is said to have been playing unbeatable golf in Scotland this winter. McLeod has played the course in sixty-seven several times.

the herd of new pitchers and catchers. According to Red Killefer these players will make the Angels very much stronger than his last year's aggregation and if anybody knows Red ought to because he had to pay for the new talent.

Red himself will add brightness and gaiety to center field while any flies venturing into right field will be promptly subjugated by Mr. S. Wahoo Crawford. Flea McAuley will clatter around between Lindimore and Niehoff while first base will be kept from blowing away by that substantial gentleman, Mr. Arthur Grizzly. Oscar Stanage, late of Detroit, will receive the educated shoots offered by the eminent horse doctor, Mr. Otis Crandall.

IT'S WORTH IT.

In order to put one over on the pass moochers who have been standing in line at the pass gate ever since the season closed last fall, Secretary Boots Weber under cover of darkness moved the park away from the pass gate so that when the moochers pass through the wicket they will suddenly discover that they are still 300 feet outside of the fence. This operation cost the ball club $40,000, but if it keeps the moochers out will be paid for in the first week of the season.

The game will be preceded by the customary parade and flag-raising ceremonies after which Mayor Snyder will attempt to soak Gov. Stephns in the catcher's mitt with the first ball. When the laughter has died away the announcer will gargle something through a megaphone and the 1921 pennant chase will be under way. Following are the tentative line-ups and batting orders for the fracas:

ELDER JURY TO BE INSTRUCTED TODAY.

The jury trying Charles Elder, former special policeman of Pittsburg, on the charge of having murdered his wife, Ida Elder, will be instructed by Judge McCormick this morning. Testimony was to the effect that Mrs. Elder was shot and killed by her husband as she was leaving the apartments where she was stopping, after separating from him.

Mr. Elder, in his own defense, said he did not shoot at his wife, but acted in self-defense when the man with her made a movement towards his pocket. He says his wife stepped in front of the man and received the two shots fired.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HAVANA, April 4.—The eighth game in the championship chess match between Dr. Emanuel Lasker of Germany and Jose R. Lasker played the whites and chose a queen's gambit, which Capablanca declined.

At adjournment neither could be considered to have an advantage.

OPEN FIRE ON GOLF LAURELS.

the Pasadena Golf Club and one of the keenest students of the game in the country, says that Hunter is playing 25 per cent better than ever before in his life. Ed Tufts believes the percentage isn't high enough. Both encouraged the State titleholder in making his decision to join the Yankee team which will sail for England April 30 in an effort to lift the British amateur golf crown. This tourney, therefore, will be Dr. Hunter's last appearance in competitive play before sailing abroad.

RAH FOR NORMAN!

Most dangerous of Dr. Hunter's rivals, perhaps, is Norman Macbeth of the Los Angeles Country Club, who won the Northern California title this year. Experts say he is the greatest natural golfer in the country. Then there is Everett Seaver, present champ, always a hard man to beat in match play; E. S. "Scotty" Armstrong, who has held both State and southern titles, and Jack Neville, ex-State champion. The dopesters hardly can go wrong in predicting that one of the quintet will win the championship.

The Beverly Hills course is in wonderful shape for the tourney. The high wind of yesterday afternoon dried out the greens a bit, making it a difficult matter to hold approach shots, but a sprinkling soon rectified this. The course was open for practice yesterday and a whole flock of contestants availed themselves of the opportunity to try it out. The rearrangement of the sixth and seventh holes has made these a bit easier for the short player. The sixth has been shortened to accommodate the new nine holes, and the seventh is across the barranco—a tough one to make the green in two shots, but comfortable for the man who tries to reach it in three. It is a four-par hole, but there won't be many pars made there.

PRACTICE ROUNDS.

Cards of seventy-one turned in by Jack Neville and C. H. Palmer, Jr., are the best practice rounds recorded, and each played nine holes of the eighteen over the new nine. These seem a bit easier than the old last nine. The new nine will not be used in tournament play because of bad lies, though the greens are in wonderful condition. Wilbur Mack, the actor man, tackled the old nine yesterday afternoon, and registered a 39 in the gale. This is three strokes above par, his score including a birdie on the sixteenth and five pars on other holes.

WHITTIER WINS.

The Whittier State School baseball team defeated El Monte High School yesterday on the latter's grounds, as follows: Whittier, 11-13-7; El Monte, 3-4-4. The batteries were: Whittier, Cline and Malcarme; El Monte, Haddix and Wiggins. Umpire, Libermang. Cline's batting featured. In four times up he banged out four hits, one of which was a three-bagger.

Burglars Ransack Drug Store for Drugs But Find None.

Cutting away the locks of two doors to the Arrow Pharmacy at 4381 Western avenue early yesterday morning burglars ransacked the establishment and escaped with two cases of whisky valued at $300 and with $350 in cash. The liquor, according to the police, was carried away in a small truck. The thieves searched for drugs but found none.

MANY ENTRIES IN MAT BOUTS.

Over Seventy Contestants in National Tourney.

A.A.U. Championships to be Decided at L.A.A.C.

Affair Will Start Thursday; Last Two Nights.

There will be more than seventy contestants in the various divisions of the national A.A.U. wrestling championships at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Thursday and Friday nights this week. Many entries came at the last hour and the result is an exceedingly big list, which means that the meet will be one of the best ever held.

It will be the first in Los Angeles. The 1920 champions practically all will be here, most of them crossing the continent to defend their titles, and in addition the top-notchers from all parts of the country.

ALL CLASSES.

Every class will be strongly represented, from bantam to heavyweight, and one, the 135-pound, will have sixteen contenders, while others are large. Extreme speed will have to be put on to determine the honors in two nights, and the busiest man in town is George Retzer, chairman of the L.A.A.C. wrestling committee, who is directing the big grappling doings.

The meet will be open to the public, ladies included, and many of the latter are expected from the various schools, clubs and other institutions whose men will participate. Nominal admission will be charged to help defray the heavy expense of bringing many grapplers a long distance. The fans will see America's best in action.

ALL ON HAND.

The wrestlers will begin arriving today, and by tomorrow night practically all will be on hand and working out for the final tests. Perhaps the most interesting chap in the lot from some points of view is Carl Benson of Brooklyn, who is due tomorrow. He is one of the smallest grapplers in the country and holds more titles than any other. For years he has been participating in tournaments and taking first places.

He has held the Scandinavian-American Athletic League 115-pound title since 1915, the same year he won the eastern tryout in the 108-pound class and took second in the national at San Francisco. In 1918 he won the Metropolitan 108 and 115-pound championships. In 1917 he took the national and Metropolitan 108, repeating in 1919 and 1920. Now he will compete in both divisions here.

CALL OF THE OPEN ROAD.

ing pennants carrying the inscription "Call of the Open Road—Are You Prepared," presented a kaleidoscopic color effect that is so typical of this city and the Southland.

Beginning last night, when the decorated showrooms along "the row" were thrown open to receive visitors, a week of hospitality was ushered in. The total cost of the displays runs into many thousands of dollars and scenic painters and decorators have been working without regard to hours to finish their tasks on time.

Last night a fleet of busses of the Motor Transit Company, their use having been donated free of charge, convoyed those wishing to visit any auto showroom between 7:30 and 11 o'clock, from a stand set aside by the city on Broadway between Seventh and Eighth streets. Numerous concerns have prepared a special program of entertainment for each night of the week.

ALL INTERESTED.

The women's driving contest to be held next Saturday at Exposition Park is bound to attract thousands of enthusiastic motorists to see how "milady" handles the wheel. The entry list, which includes many well known women drivers of the city, was near the thirty mark last night and by Thursday night, when the entries close, will undoubtedly have been filled. There have been so many applications by those who would appear, that it has been difficult for the dealers to choose their representative entrant.

SEWAGE EXPERTS HERE TO WORK OUT SYSTEM.

COMMITTEE BEGINS STUDY OF DATA OF PROBLEM IN LOS ANGELES.

What shall be done to solve the sewage disposal problems of Los Angeles is being decided by a committee of three experts, following the arrival here yesterday of George W. Fuller and Prof. George C. Whipple, City Engineer Mulholland of the water bureau, the third member of the group, spent several hours yesterday with them in the first of the many conferences to be held in the next few weks during the investigation. Recommendation of plans best suited to the needs of Los Angeles will be the outcome of their work.

Mr. Fuller, who is a New York engineer and vice-president of the American Association of Engineers, and Prof. Whipple, professor of sanitary engineering at Harvard University, reached Los Angeles yesterday morning. They were met by Mr. Mulholland, City Engineer Griffin and members of the Committee on Health and Sanitation, headed by Councilman Mallard. During their stay here they will be at the Alexandria.

The two visiting experts spent most of the day reviewing plans in the City Engineer's office, conferring with officials and on a preliminary investigation trip with Mr. Mulholland. The first part of the committee's program will be to digest all available data pertaining to the sewage problem in Los Angeles. The entire work may take several weeks before a report on the advisability of building an outfall sewer to the ocean, or of erecting a treatment plant, or for a system combining both features will be submitted.

STRANGLER IS AGAIN VICTOR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 4.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis of San Jose, Cal., world's heavyweight catch-as-catch-can wrestling champion, tonight threw John Penek of Ravenna, Neb., with a bar and armlock after wrestling one hour, thirty-four minutes and thirty-two seconds.

COAST LEAGUE IS ON ITS WAY.

TO GO SOME.

However, he comes heralded as a far sticker but will surely have to go some to replace Fisher in the hearts of Bengal fans. Hyatt at first is some swatter, and Red Smith is a classy third-sacker. The outfield with High, Chadbourne and Long is a crackerjack. It is easy to predict that whatever team can down the Vernon champions should annex the 1921 gonfalon.

The Seals are pretty well supplied with heaving effectiveness comprising in their roster, Jim Scott, Couch, Lefty O'Doul, Lewis Crumpler and Flaherty. Most of the work will fall on the first four chuckers and they are almost sure to give a good account of themselves. In Agnew and Yelle, the Seals are well off in catchers. Kamm is a crackerjack at third; Caveney a dandy short, and Maury Rath a whale of a second-sacker. Weakness lies at the initial sack. O'Connell will start off there and may be able to hold it down. Fitzgerald and Schick are of the best in the outfield. Joe Kelly, one of the new outfielders, is said to be a good hitter. He comes from the Boston National League Club. Barring accidents the Seals look very much like a first-division team.

one of the 1920 regulars held over.

Seattle bodies up about the same as last year and here again is a team that has all the earmarks of a first-division berth. The projectors are good, among them being Gardner, Demaree, Geary, Dailey, Schorr and Francis. Kenworthy has several more nifty chuckers in view and all things taken into consideration is well off in the pitching line. Spencer and Adams are a dandy pair of backstops and need no comment.

Murphy at first, Kenworthy at second, Stumpf at short, and Wisterzil at third, is an infield combination that is hard to match on the Coast. Middleton, Eldred and Lane in the outfield are a formidable trio. Seattle should not worry about finishing in the first division.

SHOT TO PIECES.

The Portland team has been shot to pieces and will start the season with a rather mediocre aggregation. Only three of the old pitching staff remain, Kallio, Polson and Ross. Two newcomers are Johnson and Pillette. Behind the bat are Baker and Fisher, a pretty nifty duo. Poole, a Richmond (Va.) club player, has been signed to play first. Art Kruz, a pastmaster at the keystone sack, will hold down that position.

Paton, an Everett (Wash.) youngster, will likely start at third and Butler may be shifted to short. Dick Cox in right field is the only Wolfer of the Joplin club, will be used as a gardener as will also Frank Wilson from Vancouver. The Beavers, this year, speak for themselves. McCredie, however, hopes to get material aid from the Detroit.

Oakland will have added pepper to its line-up this year as was evidenced at the spring training camp. "It is a live gang" is Manager Howard's comment. The pitchers will include Krause, Winn, Boehling and Alten, all southpaws; then there are those good right-handers, Arlett, Kremer and Siebold. Mitze will backstop and will be helped out by Koehler of last year's Beavers. Knight will hold down first, Al White, second; Pinelli, third, and Brubaker, short. Cooper, Willie and Hack Miller make up the gardeners. Of the four weaker teams in the league, the Oaks are about the only one that seems to have a chance for first division honors.

Gayvy Cravath will try to rehabilitate Salt Lake and in this, he will have a hard road to travel. He is pretty well supplied with heavers in Stroud, Thurston, Gould, Rieger and Bromley. Stroud, however, may not rejoin the nine. He is well provided with catchers in Byler, Jenkins and Lynn.

JOURDAN AT FIRST.

Jourdan of the White Sox will hold down first; Paddy Siglin, second; Sand, third, and at short a college lad named Barry. Cravath himself will play right, Art Hauger, center, and Henry Oliver, left. The Bees expect to be strengthened about April 15 through some trades made with the Chicago White Sox.

Sacramento starts out with about the same roster as that of last year. In the pitching line will be Fittery, Neihaus, Prough, Penner, Faeth and three other fair twirlers. Rowdy Elliott, Bobby Schang and Cook will do the backstopping. The infield will be made up of Mollwitz at first, McGaffigan at second, Orr at short, and Charley Pick at third. The gardeners will be Buddy Ryan, Compton and Kopp. The Senators may surprise many of the fans this year by butting into the first division, but we doubt it very much.

WHO'LL PLAY IN OPENING GAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Occupants of the cellar for the bigger part of last season, the Sacramento Senators, rejuvenated, will face the two-time pennant winners, the Vernon Tigers, at Buffalo Park here tomorrow, in a contest which the local fans fondly hope will indicate the Capital City has a real contender this year for the Pacific Coast League pennant.

The official batting order for tomorrow follows:

Sacramento — McGaffigan, 2b; Kopp, lf; Pick, 2b; Mollwitz, 1b; Compton, rf; Ryan, cf; Orr, ss; Elliott, c; Fittery or Prough, p.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 4.—Oakland and Salt Lake will open the 1921 baseball season tomorrow afternoon. Despite the rain, mixed with snow, which fell all day and late tonight, the Weather Bureau predicted clear skies for tomorrow with lower temperature. The probable line-ups follow:

Salt Lake—Sand, 3b; Wilhelt, cf; Hauger, lf; Jourdan, 1b; Cravath, rf; Siglin, 2b; Byler, c; Barry, ss; Bromley, p.

Umpires—Byron and Toman.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The San Francisco and Portland teams will open the Pacific Coast League baseball season here tomorrom after Mayor James Rolph has heaved the first ball into the mitt of Chief of Police Daniel O'Brien.

The batting order announced tonight was:

Portland—Bourg, rf; Wolter, lf; Krug, 2b; Cox, cf; Poole, 1b; Butler, ss; King, c; Paton, 3b; Pillette, p.

Fair and warmer was the weather prediction.

Expect Good Ball Season for Caltek.

Caltek is looking forward to a prosperous baseball career in the conference ranks this year. Ten letter men are back and on the job—McDonald, catcher; Groat and Reynolds, pitchers; Davis and Schneider, first basemen; Larson, second base; Pomp, third base; Burke, second base, and Potts and Parmlee, outfielders.

Last year's captain went to Stanford this year, and at an election last Friday Clifford Potts, a two-letter man, was elected to lead the Pasadenans this year. In the past three years Tech has captured the conference title once and tied for it once. This year's players are rounding into shape nicely, especially the pitchers, who appear to be 50 per cent better than last year.

In addition to the aove-mentioned letter men, some of last year's frosh players are giving a good account of themselves in practice, particularly Priddy at short and Weitecamp behind the bat. The first varsity game will be played next Saturday at Occidental, and Tech is the favorite because of "Boscos" Alcock's ineligibility.

STEEL MAN SUCCUMBS SUDDENLY.

Retired Wall Street Banker Attends Concert, Plans Golf and Expires During Sleep.

Edmund Cogswell Converse of Greenwich, Ct., and 14 Wall street, New York, wealthy retired steel man, banker and capitalist, died yesterday at the Hotel Huntington, Oak Knoll, his winter home, from heart failure. He was 71 years old.

Mr. Converse attended the Sunday-night concert at the hotel, and was apparently in the best of health. He informed Mrs. Converse that he intended to play golf yesterday morning if it didn't rain. She was awakened at 8 o'clock by his labored breathing. He died before she could reach his side.

Mr. Converse was a popular member of the winter colony and was widely known among golfers. He was a member of the Midwick, Annandale and Pasadena golf clubs and the Boisa Chica Gun Club here, and was president of the Greenwich Country Club in the East. He was also a member of other golf clubs and the Metropolitan, Union League, New York Yacht and other clubs in New York. He was formerly president of the Liberty National Bank and the Bankers' Trust Company of New York. In recent years he had retired from active business, but was still a director of those institutions and of the International Nickel Company, Fidelity Phoenix Insurance Company, Erie and Kalamazoo Railroad, American Banknote Company and other big concerns. He established a school of banking at Harvard University and presented a beautiful library building to Amherst College in memory of his brother, James Blanchard Converse. Before becoming a banker, Mr. Converse amassed a large fortune and achieved a reputation as a business organizer by developing the steel tube works at McKeesport, Pa., which he sold to the United States Steel Corporation.

He leaves a widow, who is here, a son, E. C. Converse, Jr., of Santa Paula, and two daughters, Mrs. Antoinette Converse (who resumed her father's name after the death of her husband, a German officer,) and Mrs. Converse Strong of Santa Barbara and Greenwich.

The body will be taken to New York, where the funeral will be held at St. Thomas's Episcopal Church, and the burial will be at the family mausoleum at Woodlawn Cemetery, near New York City.

EARL YOUNG TO BATTLE COFFEY.

Northern Pugs to Furnish Main Event at Doyle's.

Bob Grant and Joe Sullivan in Semiwind-up.

Seven Good Contests Are Carded for Tonight.

Joe Coffey of San Francisco will start at Vernon again tonight when he meets Earl Young, another northern boxer, in the main event. Young is said to be a good performer, having boxed Jimmy Dundee, Young Brown and other good boys. Coffey is a good card at Vernon, having put up slashing bouts with Sailor Fisher and Jimmy Dundee.

The semiwind-up will be between Bob Grant, heavyweight champion of the Pacific Fleet, and Joe Sullivan, a Denver boxer who is said to have piled up an impressive knockout record.

CELLO VS. MONROE.

Tommy Cello, who has put up some classy bouts at Vernon, is matched with Frankie Monroe. The latter is a good boxer and a real hitter. His knockout of "Sailor" Mickey Gray at the benefit show held at the bicycle stadium last Friday night being one of the most impressive showings made by a local 125 pounder in months.

George Etzell of the U.S.S. Arkansas, will meet Ernie Goozeman at 122 pounds.

Eddie Macy, a tough little fellow who fought Kid Mende to a standstill a week ago, is matched with Georgie Marks.

Sam Casper and Jack Martin, a pair of sluggers who put up a great bout a couple of weeks ago, have been rematched and look like the best pair of real sluggers on the card.

"Soldier" Graham and George Andrews, 145 pounders, will open the show.

Trout Fishing Not as Good as Expected.

With a very few exceptions, poor reports on trout fishing conditions still continue to come in. From the many hundreds that left Friday, one would have thought that more limits would be caught than have been recorded on the books at the local sporting goods stores. However, it was quiet the reverse.

One of the finest catches of steelhead, seen in many a season was brought back yesterday by Charles O. Little. His creel of beauties was caught at the Santa Ynez.

A mess of trout, twenty-eight in all and weighing twelve pounds was caught by Bill Harrington in the Sespe.

Bert Stevenson and Al Groat, angling experts at the Dyas company, declare that Little's creel of steelhead was a sight beyond words. The fish were all alike for marks and size.

Charles Lick, Hal Roach and Don Keeler have returned from their lengthy stay at the Sisquoc. The trio found it a great place, but hard to get to. They put in one morning of good fishing, all landing limits of fine-looking brook trout. The fish averaged eleven and twelve inches.

Fred Thatcher, missionary and diplomat for the Tufts-Lyons Arms Company has returned from his blazing trip to Big Bear. He reports running into every kind of weather known, snow, sleet, rain, wind, hail and dust hit the party at different stages of the journey.

However, despite the poor reports on fishing, many more anglers were preparing yesterday to have their first of the season fling at the trout.

McINNIS TO JOIN HIS TEAM FRIDAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MANCHESTER (Mass.) April 4.—Stuffy McInnis, holdout first baseman of the Boston Americans, said today that he expected to join the team at Baltimore Friday or Saturday. He said he had made a proposition to President H. H. Frazee and was confident they would agree.

PRISONERS LIKE MEALS IN JAIL.

Cut Bill of Fare to Reduce Prison Population.

Gentleman Yegg Plys Trade at Long Beach.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, April 4.—That the prisoners in the Long Beach City Jail are fed so often and so well that they would rather remain in jail in many instances and serve their sentence instead of paying their fine was the assertion this afternoon of W. M. Peek, Commissioner of Public Safety, in connection with the announcement that in the future only two meals a day would be served the inmates of the local bastile instead of "three squares" as at present.

Practically every day the last month the City Jail has been crowded beyond capacity and the bill for meals ran double any previous month in the history of the city.

An investigation by Chief of Police McLendon revealed the fact that the inmates of the jail were too well satisfied with life, doing no work, having a place to sleep and eating three good meals a day and spending the remaining time in playing cards or checkers or in reading.

"The City Jail as it is conducted at present is too attractive to many," commented Commissioner Peek. "Many bums welcome a sentence in it."

Chief McLendon also announced today that he was completing plans for the establishment of a chain gang to take a little more of the joy out of life for the prisoners. The gang will be used to clean the city's streets and set to other tasks of a municipal nature to help reduce expenses.

The members of the chain gang will be given three meals a day, the Chief says.

GENTEEL BURGLAR.

The nerviest burglar has been discovered in Long Beach. He was interrupted this afternoon while burglarizing the home of W. E. Dickinson, 4216 East Second street, by a real estate dealer. The burglar, dressed in the uniform of a naval officer, opened the door for the agent and courteously showed him and a prospective purchaser through the house.

The burglar thanked the realty agent for calling and showed them out. He then proceeded to rifle the house, escaping with loot valued at several hundred dollars, including two gold nuggets, a gold watch, gold plated safety razor and some clothing.

Mr. Dickinson was apprised of the naval officer angle of the burglary when the realty dealer returned to discuss further details of the proposed sale of the dwelling.

NEW RESIDENT DIES.

Charles R. Kimball, 64 years old, a cousin of Vice-President Coolidge, died at his home, 1321 East Broadway this city today. He came to Long Beach two months ago from Aberdeen, S. D., in the hopes that the climatic change would benefit his failing health.

Mr. Kimball was a retired wholesale grain dealer of Aberdeen. He was a Thirty-second Degree Mason. The body will be returned to Aberdeen for burial.

HOLD MEXICAN ON CHARGE OF MURDER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, April 4.—Mascimino Lozano, confessed slayer of Rafael Gracia, Mexican orange picker, who was shot at Claremont March 22, was given his preliminary hearing today and held without bail to answer in the Superior Court to the charge of murder.

The case was heard by Judge U. E. White. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Raymond I. Turney conducted the prosecution.

ATTACK CONDUCTOR.

Clarence Jordan, local Pacific Electric conductor, was followed to his room in the Weston Hotel last night by two men after he had completed his run shortly after midnight, and was attacked and beaten into unconsciousness. He is recovering today from the effects of his injuries. He is of the opinion that the two assailants were men who held a "grudge" against him and used the physical method to satisfy their animosity. None of Jordan's personal effects were taken, indicating that robbery was not the motive.

AUTO ACCIDENTS.

The Valley Boulevard on East Holt avenue, just east of the Pomona city limits, was the scene last night of a series of automobile crashes which all occurred with an hour's time and involved five machines. The first, and most serious mishap was caused by a seven-inch drop on the side of the paved highway and by the slippery condition of the pavement.

Dr. F. M. Gardiner of San Bernardino, accompanied by his mother and two children, was driving his car east, when the right wheels dropped from the pavement and in attempting to get back onto the highway, the machine skidded beyond his control and crashed into a car, bound in the opposite direction, belonging to M. J. Albright of Los Angeles.

A. H. Winger was driving the Albright car, and Mrs. White, Mr. Albright's mother, was sitting beside him. The impact of the two cars was so heavy that Mrs. White was hurled through the windshield and was seriously injured, although other occupants of the two cars were unhurt.

A short time later two other cars collided on the slippery pavement and in the excitement a Japanese driver crashed into one of the wrecked cars. No one was hurt.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT DANGEROUSLY ILL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 4.—Dr. A. O. Hendricks, president of the Pasadena (Nazarene) University and one of the most prominent figures in the Nazarene university, is very seriously ill at his home here with double pneumonia. He contracted the illness when returning from a trip to the East. He is under the care of Dr. Paul Bresee of Los Angeles and a corps of nurses.

Dr. Hendricks, before becoming the president of the university, was the pastor of the First Nazarene church in Los Angeles. He is widely known among members of that denomination.

ACCUSES PRESS AGENT.

W. E. Hopkins, press agent for local motion picture theaters, was arraigned before Judge R. G. Thompson in justice court here today on a statutory charge, the complaining witness being Nellie Smilley, a Pasadena girl whose age is said to be but 17 years. Hopkins's preliminary hearing was set for April 20 and he is at liberty on $1000 bonds.

CITY TO FILE ON WATER.

The city of Pasadena will file upon water rights in the Big Tejunga Canyon, announcement was made today by City Commissioner W. H. Reeves. He stated that he had instructed City Engineer E. P. Dewey to take the necessary steps before the State Water Commission. Action will be taken this week.

NEW THEATER COMPLETED.

A new theater built by B. O. Kendall and leased for a long term of years to H. C. Jensen, a local impresario, has just been completed at Raymond avenue and Holly street, opposite Library Park, and will be opened tomorrow. It will house movies and speaking stage attractions. The theater cost $500,000 and is the Georgian style of architecture. Cyril Bennett of Pasadena was the architect.

TUSTIN TO FORM SCHOOL DISTRICT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, March 4.—The proposed formation of the Tustin High School District Received the indorsement of Tustin citizens by a 267-to-6 vote, according to report of election filed with the county school superintendent today. The plan for formation of a new high school district resulted from the Eden bill, now in the State Legislature, which would compel every grammar school district to join the nearest high school district.

A bond election for high school buildings may be the next step. A large number of Tustin pupils are attending Santa Ana High School.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, April 4.—The alleged careless driving of Irvine Sievke, manager of the Select Fruit Growers' Association of Whittier, caused the death of Mrs. T. Auto, 24, Japanese woman, according to the findings of a Coroner's jury sitting at Fullerton today.

The woman was killed when the truck in which she was riding, was hit by the Sievke car. The accident happened yesterday between Anaheim and Fullerton. As yet, it is understood, no charges have been formally filed against Sievke.

"I have actually gained twenty-five pounds and I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world," said Mrs. Robert O. Reynolds, 127 North Denver St., Kansas City, Mo.

"For ten long years I suffered from a very bad form of rheumatism, stomach and nervous troubles. My appetite was very poor. What little I did eat soured on my stomach and I suffered the most severe pains in my back, hips and shoulders. My rheumatism was so bad that I could not raise my hands to comb my hair and my arms hurt me to my finger tips. I became so weak and run down that I lost all my energy and life had become almost a burden. I tried many things, but nothing helped me.

"I had only taken my first bottle of Tanlac when I noticed my appetite was improving and I could sleep better at night. I have taken three bottles and the way it has helped me and built me up is really astonishing. I did not do anything and everything without the slightest disagreeable aftereffects. I sleep just fine at night and am in better health than I have been in years. I am glad to give this statement, hoping that any who are suffering as I did may experience the same wonderful results, which I believe they will if they give Tanlac a fair trial."

VALESKA INTRIGUES.

MISS SURATT IN LAIT SKETCH HAS REAL SMART STUFF.

By Grace Kingsley.

So wise is the public becoming these days that it's pretty hard to get anybody into the mood essential to serious enjoyment of any sort of dramatic entertainment; in other words, to have anybody kid himself into believing that he is believing what he sees on the stage.

Maybe the realism of the pictures has done it, but more likely it's because the theatergoer of today is so glutted with entertainment via the stage and screen that he refuses to take anything seriously, liking to see everything kidded.

Jack Lait shrewdly fell into this satirical mood when he adapted his own melodrama, "One of Us," to vaudeville and to Valeska Suratt, and this brilliant lady goes just a bit further with the kidding stuff. The result is good entertainment for everybody, due principally to Lait's smart lines so far as the regular theatergoer is concerned, while those on the inside of theatricals get a further kick out of the sutlfe poking of fun at melodrama in "Scarlet," which is the three-scene version of "One of Us."

The story is that of a cabaret girl, beloved of an aristocrat, but who is told he can't win her because not "one of us." So he pulls the rough stuff, has a sort of a wedding, carries her off to her own flat and makes her quit the dive.

"What's your business?" inquires the girl.

"Murder," says the youth. "I can't sleep well if I don't do a murder every once in a while."

He swears the girl must not leave the flat, and that he will be watching her.

"Here," she exclaims, "I think he's a crook and he turns out to be a night watchman!"

There are laughs by the score, with the audience a bit bewildered at times as to how to take the sketch, but the wise ones thoroughly enjoy the satire. Miss Suratt is wonderfully effective as the girl, particularly as she gets the comedy over whopping, and the other players do remarkably good work.

Another smashing hit is scored by Albertina Rasch, who pockets the applause with her wonderfully artistic classic dances.

Down in the closing spot is one of the funniest acts of the season, Emerson and Baldwin, who rip it wide open for the laughs with their burlesque magic, in addition to which they do some nifty juggling. Gene Green got big returns with songs and stories, though some of the latter are vintage; Bessie Browning struck a hit gait right off with her nonchalant characterizations and songs; Ray Conlin, though some spots need a plane, cleans up on laughs; Alfred Latell is a panic in his canine outfit; and Page and Green put a thrill into their acrobatic stuff by falling backward off chairs at the close.

Mary MacLaren with Fairbanks.

Mary MacLaren has been signed up to play one of the leading feminine roles with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Three Musketeers."

Keaton Throws Crutches Away.

Buster Keaton has thrown away his crutches and is about to commence work on a new comedy. The former one is shelved, however as too strenuous, and he announces he is going to do something gentler in the way of comedy.

Mary Garden to See It.

A special performance of "Monna Vanna" is to be given at the Little Theater for Mary Garden and other members of the opera company, tomorrow afternoon. Olga Grey Zacsek plays the lead in the piece, and Miss Garden was especially interested in seeing the work of the young actress.

Breathless Note.

Danny Hall is technical art director at the Chaplin studios.

Want to See Babies.

Reservations for 700 residents of Ocean Park, who will attend Grauman's Theater in a body Friday night, were made yesterday by wire by Lon J. Haddock, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city. Their principal object is to see Sid Grauman's fashion revue of beautiful children, in which many Ocean Park beauties of tomorrow, as well as a number of Los Angeles' fairest little maids, will take part.

Doris May to Wed.

It won't be very many more days that you will have a chance to address Doris May, picture player, as "Miss May." Almost as soon as ever she returns from New York, she will become Mrs. Wallace MacDonald, according to her statement of yesterday.

Clara Kimball Young Flits.

Clara Kimball Young was one of the company which Charlie Pike personally conducted East yesterday for the Salt Lake Railroad Company. Miss Young is to step off in New Orleans to make a personal appearance in connection with one of her latest pictures. She will tour the South with the film.

Others in the Pike company were the Tourneur players, and Max Fisher's jazz band, which is to work in a New York Ziegfeld roof show.

Universal Picnic.

More than 3000 local men and women, all of them concerned in the making of pictures at Universal City, yesterday assembled on the Universal Santa Susana ranch for the first annual picnic and barbecue of the Universal "family."

Dancing to jazz music, barbecued meals, boxing, wrestling and interstudio athletic contests were features of the day.

Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, was the host, with R. H. Cochrane, vice-president; Abraham Stern, treasurer, and Irving G. Thalberg, general manager.

Among the celebrities of the film world who were present were Priscilla Dean, Eric Von Stroheim and Mrs. Von Stroheim, Edith Roberts, Gladys Walton, Harry Carey, Frank Mayo, Dagmar Godowsky, Reeves Eason and his talented family, consisting of Jimmy May and Breezy Eason, Jr.; Jack Perrin, Hoot Gibson, William Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Hubbard, Eileen Sedgwick, Art Acord, William Lord Wright, Charles Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Tod Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Paton, Carmel Myers, King Baggot, Eddie Polo, J. P. McGowan, Harry B. Harris and others.

Here's a Fetching Poster Girl.

Alice Terry and Ralph Barton.

Miss Terry, who appears in the feminine lead in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at the Mission, has been posing for a series of art drawings by Mr. Barton at the Metro studio. We judge from their smiles that both Barton and Alice have a sense of humor.

REVIEWS.

FARCE AND FASHION.

ARBUCKLE AND BRILLIANT BABY SHOW AT GRAUMAN'S.

By Antony Anderson.

Clever farce shares honors with coy fashion at Grauman's this week. Each happens to be the ne-plus of its kind, for Fatty Arbuckle scatters the fun in "The Dollar a Year Man" and the prettiest little girls to be found in Los Angeles and Ocean Park dance, pirouette and do a cakewalk, while gowned scantily and expensively in raiment of wonderful hues and dainty make, their dazzling contribution, being called "Mardi Gras and Children's Fashion Show."

Shall we mention the farce or the fashions first? Here's a penny, Heads—that is, fashions, have it.

Not being versed in silks, satins, tulles, laces and all the other feminine fixings, the deponent cannot say what the delicious little maidens, all as round and bloomy and dimpled as the sunkissed peaches of Southern California—which is what they really are, you know—he cannot say what they had on, but he can tell you that they were very sweet to look upon, and that they acted their parts with an airy grace that was delicious. In straightforward English, they were all to the good, from clever little Dorothy Warren, who composed and delivered the introductory poem, to the last and smallest maid of all, who whisked from our view a sweeping train, shimmering like cloth-of-gold, when the charming spectacle was over.

Arbuckle's comedy or farce—call it what you will—was written by Walter Woods, and is an amusing take-off on the methods of an amateur detective, an ex-dollar-a-year man, a fat veteran of the late war. In G. Washington Looney, a laundry man whose secret of success was the perfuming of the nighties and socks that came to his tubs, Arbuckle has a role very much to his taste in comedy, and he handles it with his usual lumbering grace. Also with his usual intelligent acting. Enough said.

"The Dollar a Year Man" really has a plot, it's a thriller and a surpriser, and the thrills and the surprises alternate with the laughs in rapid-fire succession. It bristles with ghosts, detectives, Bolsheviks, kidnapers and visiting princes, and stops with a tear and a smile, the tear and the smile being yours as well as Roscoe's.

The support is excellent, beginning with Lila Lee, who does her very best and prettiest as Peggy Bruce, continuing with Winifred Greenwood, J. M. Dumont, Edward Sutherland and Edwin Stevens, and ending with Henry Johnson, who's a doughty general in the young prince's service.

JUSTINE JOHNSTONE IS STAR AT CLUNE'S.

And now we have the soul stuff at Clune's Broadway. Last week it was the rippling comedy of Wanda Hawley in a college story; this week it is the sighing near-emotionalism of Justine Johnstone in a naughty tale of Wall-street brokers and a dancing girl. Thus turns the colorful kaleidoscope of the cinema, and generally remains as remote from life as if all the pictures were made in the moon. And thus it is that we alternate between hope and fear for the future of the motion-picture art, and finally take our roost on fear.

We are, no doubt, a nation of sentimentalists. In spite of the impossible badness of certain heroines in pictures, we believe firmly in their equally impossible goodness. In art we flout life, just as in life we flout art.

Lola, in "The Plaything of Broadway," makes a bet with the hilarious members of the Thirty Club, before whom she has been dancing at 3 a.m. that she will successfully vamp a certain austere physician, a worker in the slums. The stakes are $10,000. (The conversation of the clubmen of the world reads like excerpts from a book of etiquette written for Podunk.)

After much effort the lovely Lola succeeds, but her triumph is dearly bought, for she loses her heart to the M.D. and becomes very noble. So noble, that her old life, which didn't look particularly shocking in the pictures, becomes distasteful to her and she turns to slum-work.

A Sunday-school story for the grown-ups—that's what "The Plaything of Broadway" is, with a moral 'n everything, and with lots of tears and sobs and strained, pleading looks, but without a touch of human nature in a single picture or a single title. Pabulum for babes of mature years, and decidedly without nourishment at that.

Ladies and gents, all ye writers of scenarios, and all ye directors of the same, give us a few genuine slices from life, for heaven's sake! Most of the stuff you ladle out to us is sickening—and may prove fatal to everybody concerned.

There is no reality about "The Plaything of Broadway," but Justine Johnstone, being very beautiful, does considerable with the role of Lola, and Crauford Kent, being a good actor, does not quite fall down as Dr. Jennings. The same things may be said of the other capable men and women in the photoplay.

An amusing little comedy, "Dummy Love," is also on the bill at Clune's, and eke a good soprano songster.

Baby Doll Show.

The title "Sweet Sweeties" must be some sort of indirect reference to the Baby Dolls this week at the Burbank. It has nothing else in particular to do with the show, which trots along in approved near-revue manner.

Manny King, the Hebrew comedian, keeps his audience cheerful with his brusque fun-making style and his rather clever impersonations. King is a good merry-maker, and receives satisfactory aid from Rookie Lewis, Irene Brooks, Dick O'Donnell, the Burbank Trio, Violet Mansfield, Nan Keyes and Billy Riddle.

Several new song numbers are introduced and there is plenty of diverting dancing.

At Stock Theaters.

Attractions at the stock theaters still are drawing large audiences. "Daddies" is running along merrily at the Morosco Theater, while "39 East" is highly successful in its third week at the Majestic. Both plays are refreshing and well cast.

"Four Horsemen."

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" is reigning as a highly-favored attraction. The picture has already been running for several weeks, and continues to draw crowded houses.

Whitman Club Benefit.

For the benefit of the Walt Whitman school, a concert was given Sunday at the Auditorium by the Whitman Club, with several assisting musicians. The audience, which was of good size, enjoyed the diversified program. Dr. Ray Hastings, organist, played three numbers from the classics, Beethoven, Handel and Schubert. The Largo was especially well done.

The Trio Intime—Jay Plowe, flutist, Ilya Bronson, 'cellist, and Alfred Kastner, harpist—was heard in Sandby's Norwegian Spring Dance, Grandval's Valse Melancholique and a Pavane of Fonthonne. The unusual combination of instruments added to the musical luster.

Mrs. Norman Hassler, a soprano of good production and powerful voice, sang in place of Ruth Hutchinson. "Welcome, Sweet Wind," from the "Morning of the Year," by Charles Cadman, was her choice. The Jamison Quartet, Mrs. Norman Hassler, Hazel Anderson, Edna Vorhees and Daisy Prideaux, gave a group of songs, which included "Rose of the North," by Abbie Jamison. The Maynya Rudina Dancers provided several very charming numbers.

Coloratura in Recital.

Mme. Jorgina, coloratura soprano, was heard in concert last Saturday evening at Trinity Auditorium. She was assisted by Grace Kinck, harpist, and Mrs. Hennion Robinson, pianiste.

Mme. Jorgina sang several operatic arias and a group of bird songs.

Sea Yarn on Screen.

"Half a Chance," which is shown this week at the Broadway Pantages, is a regular "he-man" story of the underdog who fought his way clear to the top, and helped others to rise with him. It is adapted from Frederic Isham's novel of the same title, concerning which it may be said that the novel has the virility and dramatic appeal of Jack London or Rex Beach.

Mahlon Hamilton, playing the lead, gives a powerful presentation of the castaway who makes himself into a man by sheer force of physical dominance and will power. He portrays Sailor Burke, an ex-fighter who suffers disaster through his escapes from his guards while on the way to prison for a murder of which he has been convicted, but is innocent. Burke ships as a sailor, is wrecked, and in the isolation of a lonely island, comes to himself. He returns to civilization—and proves that life is what we make it. Lillian Rich appears pleasingly in the stellar female role, as the girl rescued from the wreck by Burke, whom he afterward weds.

Bob Albright's revue this week is as good in its way as the feature film. "All Right Marie" gives Henry Sherr plenty of chances for his special brand of funmaking. There are numerous song hits, some very clever dances and a number of delightful stage pictures to which the brilliantly clad chorus and Minor Reed's futurist stage settings contribute equally. Bob Albright himself gives the audience an unusual treat with new songs.

HART PICTURE AT THE GARRICK.

One is William S. Hart's picture, "O'Malley of the Mounted," and Keaton's "The Haunted House," will show this week at the Garrick Theater. It is declared Keaton's ghost story is unusual. It is based on common superstitions, and is replete with new devices calculated to produce plenty of laughter.

Hart's story is typical of this western star, showing him in the character of a Canadian mounted police agent; the film is attractive scenically, with its broad vistas of the outdoors.

DOESN'T LIKE BEING SAVED.

While Barbara Bedford, who plays the ingenue lead in "The Unfoldment," has been rescued numerous times by the hero for the sake of the screen drama, she does not think much of a rescue in real life. She was playing a love scene opposite Raymond Cannon, the juvenile lead, the staging being on a big rock off the mainland at Point Firmin near San Pedro with the waves as a background. The tide came in and washed Miss Bedford off the rock. Cannon reached under and pulled her out. Miss Bedford said a real rescue is terrible for the make-up and does not like it a bit.

NEW RINEHART STORY.

"The Glorious Fool," an original screen story by Mary Roberts Rinehart, will soon go into production at the Goldwyn studio under the direction of E. Mason Hopper. J. G. Hawks, Goldwyn managing editor, is writing the continuity. Mr. Hopper recently finished the direction of "Look Before You Leap," the screen version of Thompson Buchanan's stage play, "The Bridal Path."

LOUISE GLAUM LEAD.

...Security Owners Meet with the Brotherhoods.

...believe Practical Solution Can be Found.

...nference is Not Ready to Make Plan Known.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 4.—The National Association of Owners of ...road Securities, in co-operation ... representatives of the "Big ..." railroad brotherhoods and ... crafts and telegraphers, today ... days to bring an adjustment ... the railroad situation, which was ...ured to be "destructive and im...."

After an all-day conference, S. ...e Warfield, president of the as...ation, and Warren S. Stone, ...d chief of the Brotherhood of ...motive Engineers, said both ... feel convinced that a solution ... practicable, and through proper ...ervation there should be avoided ...y further substantial delay in ad...ing this situation."

It is understood that the labor ... were favorable to the "War...." plan of railroad control, pro... by the Security Owners' As...ation. This plan, submitted by ... Harbord to the Interstate Com... Commission, provides for a ... railway service division of ... commission and four regional ...ior boards to supervise the man...agement and operation of the railroad system.

"It is designed to co-ordinate facilities and bring about greater efficiency and economy in railroad management and operation.

The statement said that the conference "did not deal in detail with wages and working conditions," but it was learned that the railroad workers representatives made it plain that the adjustment of the situation could not be made at their sole expense, especially if the proposals were not accompanied by comprehensive methods that will lead to general economics in railroad management and operation.

IN POSITION TO ACT.

Asked as to how it was proposed to force railroad executives to recognize any plan proposed by the conference, representatives of the railroad security owners, who claim to hold $12,000,000,000 worth of railroad securities, said:

"We have decided to bring about a solution and while not ready to make known our plan, we are in a position to act. It must be remembered that $350,000,000 worth of railroad securities mature this year and that practically none of the roads is making sufficient revenue to meet their fixed charges."

William Johnston, international president of the International Association of Machinists, declared while some plan might temporarily avert a crisis now, the only permanent solution was government control of the roads.

BREAK FROM UNIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, April 4.—What is said to be the first break from the national agreement by national union labor leaders and the first step toward direct negotiation with the railroads on proposed wage reductions occurred today at a conference between representatives of 450 clerks employed in the New York Central's clearinghouse accounting bureau and General Manager A. S. Ingalls of the New York Central Lines.

Mr. Ingalls said he accepted a proposition submitted by those attending the conference that when the company finds it necessary to reduce wages it make the revision "along proper lines of business practice." Readjustment of the salaries will be held in abeyance until the labor board decides wage reductions involving similar employees in other branches of the service, he said.

W. J. Winston, general chairman of the railway clerks' system of adjustment for the road, denied that employees attending the conference were members of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

WRIT OF MANDAMUS GIVEN TO RANCHERS.

KERN COUNTY RECLAMATION NEW RULING FAVORS MILLER & LUX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The Supreme Court today ordered that the request of Miller & Lux for a writ of mandamus to compel the Kern county Supervisors to take action on a petition for the formation of a reclamation district of 32,000 acres be argued on its merits May 2.

A demurrer of the Board of Supervisors was overruled by the court after counsel for Miller & Lux introduced affidavits declaring that the board had delayed taking action and then sent one of its members to Sacramento to urge the Legislature to change the reclamation district law so action on the petition would not be necessary.

ASKS BAN ON LUXURIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OTTAWA, April 4.—The council of the Ottawa Board of Trade today adopted a resolution recommending that until the rate of exchange between Canada and the United States gets back to normal, citizens of Canada be urged to deny themselves luxuries imported from the United States.

POMONA VOTES "BLUE" SUNDAY.

Closing Ordinance Adopted by Narrow Margin.

Bitter Fight Draws Throng to Streets All Day.

by both factions rapidly developed into a controversy that aroused national interest. The election day was preceded by days of enthusiastic demonstrations, mass meetings, parades and street-corner brawls, which often necessitated interference by the police officials.

Following the final count late tonight the forces supporting the motion-picture industry, headed by Harry Arthur, Jr., president of the American League of Freedom, declared that if the courts fail to establish the unconstitutionality of the blue law, then all the Pomona theaters will close their doors not only on Sunday but on all days of the week.

"We have no intention of closing the theaters on Sunday," said Mr. Arthur, who is also general manager of the Sol Lesser and Gore Brothers theater enterprises, which own two of Pomona's three theaters. "If we do close on Sunday, we will close on seven days in the week.

"In behalf of the American League of Freedom, I wish to thank those who voted against this measure. We faced big odds, but unfortunately a large number of our supporters had not registered. The large vote is undoubtedly a victory in itself inasmuch as we were battling for liberty and freedom in one of the strongest church cities in the West.

SORRY FOR SOME MOVES.

"We harbor no animosity against the churches, but do deplore the tactics used during the campaign by a small majority of the preachers."

The closing ordinance will go into effect thirty days from next Monday, when the vote will be canvassed by the City Council. As soon as it becomes effective, Mr. Arthur stated, a writ of injunction will be sought in an endeavor to establish the act as unconstitutional.

Members of the reform element, which supported the passage of the blue law, were jubilant over their victory tonight. The laundry whistle blew a twenty-minute blast, and scores of automobiles with flares and banners passed through the downtown streets.

"The victory attained by the Civic Betterment League," said George T. Liddle, president of the league, "is a mighty protest against the out-of-town forces, which have so brazenly endeavored to force their low standard of morality upon our people. The league's work will not stop until the ideal for which we stand is realized during the other six days of the week.

NOMINEES PLEDGED.

"We printed the signed statements of the two nominees for Mayor that if elected they would see to it that such would be the case and the Civic Betterment League will not lay aside its labors until this is an accomplished fact. The officers of the league heartily thank all those who have so unceasingly worked for the passage of the ordinance."

In adopting the ordinance Pomona has lost a handsome new theater building, for which plans were being rushed when the "blue fight" opened. Mr. Arthur stated that his company was prepared to build a new theater building with a seating capacity of 1800 persons, but that the Sunday-closing ordinance will make it impossible to operate on a six-day basis.

The Pomona blue law fight opened several weeks ago when a wandering evangelist opened a campaign at the First Christian Church against the exhibiting of motion pictures on Sunday. The fight against the three little theaters became so intense that the allied motion picture interests took up the cause and opened large headquarters in Pomona. Though the ordinance forces all places of amusement, conducted by paid admissions, to close on Sunday, the fight was centered against the motion picture theaters, which the reform element charged were demoralizing the boys and girls of the town. Despite the fact that Pomona has thirty-three churches, as compared to the three theaters, many ministers arrayed themselves against the passage of the ordinance and openly assailed the Civic Betterment League from the pulpit.

AUTHORS AND STARS AIDED.

Others who appeared at the huge mass meetings conducted by the theatergoers, were such nationally known persons as Rupert Hughes, Gouvenour Morris and many notable motion-picture stars.

Today's election was the cause of many heated demonstrations and a few fist fights on the downtown streets. Crowds congregated on the business corners. Self-appointed lecturers delegated themselves to oppose or defend the Sunday closing ordinance, their small groups of eager listeners expanded to large crowds which eventually were dispersed by the police to avoid serious complications.

The motion-picture industry, represented by officials from every large film producing company in Southern California, made an early entry into Pomona. A caravan of half a hundred automobiles, conspicuously adorned by flaring banners and mottoes painted on the cars, began to arrive at daybreak and when the polls opened at 7 a.m., they began transporting voters to the polls.

MOTOR PARADE.

Automobiles and election workers were not so conspicuous in the camp of the advocates of the closing ordinance. A few "Blue Law" automobiles passed along the streets, but these were adorned only by the slogan "Votes Yes." On the automobiles furnished by the motion-picture industry such phrases as "Keep the Moan Out of Pomona," "Keep the Sun in Sunday," and "Vote No, by Heck," were flaunted in the faces of the voters. These cars continually paraded between the residential sections and the polling places.

At the headquarters of the Civic Betterment League, sponsors of the proposed "Blue Law," and at the headquarters of the American League for Freedom, the organization opposing the closing ordinance, a corps of telephone girls were kept busy taking orders for cars to convey voters to the polls. From many districts came requests for enough cars to transport twenty or thirty voters.

Persons who had never cast a vote in Pomona appeared at the eight polling places. From the hospitals, ambulances conveyed cripples and the blind, bedridden patients who were carried into the polling booths on stretchers. In many places, where the afflicted voters could not leave their beds, judges were taken to receive votes.

On the business corners, the demonstrations were not as prominent as those that had been staged during the last week. But, nevertheless, from the bitter feeling that existed between the two rival factions—the reformers and the enemies of "Blue Law" legislation—it was evident that bonds of long-standing friendships had been broken by the issue. Families also were divided on the issue, the younger generation displaying tendencies of supporting the opponents of the "Blue Laws" and older members of the families often favoring the closing of the theaters on Sunday.

To the MOTHERS and CHILDREN of LOS ANGELES

There is bitter want in Ireland. The WOMEN and CHILDREN are suffering. Little boys and girls, literally by tens of thousands, come to the places where food is given once a day—ONLY ONCE — to get a piece of dry bread and a cup of cocoa, made without milk or sugar. They are thin and haggard. The faces of many of them are blotched with the sores that come when there is not enough food. ONCE A DAY these children are fed—and then they go home—where THERE IS NO FOOD—for another day.

We want to give these little children more food. We want to provide doctors and nurses to make them well and strong again. Do YOU want to help us? The money which buys ONE SCANT MEAL A DAY comes from this fund we are raising in the United States. Make it TWO meals.

In the homes from which these ragged, starving, cold, wasted little children come for their one meal are the MOTHERS. Like all mothers, they have felt that if the children were fed it was too much to ask that they come, too. So they sit at home—many of them have no homes, because their homes have been burned, and they sit by the wayside—hungry, cold, waiting.

FIVE OR TEN DOLLARS Mothers! Will you give us five or ten dollars for the Mothers of Ireland? Scant a few meals. Forego a few luxuries. Let your family join in this sacrifice. Help us send to Ireland what will be the means of life and health itself to mothers and their babies.

CHILDREN—A DOLLAR Will you give us ONE DOLLAR for each of your children? That dollar will double an Irish child's rations for ten days.

NON POLITICAL—NON SECTARIAN—This Fund is being disbursed in Ireland by Quakers, on a purely humanitarian basis. The work knows no political questions. Its sole object is the relief of distress. Endorsed by Warren G. Harding, President of the United States; Secretary Herbert H. Hoover; Ex-Secretary Franklin K. Lane; Ex-Secretary W. G. McAdoo. And every cent contributed goes directly and immediately to Ireland. No deductions for "expenses."

LITTLE FIGHTING AROUND GALWAY

Western Counties in Fairly Peaceful Condition.

Military Forces Are Much in Evidence.

All Strangers Run Gamut of Secret Service Men.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

GALWAY, March 17.—In comparison with Cork and other southern counties where the operations of the Irish Republican Army are most vigorously carried on, Galway is a fairly peaceful spot. This is true also of Mayo and the west generally, but nowhere in Ireland are the forces of the British crown more in evidence and more active than in this city.

One looks from Galway harbor straight out to the Atlantic. It is the nearest European port to the United States and some day, hopeful citizens will tell you, liners from New York will dock here. In anticipation of that eagerly-awaited event, Galway some years ago built one of the biggest hotels in Ireland.

SHELTERS MILITARY.

It is now being used as quarters for military officers, only one floor being reserved for civilian trade. The stranger-arriving at Galway enters this hotel at the railway station, running the gamut of secret service agents who inspect arriving and departing trains and scrutinize with great care every person on the platform.

The hotel is barricaded with barbed wire like a barrack, and as the guest mounts the stairway to his room he is stopped by a sentry who examines his luggage. But all this espionage is the usual thing one encounters throughout Ireland.

Sinn Feiners in Galway explain why the district is quiet. The chief reason, they say, is that the people have been living in a state of semi-poverty for so many years that they are easily cowed by repressive measures. Second, having lacked educational facilities, the young manhood of the country doesn't develop leaders of the ability required to carry out the work of the Irish Republican Army. Third, the topography of the country is unsuited for guerilla warfare.

ROCKS AND BOGS.

Most of the roads radiating from Galway traverse a flat desolate country whose main features are rocks and bogs. The roads are like bridges built over a marsh, and if the pedestrian leaves them he finds himself floundering ankle-deep in a bog. Such terrain is useless for ambushes.

Outside of Dublin, newspaper correspondents usually have difficulty in seeking high police officials. But Richard Cruise, district commissioner of police here, has a cheery welcome for them. At the railway station the correspondent encountered half a dozen young London ex-soldiers, cockneys all, going home to "Blighty" after a year's service. One said he had been stationed for three months in Connemara, resting from strenuous duty in the Dublin district. All was peaceful, he said, in Connemara.

FOREST AIR PATROL.

Plans to Begin Duty over National Reserves Next Month.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, April 4. — Comprehensive plans for the aerial patrol of national forests in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and California will be put into effect on May 1, when flyers from the Ninth and Ninety-first Aero Squadrons will begin daily trips over the forests, according to announcement made today by Maj. S. W. Fitzgerald, commander of Rockwell Field. He received orders today to ship twenty more DeHaviland airplanes from Rockwell Field to Mather Field, Sacramento, for use of the forestry patrol.

Maj. Atkinson, commanding at Mather Field, will have charge of the patrol work in the northern part of the State. The entire work, however, will be under supervision of Maj. Henry H. Arnold, air officer of the Ninth Corps area.

Field bases will be established at Eugene, Or., Red Bluff and Fresno, and probably Walla Walla, Wash.

POULTRYMAN'S BODY NOT YET RECOVERED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PETALUMA, April 4. — Efforts were continued today to recover the body of J. Ray Corliss of Petaluma, president of the Central California Poultrymen's Association, who was drowned in the ocean at Wright's Beach, forty miles from here, while fishing Friday. Corliss was washed from a rock by the surf and disappeared despite efforts of his two companions, Percy and Arthur White, to save him.

SHIPYARDS COMPANY IS ALLOWED APPEAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 4.—Federal Judge Neterer today allowed the appeal of the Sloan Shipyards Corporation to the United States Supreme Court from the decree of dismissal entered by Judge Neterer March 20 of the corporation's suit against the Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation to recover $3,200,000 alleged due on war-time shipbuilding contracts which were canceled.

MAKE NO AGREEMENT AT WAGE CONFERENCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) April 4.—The conference of officials and employees of the Forth Worth and Denver Railroad here, which was held today, adjourned without reaching an agreement on wage reductions.

The men asked more time for additional investigation, to determine the scale of other wages in the territory adjacent to the Denver system.

BANKERS URGED TO AID THE COTTON GROWERS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Southern bankers were urged by Gov. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board to take the initiative to a greater extent in solving the cotton financing problems of the South. Mr. Harding was one of a number of government officials who addressed a conference of about twenty southern bankers called by the War Finance Corporation to discuss plans for financing the exportation of cotton.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon also addressed the conference, expressing the desire of the administration to assist in working out the financing problems. Mr. Hoover explained that the machinery has been provided in the War Finance Corporation, the Edge law and the Webb-Pomerene law. He said that it should be possible to finance exports by means of an association formed under the Webb-Pomerene Export Trade Act, the Southern Edge Law Export Financing Corporation recently formed at New Orleans and the War Finance Corporation which can make advances to the Edge Law Corporation which in turn can assist the Webb-Pomerene Law Association. During the day the bankers paid a visit to President Harding, who assured them of his desire to co-operate in every way.

Gov. Harding, on several former occasions, has taken the South to task for not being sufficiently self-reliant in working out its problems. Mr. Harding said that the southern bankers should extend credit more freely than in the past to the agricultural producers. He said that there still is too much money tied up in speculative interests.

Several of the bankers expressed the view that there must be a concerted effort to bring about a reduction in production of cotton this year. They said that unless there is a curtailment in the cotton acreage there will be a further drop in prices.

LAST RITES ARE PAID MRS. GEORGE PULLMAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—Chicagoans from all walks of life gathered this afternoon to attend funeral services for Mrs. George M. Pullman.

Burial was at Graceland, beside the body of Mr. Pullman.

Quantities of floral offerings began to arrive early in the morning, and long before noon the great rooms of the brownstone mansion were filled with the flowers sent in respect to its late mistress. Occupying a place of honor among the wreaths, sprays and flower blankets that filled the famed ivory drawing-room was the offering of the Pullman employees, a reproduction of the Monitor, Mrs. Pullman's private car. The Monitor was built shortly after Mr. Pullman invented the Pullman car.

Among relatives from out of the city at the services were: Mr. and Mrs. George Pullman Sawyer of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Pohlman and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanger of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Carolan of New York.

Mrs. Carolan is a daughter. Mrs. Frank O. Lowden and her family and Mrs. Carolan have been stopping at the Pullman home since the arrival of the body from Pasadena, Saturday.

BURGLARS MAKE VALUABLE HAUL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, April 4.—Jewelry, valued in excess of $25,000, was stripped from the showcases and tables of the Shaddow Jewelry Store on Mariposa street here, between 10 o'clock Saturday night and 7 o'clock this morning, according to officials of the firm who discovered the loss this morning.

The loss represents almost one-third of the value of the entire stock of the concern, which was only partially covered by insurance. Police and fingerprint experts are investigating the case.

The burglars showed expert knowledge of jewelry, taking only genuine stones and solid gold articles. Among the jewelry stolen are 672 rings, 170 wrist watches and seventy gold chains.

BANKING IN MEXICO IN BETTER STRAITS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTEREY (Mex.) April 4.—Arrangements are being made by the Mexican government to establish a new national banking system, according to Adolfo de la Huerta, Secretary of the Treasury. He says that his department now has on hand 15,000,000 pesos of gold. The banking situation is improving and the beneficial effects that it is having on business generally are apparent.

Only a few days ago the National Bank of Mexico, which had been suspended for several years, resumed business. On the same day fourteen other banks in different parts of the country opened for business.

SENTENCE OF JUDGE LINDSEY DEFERRED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DENVER, April 4.—Execution of sentence upon Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver's Juvenile Court, growing out of his conviction on charges of contempt of court for refusing to testify to what a ward of his court had told him about a murder, was deferred today until next Saturday.

Judge Lindsey must pay a fine of $500 or go to jail. Today's postponement was caused by the fact that a murder case was on trial in the District Court.

HUGE STOCK DIVIDEND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) April 4.—A stock dividend of 50 per cent, amounting to nearly $900,000, has been declared by the Truscon Steel Company here, it was announced today. In addition a four per cent quarterly dividend was declared on common stock.

LOSES LIFE BY AIDING FRIEND.

Fisherman Rescues Comrade; Dies of Exertion.

Fight for an Hour Trying to Get Back into Boat.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, April 4.—When the battered fishing smack Santa Lucia was towed into San Diego Harbor today there was reported the sensational battle which three fishermen who were aboard that craft had in the mountainous seas which ran off Point Loma in a gale late last night. One of the three, John Zaberlin, lost his life in the fight; another, Joe Vidovitch, is seriously ill as the result of exposure and exhaustion, and the third, Sam Frontera, was severely cut by flying glass.

The Santa Lucia, coming from the fishing grounds off La Jolla, was about a mile from the harbor entrance until it was engulfed in a gigantic wave. The cabin windows were smashed in, showering Frontera, who was at the wheel, with glass. Zaberlin and Vidovitch were washed overboard with nets valued at $3000. These nets were made fast to a bitt on the smack, however, and to that fact and to Zaberlin's work Vidovitch owes his life. Both men caught hold of strands of the net and fought their way, hand over hand, against the tremendous seas for more than an hour. At last Vidovitch became exhausted. Zaberlin carried him on, however, and by a last effort managed to get him aboard the Santa Lucia. Zaberlin then turned and said:

"I have helped you all I can. I am going to die now."

He then fell dead to the deck of the little smack.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANILA (P. I.) April 4. — The United States Shipping Board steamer Alloway, operated by the Pacific Steamship Company, went ashore in Balboa Strait, near the Island of Palawan, about 500 miles southwest of here, according to advices received today. The report of the captain says the vessel is resting easy on a sandy bottom, and in no danger of going to pieces. Navy tugs have gone to the rescue. The Alloway sailed from Cebu yesterday, bound for London, with a cargo of hemp and copra.

The Alloway was built in Oakland at the Moore Shipbuilding yards. The vessel's net tonnage is 4573.

LOCAL LAWYER MUST SPLIT MINE SUIT FEE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—A decision compelling Frank Hereford, a Los Angeles attorney, to acknowledge an agreement with a fellow attorney, E. A. Meserve, in regard to an equal division of fees in certain Arizona mining actions, was handed down today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Hereford was ordered to turn over half of a $5000 fee received recently.

OFFICER RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE DIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Policeman James Kennedy died today, and Policeman John D. Nolan is in a serious condition, as a result of an automobile running over them last night when they stepped off a street car. The machine did not stop after striking them.

Frank Beckler, a furniture worker, is said by police to have admitted that he drove the car. He is in custody.

BRITISH DRINK BILL SHOWS BIG INCREASE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Great Britain's drink bill increased by more than $400,000,000 last year as compared with 1919, says a report to the Department of Commerce from Consul Hunter Sharp at Edinburgh, Scotland. The total amount, estimated at $2,285,795,050, is about 24 per cent less than before the war.

SUGAR FROM MAGUEY PLANT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTEREY (Mex.) April 4.—Manufacturing sugar from the juice of the maguey plant may become a big industry in Mexico as a result of successful experiments that have just been made. The plants have been devoted heretofore to the production of pulque, alcohol and syrup. It is stated that the sugar produced in the experiments was of high grade and that the cost of manufacture is less than that of cane sugar.

TELEGRAPH COMPANY'S INCOME SHOWS GAIN.

WESTERN UNION'S PROFIT AND LOSS SURPLUS IS INCREASED BY $5,968,740.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 3.—Gross operating income of $119,991,825 for 1920 is reported by the Western Union Telegraph Company, an increase of 17 per cent over 1919. Other income made the total $121,473,865.

Operating expenses were $106,836,713, an increase of 20 per cent. The net balance was $12,785,722, while the profit and loss surplus was $40,685,210, an increase of $5,968,740.

Payments of the regular 7 per cent dividend on the stock totaled $6,982,538. There were 23,911 stockholders, an increase of 1248 over 1919. The company controls 526 telegraph corporations and properties.

The report stated government business was handled at $1,900,000 less than cost of operation.

LEAGUE COUNCIL WILL IGNORE BERLIN WHINE.

GERMANY PROTESTS FRENCH TROOPS IN SAAR REGION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

GENEVA, April 4.—The League of Nations Council will apply the same rule to Germany's latest protest against the presence of French military forces in the Saar region as applied to previous protests, it was announced today. Unless some member of the League raises the question, no action will be taken.

French troops in the Saar territory are not considered troops of occupation, but a garrison, officials pointed out. As French interests predominate in exploitation of the mines and factories of the region, the presence of the French garrison, is regarded to be proper as eventual protection in case of trouble.

THIRTY-THREE DIE IN MEXICAN RAIL WRECK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EAGLE PASS (Tex.) April 4.—Thirty-three persons were killed in a collision between a freight and a passenger train on the Mexican National Line at Villa Garcia, between Paredon and Monterey, according to reports here today. The time of the accident was not given. The only identified person killed was Victor Villareal, candidate for Mayor of Piedras Negras, the town opposite Eagle Pass, the report said.

SOVIET PLANS REGIME FOR FACTORY OWNERS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 4.—Measures are being taken by the Russian soviet government to allow foreign owners of factories in Russia to exploit their properties under a regime similar to that established for the mines, it was announced in a wireless message from Moscow sent out by the soviet government's service today.

DENIES HE ASSISTED IN WRECKING BANK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, April 4.—C. H. Owen of Medford, Or., who has been arrested here on a charge of assisting the cashier of a Jacksonville Bank to loot the institution of $21,000, asserted his innocence today.

Owen came here about two months ago and became associated with local interests in the promotion of an oil company. He said he would waive extradition.

MRS. STILLMAN AGAIN WINNER.

Court Battle Ends in Order for Alimony.

Appeal Will be Attempt to Retain Letters.

Banker's Former Secretary is Witness for Wife.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 4. — Mrs. "Fifi" Stillman and her son, Guy, scored in the second legal tussle in court at White Plains today over the $90,000 temporary alimony and $47,500 counsel fees and expenses issue.

Mrs. Stillman, through her attorneys, obtained an order from Justice Morschauser to force James A. Stillman, her multimillionaire husband, to pay immediately two months' alimony, $15,000, and one-third of the counsel fees and expenses, $15,833.33. The rest of the fees and expenses will be paid in installments and temporary alimony of $7500 monthly, in advance.

Justice Morschauser's order today provides the first payments must be made before Mr. Stillman can file his appeal in the Appellate Court in Brooklyn. Mr. Stillman's attorneys announced the notice of appeal would be filed tomorrow and carried to a finish.

WANTS LETTERS IN CASE.

The appeal by Mr. Stillman, who is suing Mrs. Stillman for divorce, is from Justice Morschauser's decision of last Friday, which awarded Mrs. Stillman the $90,000 a year temporary alimony and $47,500 counsel fees and expenses. The appeal, while contesting the large sums of money awarded, will be directed principally towards getting into the records the so-called "confession" letter of Mrs. Stillman to Mr. Stillman, and letters alleged to have been written to her by Fred Beauvais, the Canadian Indian guide, named co-respondent in the divorce suit.

Justice Morschauser ruled Friday that the confession letter is a privileged communication and is not admissible to court records, and that Mr. Stillman would have to find some other way of introducing the Beauvais letters.

Today's court affair came when attorneys for Mrs. Stillman presented an order for the justice to sign enforcing the alimony and counsel fees award. For two hours counsel for both sides wrangled about the wording of the order. Finally a provision was interpreted stating that the justice "had not considered" the rejected evidence (the leters) in arriving at his conclusions.

Mr. Stillman, according to John F. Brennan, of Mrs. Stillman's counsel, has paid no alimony since March 1. He asked for the immediate payment of two months' alimony and the full payment of the other allowances. Outerbridge Horsey, speaking for DeLancey Nicoll, of the banker's counsel, said that, although Mr. Stillman is a rich man, $47,500 was a large sum to be paid on demand without notice.

Counsel for both sides agreed that the papers sealed by Justice Morschauser Saturday, including the letters, should be filed in the Supreme Court at Carmel without being opened and subjected to publicity.

Twelve of the sealed papers, it was learned today, are affidavits made by witnesses for Mrs. Stillman. One is sworn to by Mrs. Estelle Klee, formerly confidential secretary to Mr. Stillman at the National City Bank. Her employment at the bank ceased abruptly, it is understood, shortly after she began aiding Mrs. Stillman. As confidential secretary to the president of the bank she handled much of her employer's mail and has been mentioned among the witnesses considered most valuable to Mrs. Stillman's case.

Among the other witnesses for the banker's wife were Mrs. Sophia Barthoff, formerly maid to Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, the chorus girl in Mr. Stillman's affairs; Frank A. Ivans, superintendent of the East Eighty-sixth-street apartment-house where Mrs. Leeds lived for three years, and where Stillman is said to have been known as "Leeds, of the secret service," and Hannah Johnson, one-time cook for Mrs. Leeds.

The other eight are said to have furnished depositions relating largely to developments in Florida, where Stillman and Mrs. Leeds were said to have been together for a time.

It developed during the hearing today that counsel for Mrs. Stillman intends to apply to Justice Morschauser for a commission to go to Three Rivers, Que., to examine certain witnesses among the camps near the Stillman camp, to try and refute the evidence of the witnesses for Mr. Stillman, who testified of things they alleged to have existed between Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide. When this commission will be granted is not known, but probably before the end of the week.

SUGAR DIVIDEND PASSED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 4.—Directors of the American Beet Sugar Company today passed the quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on common stock, due at this time. High production costs were given as the reason.

RENT HOG BARRIER TO MANY WEDDINGS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—Romance is being knocked out by the rent hog. Ordinarily at this time of the year, the marriage license bureau would be crowded with young couples. Instead there is a marked decrease and officials say it is entirely due to the inability of newlyweds to find any sort of home. Rentals are so high that salaried men cannot undertake the plunge.

Economic conditions are rapidly returning to normal. Men with fair salaries can now buy a handful of groceries, or a new suit of clothes occasionally, but the outrageous rental for any sort of habitation is the great stumbling block.

Figures given out by the marriage license bureau show that the number of licenses issued for the first three months of this year decreased over the corresponding months last year. If the ratio is maintained the records will show a big loss for the year.

AGREE TO ACCEPT WAGE REDUCTION.

COMPANY ASSOCIATION WILLING BUT UNIONIZED CRAFTS TO THINK IT OVER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURG, April 4. — Agreement by the company association of workers to accept "a just and reasonable wage reduction" and decision by representatives of the unionized shop workers to consider the question and answer later was the result of a wage reduction conference here today between the managers' committee of the Pennsylvania Railroad and delegates for the shop crafts.

The company officials proposed wage reductions approximating 22 per cent for the 44,000 shop-crafts employees, which would bring the present rate of 85 cents an hour to 66 cents an hour.

What Is ORANGE PEKOE Tea?

IT has nothing to do with oranges. It is simply an oriental term to denote one of the different gradings of tea. There are three gradings of Orange Pekoe Tea—

Flowery Orange Pekoe — tea of very finest quality
Broken Orange Pekoe — " " " choice "
Orange Pekoe — " " " average "

The first two are very much superior to ordinary Orange Pekoe. Ridgways (Gold Label) Orange Pekoe Tea is composed only of the Flowery and Broken Orange Pekoes—the finest teas procurable.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Business Status Reflected in Barker Statement and Bank Review.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The annual statement of Barker Brothers, Inc., for 1920, made public yesterday, is of peculiar interest in Los Angeles and of unusual comparative value in view of the fact that business interests throughout the world felt so sharply the drop in commodity prices, and the necessary liquidation of the stocks of goods on hand. In the face of this circumstance the achievement of the big home company in earning nearly $1,000,000 net is noteworthy.

Sales for the year were in excess of $11,000,000, which seems to justify the statement that this is one of the largest retail furniture and home furnishing businesses in the United States. Incidentally the report shows that business conditions in Los Angeles are good and that this city is entitled to the spotlight position it occupies as a business and financial center.

Another thing which makes this report of especial interest is the wide distribution through local investors, during the past year, of the concern's 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock, the report showing that every share has today $520 in net assets of which amount $432 consists of net quick assets. Net earnings after all charges and reserves, but before Federal income tax, were $976,819.54.

Of the original issue of $1,000,000 preferred stock brought out by a syndicate headed by Bond & Goodwin & Tucker and Hunter-Dulin Company, 1500 shares out of the 1920 earnings were retired through the operation of the sinking fund, leaving outstanding $850,000 par value. The earnings for 1920 were more than fourteen times dividend requirements on the proferred stock outstanding.

Analysis of the balance sheet of the company for Jan. 31, 1921, and comparison made with the figures for April 30, 1920, shows the total net assets increased during the period from $413 per share to preferred stock to $520 per share, while net quick assets alone increased from $353 per share to $432 per share. In the nine months' period cash on hand was more than doubled; merchandise decreased more than one-third; current liabilities decreased by almost one-half and surplus account increased approximately 17 per cent.

Barker Brothers was founded in Los Angeles forty years ago, with an initial capital of $9000. Its present net worth is over $4,400,000, an accomplishment which reflects considerable credit upon the management of the business which has been in the hands of the Barker family from its inception.

That the fine showing made in 1920 did not end with that year is evidenced by monthly reports in the hands of Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc., who have been identified with the financing of this concern for many years, and which indicate that the first three months of 1921 show a good increase over the corresponding period in 1920, while incomplete figures for March, 1921, also show an excellent advance over March, 1920.

BUSINESS REVIEW.

That the figures quoted above are not an isolated instance, but that Los Angeles' position is really a paramount one is given positive emphasis in the business review for March released last evening by the public service department of the Merchants' National Bank, and which will repay a careful scrutiny and analysis.

Improvement in the general economic situation is indicated by substantial gains in building and bank clearings, two of the high lights in business barometric readings.

Nationally Los Angeles is one of the few centers labeled good, and the stimulus of this condition, it is felt, may tend to somewhat diminish our natural proportion of the depression which has accompanied the period of readjustment. It is the opinion of many that the turn has come, and that April developments will show a decided tendency towards a return to normalcy.

Following is a summary of the bank's review together with comparative tables, including most of the city's vital statistics upon which business diagnosis is made:

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA GAS COMPANY

First and Refunding Mortgage 7% Gold Bonds

Interest payable March 1 and September 1 in Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York without deduction for Federal Normal Income Tax not exceeding 2%. Redeemable at 107½ and accrued interest for the first ten years and 105 and accrued interest thereafter. Exempt from all State and Local Taxation in California. Application will be made to the Superintendent of Banks to certify these bonds as legal investment for savings banks in California. Denominations $1,000 and $500. Union Bank and Trust Co. of Los Angeles, Trustee.

FOR INFORMATION regarding the Southern California Gas Company and this offering of First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, we refer to the letter of Mr. A. B. Macbeth, Vice-president and General Manager of the Company, which we have summarized as follows:

The company serves gas in three counties in Southern California, including 24 cities and towns, prominent among which are the cities of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, a territory having a population of more than 700,000.

The Company owns two modern and efficient plants for the manufacture of gas.

The distribution system of the Company consists of 1029 miles of mains, serving 58,388 domestic and 85 industrial and wholesale consumers.

The bonds will be secured by a direct mortgage on all the property of the Company, and by a deposit with the Trustee of $1,500,000 First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds due November 1, 1950.

The net earnings in 1920 from all sources were 3.26 times the bond interest; from the selling of gas alone, net earnings were 3.08 times bond interest requirements.

A strong sinking fund is provided under the mortgage securing these bonds.

The principal franchises of the Company are perpetual; the remainder extend beyond the maturity of these bonds.

The Company's business is further protected by a contract which gives it first call on all natural gas which may be transmitted to its territory by the Midway Gas Company, the only company now bringing gas to Los Angeles proper.

These Bonds are offered subject to their issue being authorized by the Railroad Commission of the State of California. The papers relating to this issue will be prepared by O'Melveny, Milliken & Tuller, Attorneys, Los Angeles, and approved for us by Jared Hoio, Esquire, of San Francisco.

Price 97 and accrued interest, yielding about 7.25%

Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation

General and Refunding Mortgage 7% Bonds Series "A"

The Company serves Los Angeles and 11 other cities, with an estimated total population of 838,000, with gas, electric light and power. 75% of the gas is supplied to Los Angeles and 100% to adjacent cities. Its business has steadily increased in keeping with the growth and development of this territory.

Actual consumers have increased 12,358 in 1900 to 108,067 in 1910 and 216,550 in 1920. Likewise the amount of gas used by each consumer has increased 26.2% in the past ten years. Net earnings available for interest for 1920 were over five times the bond interest charges.

We recommend these bonds as a sound and profitable investment.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 4. — Regardless of more reassuring nature of domestic advices, the stock market today resumed its reactionary and sluggish course, several leaders breaking into new low ground.

Steels, equipments and related shares yielded to pressure, probably because of an increasing belief that price and wage reductions are inevitable and other stocks of miscellaneous character eased.

Oils, particularly the Mexican group, lacked support. Mexican Petroleum dropped 4 5-8 points to $1.25 3-8, its lowest quotation in more than two years, and others of the same class suffered extreme declines of 1 to nearly 3 points.

A marked change for the better came in the last hour, prices rallying 1 to 2 points as shorts covered on the 4½ per cent call money rate in the open market, although 6 per cent was the lowest rate quoted in exchange. Sales 535,000 shares.

Notwithstanding the British industrial crisis, rates on London were fairly steady and the Paris rate reacted only moderately.

In the dull bond market, changes were mainly downward, Liberty issues moving variably. Pennsylvania Railroad general 4 1-4s made a new low price at 77 1-4. Total sales, par value, $8,250,000.

Placentia-Pacific Oil Company

The same true anticline which gave to Oil its Chapman Gusher apparently runs diagonally from east to west, passing directly through the Placentia Pacific 25¼ acre lease. Yarnell No. 4, the Chapman Gusher with its 1700 barrel daily average, the big wells of the Standard and Union, are typical examples of what may be expected from drilling on this geological wonder formation.

Placentia-Pacific is practically across the street from the Wonder Oil Company, a close corporation controlled by a few men who count their Oil Millions as the ordinary man might consider his hundreds. They thought enough of the Wonder Oil Company lease to pay a They thought enough of the Wonder Oil Company lease to pay a

Men and women who have made the trip to the Placentia-Pacific property have generally become stockholders—simply a suggestion of what YOU will see when you go out there. But the REAL course to follow is to come to our office. see for yourself how really remarkable the Placentia-Pacific proposition is, and then make arrangements to see the well. It's down around 3150 feet.

PRODUCE MARKET FIRM; FEW PRICE CHANGES.

ASPARAGUS CONTINUES WEAK UNDER HEAVY SUPPLY; LETTUCE ADVANCES.

There were very few price changes during the session on the local produce market yesterday. Demand and movement were slow throughout the day, but arrivals were small, and most of the offerings were absorbed at the level of the preceding day. Receipts of Imperial Valley asparagus, however, were very heavy, and the market for this commodity took a sharp slump, selling at 12 to 14 cents per pound. Homegrown stock, which is of very good quality, was firm at 18 to 20 cents per pound. A sharp advance was made by lettuce, the advance being due principally to the upward trend of the shipping market. Fancy lettuce was bringing from $1.85 to $1.90 per field crate yesterday, with demand active at the higher level.

There were practically no earlot sales of potatoes Saturday. The market, however, remained firm. Oregon Burbanks bringing $2.30 per hundred, while the White Rose variety was bringing $2 per sack. According to wire reports from Idaho Falls, the market at shipping points is steady, with continued light shipments to Los Angeles. Lettuce made sharp gains in the shipping market, owing to the scarcity of good stock, and prices both to growers and in carlots were higher. Shippers are paying from $1 to $1.25 per crate, with sales in carlots ranging from $1.85 to $2 per crate, according to quality. The wire inquiry from eastern markets is active, and shippers are anticipating a strong market during the next few days. The movement from the Imperial Valley district now averages about fifteen carloads per day, while the Los Angeles district is shipping about twenty-five carloads daily.

NEARBY BARLEY CLOSES STRONG.

While the trend of the local grain market yesterday was indefinite, with an uncertain undertone prevailing for most of the offerings, there was a firm feeling for most shipments of barley at the close, with some of the offerings showing a sharp gain. Track barley closed 75 cents per ton higher, the transit article was up 25 cents per ton, and ten-day barley showed a gain of 50 cents. The twenty-day delivery, however, was weak and lower, drooping 75 cents during the call. May barley declined 25 cents. The only sales of the session consisted of three cars of No. 2 Soft White Idaho wheat at $2.41 1-4 and $2.40.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW.

first ten years, and at 105 thereafter. The issue matures in March, 1951. The company serves gas to three counties in Southern California, including the cities of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, and Riverside.

The distribution system comprises more hina 1000 miles of mains, and the company serves over 55,000 domestic consumers and fifty-eight industrial consumers. The bonds are to be secured by a direct mortgage on all of the properties of the company, and by the deposit with the trustee of $1,500,000 first mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds. Net earnings during the past year amounted to more than three times the annual bond interest requirements. The bonds will be sold at 97, to yield about 7.25 per cent to the purchaser.

FEDERAL RESERVE REPORT.

Comparative statement of condition of the Federal Reserve Bank for the Twelfth District at the close of business, April 1, shows gold reserves of $186,764,000, a trifle more than $4,000,000 less than for the preceding week when the total was $190,930,000. For the corresponding week in 1920 it was $152,455,000.

Other totals included in the statement are: Bills on hand,, $178,407,000; earning assets, $190,986; total resources, $419,730,000. This compares with $428,774,000 for the preceding week and $404,011,000 in 1920. Government deposits $6,232,000; due to members on reserve account, $108,118,000; Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation, $231,853,000 comparing with $232,532,000 the preceding week and $122,586,000 in 1920. Discount rates unchanged at 6 per cent on all classes of paper.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

The week opened with activity on the mining side and throughout the day there was a brisk exchange of stock. Operators were imbued with a belief that better days are in store for the mines, and that the new Congress is very likely to pass a subsidy bill which will warrant a renewal of development.

Gold Ore, where work is being rushed on a cross-cut which is expected to intercept the main ore body within a few days, was especially active at 4¼ cents, a half point above Saturday's close. Fifteen thousand shares of Virginia Louise went over at an average price of 24 cents. United Eastern at 2.75; United American at 34 cents and Tom Reed at 1.10 were all active.

The oils were by no means neglected. General Petroleum was steady at 120.00. Republic Petroleum sold off half a point to 33½ cents, and Delaware Union was a trifle weaker than last week, several small lots going over at 19.87½, closing at 19.75 bid. Union of California was firm and in fair demand at 155.00. Several of the smaller issues were represented in the trading at prices indicating a firm undertone.

Such industrials as were in demand were fractionally stronger. California Edison selling at 93.75; Goodyear Textile at 52.50; Goodyear preferred 53.00; Los Angeles Investment, 84 cents; Home Service, 30.00. The bond market was of small volume and without price changes of importance.

UNION GETS BIG WELL.

Word was received at the offices of the Union Oil Company of California yesterday afternoon that well 208 in the Amatlan (Mexico) field came in at 5 p.m., April 2, under a 400-pound gas pressure and is flowing at the rate of 40,000 barrels a day.

UNITED OIL DIVIDEND.

Books of the United Oil Company close today preparatory to paying its regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on April 15.

Heed the Advice of the Following Banks:

In these readjustment days, sound business counsel can be as helpful as financial assistance. Read what these representative banks say about that great protective service for safeguarding your finances: Credit Insurance.

A Leading National Bank of Detroit says:
"On the part of this bank's customers there has been an increasing interest in Credit Insurance. Bankers cannot help but look with favor upon this protection of which their borrowers are availing themselves. Just now, with shrinking values, Credit Insurance seems more desirable than ever."

A Commercial Bank of Cincinnati writes:
"Under the present business conditions, I would consider this insurance more advantageous than any other time in the history of the country. I candidly think that everyone engaged in extending credits should protect themselves with a policy in your company."

A Leading Bank of Davenport, Iowa writes:
"In view of the fact that so large a percentage of the general business of the country is done on open book accounts it is very necessary that this part of the business man's assets should be protected in every way possible, and we feel that companies of your kind are doing much to strengthen our business and financial structures."

A Prominent Trust Co. of Albany N. Y. writes:
"We believe it advisable that manufacturers and wholesalers ought to insure their accounts against loss and for their own protection, especially at this time, because of falling prices and the disturbed condition of affairs in the business world."

A Well-Known Banking Firm of Salt Lake City writes:
"Many of the customers of our bank carry credit insurance and think highly of it, and we consistently encourage the securing of this protection by large extenders of credit."

Manufacturers and wholesalers, can you afford not to investigate the American's Unlimited Policy of Credit Insurance, which guarantees to prevent, else pay, bad debt losses beyond the normal? Write or phone for the full particulars today.

IMPORTANT

IT IS AN OPPORTUNITY

You are invited to become a factor in a combination of CALIFORNIA MEN, CALIFORNIA MONEY AND CALIFORNIA BRAINS, to share in the profits of a great CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION.

There is an interest available on a preorganization basis which provides for a substantial interest with a money back feature.

This proposition has particular reference to a manufacturing industry which produces a commodity in international demand and will show tremendous earnings.

An investment of upwards of $5,000.00 is required. The money so secured will be used to assist in financing the completion of the organization.

This is an unusually attractive investment opportunity with every element of safety and profit in its favor entirely out of the ordinary.

If you are in a position to take advantage of this opportune offer and will allow us the privilege to show you the stability and attractive features of it, kindly

CHICAGO PROVISIONS HAVE A WEAK TONE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—A better tone prevailed in wheat which was affected over grains and brought out considerable selling pressure and more substantial buying of the nearby deliveries. The close was at intermediate figures with net gains of 1 cent on May, a shade while July was off 1 cent. Corn finished ¼ to ¼ cent higher, oats up ¾ to ¾ cent, rye unchanged to ¼ cent lower, and lard 7½ cents lower for the day.

Provisions had a weak tone and closed with pork off 65 cents, lard 27½ to 47½ cents, and ribs 32½ cents lower for the day.

Export buying of wheat was heavy with 2,000,000 bushels reported sold. The July and May sold at 71 and 71¼ cents over the inside of the day. Buying of May and selling of July depressed the latter, especially at the last.

Corn and oats did better with an advance of over 1 cent on corn from the early break of 60¼, and finished ¼ to ¾ over the final figure, while oats moved up 1½ to 37½, and closed at 37¾ to 37¾. Buying was by the sellers of last week while the early selling at the start moderated. A break was by local interests and was mostly taken back later. Cash demand was slow on domestic account with 57,000 bushels corn and 125,000 bushels oats sold at prices unchanged to 1 cent lower for corn and ½ to 1¼ cents off on oats, with arrivals of 196 cars corn and 100 cars oats. Chicago has 13,414,000 bushels corn and 12,880,000 bushels oats, an increase of 426,000 bushels corn and a decrease of 635,000 bushels oats. Damage reports are coming on oats from Central Illinois and of some plowing up in Oklahoma owing to green bug, but only affect the shorts.

AN OPENING DECLINE OF 6 TO 18 POINTS.

COTTON MARKET BREAKS UNDER INCREASED LIVERPOOL SELLING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 4.—An opening decline of 6 to 18 points in the New York cotton market today was only a partial response to the weak Liverpool selling on the unfavorable news from abroad was checked by a hope that the conference between the war finance corporation and southern bankers today would result in export assistance. The market broke under increased Liverpool selling. There was also some southern selling on the decline to 11.46 for May and 11.99 for July, or about 20 to 25 points net lower.

NEW CATALINA BOAT.

Keel is Laid for Fastest Vessel of Magic Island Fleet.

The keel was laid yesterday for the Betty-O, the latest addition to William Wrigley's fleet of vessels used in Catalina Island service. The Betty-O is being built by Capt. William Muller at Wilmington and will be the fastest vessel Mr. Wrigley will have in operation at the Magic Isle. Built essentially for speed, the Betty-O will be 100 feet in length with a twenty-five-foot beam and equipped with two 250-horsepower engines. The craft will have two decks and carry 200 passengers.

According to the plans being followed by the shipbuilder, the Betty-O will be one of the finest excursion boats on the Pacific Coast. She will be used to carry excursion parties to the isthmus and around Catalina Island. She will have a speed of twenty-five knots an hour. One of the chief features will be a special equipment of powerful searchlights, which will be used in night trips to view the flying fish. It is expected that the boat will be ready for service by June.

HUNGARY CAN NEVER BE REPUBLIC, SAYS HORTHY.

Ruler for Time Has No Political Ambitions; Anxious to Lay Aside Burdens; Pleads for Nation.

BY CHARLES H. GRASTY.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BUDAPEST, April 4.—I had an interview today with Gov. Horthy, whom recent events have brought to the front as one of the most interesting characters in Europe. He assured me that the whole incident of ex-Emperor Charles's return was absolutely at an end. It had not even left a ripple on the surface and the effect has been to get complete consolidation of public opinion behind the present government.

Horthy said—and my own observation confirms him—there is absolute quiet and order in Budapest and Hungary and not even Paris or New York is more orderly.

PLAIN SAILORMAN.

I had a somewhat confused idea of Horthy, vaguely visualizing him as a man who came to the surface in the recent upheavals of Hungary. I found, instead, the most perfect picture of a sailorman that I had ever seen.

He's a good deal like Admiral Beatty only much younger looking. He's 52, but looks ten or fifteen years younger. Character is written all over his face. He has a square jaw and chin; well chiseled features; soft brown eyes and a well-shaped head. He's erect and active and speaks English. He started out by speaking of internal difficulties in Hungary, which are very great. But he immediately added that Hungary did not propose to unload her troubles on other people.

"We will work it out," he said, and he repeated these words three or four times. He asked for a chance for Hungary but not to have her demoralized and spoiled by outside assistance.

IMPOSSIBLE SITUATION.

"The boundaries fixed for Hungary give us an almost impossible situation," he said. "Rivers flow through Budapest, which is naturally the center for trade. Owing to arbitrary fixing of boundaries without regard to industrial and trade necessities we have an uphill job in maintaining ourselves. Furthermore, we were set within such narrow limits that the farmer is often obliged to get passports in order to reach his stable across the frontier. Beets are grown in Hungary, but sugar factories are in Austria. We haven't wood enough in the country to make coffins for us when we die.

"We lack mineral resources and have to get coal from Upper Silesia. This may seem a gloomy picture, but we are going to work it out."

IN TRYING POSITION.

The Governor dwelt only very lightly on the King Charles episode. It had evidently however, been an extremely difficult position for him, for it must be remembered that Admiral Horthy was jumped over many other naval officers and appointed head of the Austrian navy by Emperor Charles. His record in handling the Adriatic mutiny, which he quelled by shooting the mutineers, and his general merit as an officer entitled him to his promotion. But, at the same time, Charles was King at that period. When I asked him whether it would not be logical for him to hold the reins of power, he brushed all possibility aside.

"The happiest day of my life," he said, "will be when I get up out of this chaos and go back home. I have been brought up in naval surroundings as well as military and I have no fancy for the game of politics.

HAS NO AMBITIONS.

"I'm here to serve my country in time of need, but I've no political ambitions, whatever. Besides, you must remember that a republican Hungary is not possible. In the first place, the Hungarian mind has become habituated to the monarchy, and as a matter of fact this form of government suits our people better and we would never go through an election every four years as you do without agitation and excitement which would result in great harm. Upstairs in an iron room are the crown and orose of St. Stephen. These are symbols for a government appropriate to Hungary. The chair in which you and I are sitting, this table and all the palace belong to the crown. To the mind of Hungary, authority takes a monarchic form and it does not matter much whose head wears the crown. The people will be less liable to dangerous influence of demagogues. They will be steadiest and do their best work under a monarchy. In due time we will solve our problems and prosper under an ordered but liberal monarchy."

Noisy Welcome for Wenatchee in Puget Sound.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 4.—Scores of whistles of factories and the Puget Sound "mosquito fleet" and thousands of spectators welcomed the Shipping Board steamship Wenatchee, the first of the big new passenger liners to be allocated to the Seattle-Far East service, when the vessel steamed into Elliott Bay late today, completing her maiden voyage from New York.

A delegation of 100 residents of Wenatchee, Wash., and scores from other cities in the State, were among the visitors.

Disobeys Judge, Stops Escaping Robber, Freed.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—Walter Hollinger will be able to take a trip to California with his relatives.

"Is it true you are the man who stopped Clement Lebedis, sentenced from ten years to life, from escaping several days ago?" asked Judge Kersten.

"Yes, sir."

"Didn't I tell you not to assault anyone?"

"But this was an escaping robber."

"That's fine. Your probation is off."

AMERICA REJECTS NATIONS LEAGUE.

END WAR BY CONGRESSIONAL ACTION, VIVIANI, FRENCH ENVOY, IS TOLD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Harding administration intends to terminate the war between the United States and Germany by Congressional resolution, M. Viviani, French envoy extraordinary, is understood to have been informed today at a dinner at the home of Senator McCormick, of Illinois.

The former Premier was also informed, it was said, by Senators present that the program of the administration does not contemplate entrance of the United States into the League of Nations.

Those at the dinner state M. Viviani had been told frankly, it was useless to discuss the possibility of American membership in the League of Nations. Most of the Republican members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Col. George Harvey, prospective Ambassador at the court of St. James, were among those present.

The French envoy, who was accompanied by Ambassador Jusserand was said to have been informed that sentiment of Republican leaders was virtually unanimous for adoption of the Knox separate peace resolution, subject only to possible amendment from its original form, early in the special session of Congress.

COCOS GAIN COURAGE BY EATING MARINES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 4.—Cannibals in Haiti and Santo Domingo, better known as Cocos, or hill tribes believe that if they eat the vital organs of a brave white man they will inherit his qualities of courage. This constant menace is hanging over American marines stationed in those places, according to a letter written by Gen. Lejeune, commandant of the United States Marine Corps, to Mrs. H. L. Adams, president of the United States Marine League of Chicago.

Mrs. Adams in her official capacity plays fairy godmother to the 3744 lonely marines engaged in the desolate and hazardous task of policing these West Indian islands.

The Cocos were brought to the islands from Zululand, Africa, by the French, about a century ago. They make the white man their prey, not through a desire for food, but in celebrating their voodoo rites. Their barbaric feasts are part of their religious ceremonies.

Gen. Lejeune in his letter refers to recent newspaper reports that marines in Haiti had been killed and eaten by cannibals. He says there is considerable foundation for these stories and cites three cases. In two of these cases nothing was ever found of the marines except their bones and parts of their clothing. In the third case a marine sergeant was killed in action and his body was recovered by American forces within a few hours but in the meantime his head and vital organs had been removed. The general says it has never been proved that any of these three men were eaten but reports to that effect have gained extremely wide credence.

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 4.—The State Assembly tonight quashed attempts to unseat Assemblymen Charles Solomon and Samuel Orr, only Socialist members of the lower House.

HOUSE TO RUSH WORK ON FARMERS' TARIFF.

EXPECTED THAT BILL WILL BE PASSED EITHER NEXT TUESDAY OR WEDNESDAY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4. — Quick work will be done in the House in disposing of the agricultural emergency tariff bill next week. Representative Young of North Dakota, who will introduce the bill, announced today that it would be introduced on Monday and reported back from the Ways and Means Committee on the same day. Permission will be asked of the House to file a report at any time prior to midnight on Monday night in order that the bill may be taken up for consideration on the floor of the House on Tuesday. It is expected that the House will pass the bill either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Under the agreement already reached the emergency bill will be presented in exactly the form in which it was vetoed by President Wilson so far as rates of duty are concerned. The only change will be to make the measure effective for a period of six months instead of ten months as provided in the bill as passed at the last session.

No difficulty is anticipated in putting the measure through the House, but the test of the measure will come on the floor of the Senate, where the Democrats will take advantage of every opportunity to discuss it and seek to delay its passage.

SOVIETS AND TURKS MAKE PEACE PACT.

Russia Pledges Aid in Case of Attack by the Allied Powers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4. — Soviet Russia pledges military support to Turkey should the latter government be attacked by the Allied powers or by Greece, according to a summary of the treaty, concluded March 16, received in official circles today.

Turkey promises to refrain from propaganda among the Mohammedans in territory under Bolshevik control and each country agrees to forbid passage of any forces hostile to the other through its territory.

In recognizing abrogation of all former agreements between Russia and Turkey, Russia agrees to remit the Turkish debt to Russia and both promise to abstain from alliances against the government of the other.

In the renouncement by Turkey of the province of Batum, Russia agrees to make of it an autonomous province, but free transit is granted Turkish goods shipped through the province. Russia recognizes Turkish claims to Smyrna and Thrace, and Turkey renounces her claim to Azerbaijan.

While Erivan, Artvan and Kars are recognized as Turkish, the freedom and inheritance of near eastern peoples and their right to determine their form of government are recognized.

Provision is made that the capital of Turkey is to be regarded as Constantinople.

Notorious Union Leader, Brindell, is in Sing Sing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OSSINING (N. Y.) April 4.—Robert P. Brindell, labor leader, convicted of extortion, was transported to Sing Sing prison today to begin a sentence of ten years.

Brindell tonight became convict number 72,328.

For the time being he is a member of what is known as the "awkward squad" and no special duties have been assigned to him.

Brindell, whose annual income was reported in excess of $50,000, had his first taste of prison fare tonight when his meal consisted of prunes, bread and coffee.

SPECIAL SAFEGUARDS IN COIN SHIPMENTS.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT PUTS INTO EFFECT RECENTLY FORMED PLAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4. — Special safeguards around shipments of currency, worked out during the "crime wave" by a committee of two inspectors and one representative of the Postoffice Department are in effect, it was announced today at a conference between Postmaster-General Hays and postmasters from eleven of the larger cities.

The conference heard suggestions from each postmaster present on methods of expediting mail deliveries and improving the service. Much stress was laid on the results which would accrue through closer co-operation by the organizations of the employees and Postmaster-General Hays announced that with the approval of President Harding, a welfare branch would be created.

Recommendation that some change be made so as to open to all the $2100 and not confine it to those $2100 and not confine it to those with distributing experience was made.

H. H. Billany, the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, was instructed by Mr. Hays to ascertain why postmasters were not allowed to select the rural carriers as they do the city carriers the former at present being appointed by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General here.

Some method of handling more expeditiously special parcel post packages was gone into. Other matters suggested were transferring custody of postoffice buildings from the Treasury to the Postoffice Department and methods for securing co-operation of the public.

FRANCE DEALS BLOW AT GERMAN TRADE.

HIGH TARIFF WILL KILL OFF IMPORTATIONS; MILLERAND SIGNS DECREE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, April 4.—Quietly and unostentatiously, France has just delivered a staggering blow against Germany. Its effect upon the whole occupied area in particular can hardly be estimated.

On Friday President Millerand, in the midst of a week-end holiday party, signed a decree increasing the tariff by 100 to 300 per cent on virtually all manufactured goods imported from Germany to "protect French industry from the competition of countries with depreciated currency." The tariff covers everything from toys to chemicals; from automobiles to matches.

The decree says the law does not apply to what is called the "minimum tariff," and it is here the real significance of the action comes in.

The minimum tariff is applied to nations giving France preferential treatment. These are all the European nations except the late enemies of France and Poland and Czecho-Slovakia.

The effect will be to kill importation of manufactured goods from Germany which reached a high figure last year and has been steadily increasing.

ASKS INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED PEONAGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Investigation by the Department of Justice of alleged negro peonage in Jasper county Georgia and other sections of the South, was urged upon President Harding today by J. W. Johnson, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

GIVE PROTECTION POLICY.

State Jap Exclusion League Urges Absolute Stop in Immigration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The Japanese Exclusion League of California has outlined a declaration of policy for protection of American interests in connection with the subject of Japanese immigration and will urge action by the new Federal administration in accordance with such a policy, it was announced here today. The principles outlined by the league have been formally indorsed by the affiliated organizations—the Los Angeles County Anti-Asiatic Association and the Japanese Exclusion League of Washington.

The representative of the California League, V. S. McClatchy, left tonight for Washington, D. C., to present the matter to the State Department and to Congress.

The four points of the league's declaration of policy are:

First: Absolute exclusion for the future of all Japanese immigration, not only male but female, and not only laborers, skilled and unskilled, but "farmers" and men of small trades and professions, as recommended by Theodore Roosevelt.

TEMPORARY RESIDENCE.

Permission for temporary residence only for tourists, students, artists, commercial men, teachers, etc.

Second: Such exclusion to be enforced by United States officials under United States laws and regulations, as is done with immigration, admitted or excluded, from all other countries; and not, as at present, under an arrangement whereby control and regulation is surrendered by us to Japan.

Third: Compliance on the part of all departments of the Federal government with the Constitution, and the abandonment of the threat or attempt to take advantage of certain phrasing of that document as to treaties which, it is claimed, gives the treaty-making power authority to violate plain provisions of the Constitution in the following matters:

NULLIFY STATE RIGHTS.

(a.) To nullify State rights and State laws for control of lands and other matters plainly within the State's jurisdiction.

(b.) To grant American citizenship to races of yellow color which are made ineligible for such citizenship.

Fourth: For the Japanese legally entitled to residence in California fair treatment, protection in property rights legally acquired and the privilege of engaging in any business desired except such as may be now or hereafter denied by law to all aliens or to aliens ineligible to citizenship, provided particularly that they may not hereafter buy or lease agricultureal lands.

MAY USE PEACE AS LEVER.

Harding Might Diplomatically Employ It on Association Plan, is Belief.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Although the resolution declaring a separate peace with Germany is to be reintroduced at the special session of Congress, plans of Republican leaders as they shape up after many conferences include no provision for hurrying the measure to a roll call.

In some quarters close to the administration it was believed tonight that the peace declaration, vetoed by President Wilson, might rest on the calendar of deferred business for ninety days or more while President Harding tries out his preliminary ideas for establishment of an association of nations.

How far the President may have concurred in such a program was not revealed, but in some quarters it was pointed out that with the resolution hanging fire in Congress the administration might be able to exert an enlarged influence in securing acceptance of its peace plans by other nations. Technically this government still would be at war with Germany, except for the fact of a belligerent in the arrangement of a final peace, and still actually associated with the Allies.

PEACE AS LEVER.

In such circumstance, it was suggested, the possibility of a separate peace might be used diplomatically along with the foreign loan situation as a leverage to secure acceptance of Mr. Harding's plans for his peace association.

It is known that the subject of peace declaration has occupied interest of administration officials recently, and that alternate plans have been urged on the President. Saturday he conferred with Senator Knox, author of the original separate peace measure, and today he met with Senator Lodge, Republican Senate leader, and Senators Watson of Indiana, and Brandegee of Connecticutt.

GEDDES A VISITOR.

Today the British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, also called at the White House, although the visit was one of courtesy.

The theory of peace by declaration is gossip among the officials regarding the visit of Rene Viviani of France: but it was not indicated tonight what part the advice of the Allied governments might have played in influencing a decision. Those associated with M. Viviani have denied that the real purpose of his pilgrimage was to plead that there be no separate peace, but he is known to be hopeful the peace settlement may provide for a cooperative agreement with the Allies. It is taken for granted he has urged these views upon American officials.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

Yet Questionnaire Replies Show Manufacturers Are Puzzled by Symptoms.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SCRANTON (Pa.) March 29.—Business in many lines is on the upward trend. There is a growing confidence, broadly speaking, that we have passed the turn and that times are going to be better, although in the estimation of a considerable number of business men the outlook is clouded with more or less uncertainty. The majority of the leaders of industry heard from in response to a business questionnaire sent out by the International Correspondence Schools are optimistic.

The revival of activity, as indicated by the questionnaire, will be marked by an absence of the spectacular and also by duller times in some lines than have yet been experienced, but there are evidences of improvement along the line of that stable basis that business has got to be rebuilt on to make it conservatively profitable to capital and labor jointly and to assure reasonably permanent continuity of production and employment of labor.

The foregoing is the substance of an interesting announcement and contribution to current business opinion made by Ralph E Weeks, president of the International Correspondence Schools on the basis of an analysis of a questionnaire sent out by the schools and replied to by several hundred business concerns, most of the latter engaged in manufacturing on a large scale.

ANSWERS NUMBERED 350.

In answering queries of an intimate nature business men are, as a rule, reluctant, but of the 350 who replied to the questionnaire, the most gave frank and helpful answers. To the question as to what are the chief factors necessary to readjustment, 20 per cent declared there must be a readjustment of prices to inspire buying; 15 per cent suggested that labor must take wage reductions so that production costs can be lowered in order that prices to the consuming public can be further revised downward. Others expressed a variety of factors as essential to readjustment, including tariff legislation, taxation, foreign trade, foreign exchange freight rates, and the need of greater confidence in the basic soundness of the country's position. Many were apparently in doubt as to what main factors were required to bring about more normal conditions and presented no suggestions.

ANSWERS SUMMARIZED.

Summarized as follows the questionnaire reflects the following opinion on business prospects for the spring months, after spring and on the general outlook for a permanent revival within a reasonable period:

Business Prospects	Good.	Fair.	Improved.	Unchanged.	Poor.
For spring	86	45	60	61	98
After spring	97	71	42	88	8
General outlook	178	12	39	70	8

Take the "good," the "fair" and the "improved" and it is evident that there is rising a tide that is more heartening. The "poor" and the "uncertain" show that all is not so well as it might be. Cautiousness, justifiable, is betrayed in the number who view the outlook with uncertainty.

Mainly because of their particular industrial character the following States are taken as a group:

Business Prospects	Good.	Fair.	Improved.	Unchanged.	Poor.
For spring	103	46	73	73	36
After spring	120	40	49	91	4
General outlook	197	17	49	91	4

MANY MANUFACTURERS.

Most of the questionnaires were directed to manufacturing establishments producing farm machinery and implements, automobiles, oil products, wire, iron and brass foundry products, steel castings, motor trucks and auto parts machinery, engines, boilers, electrical devices, building materials, hardware, lumber, textiles, power companies, local street railway companies, farming, banks, canning, etc. Farm machinery and implement makers, bolt and nut companies drop forge concerns, copper producers and lumber show exceptional dullness. The automobile lines are dull, but improvement is noted and expected, but none replying to questionnaires expects to approach anything approximating capacity this year.

GENERAL CONCLUSIONS.

Summing up the situation, Mr. Weeks is led to the conclusion that the prospects are for improvement in the direction of conservative business conditions toward fall. This will be stimulated, in his opinion, by settlement of the postwar problems at home and abroad, by a sincere revision of Federal taxation in the ensuing Congress, a price and labor wage adjustment fair to the consumer, to labor, to capital and the farmer. Business will continue more or less "spotty" until the prices of industrial products are more in harmony with the declined prices that the farmer is being compelled to accept for what he produces. The promotion of greater housing facilities is a vital necessity in the adjustment process, as it affects the people in our populated communities, he says.

ITALIAN POLICE BREAK UP GANG OF REDS.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROME, April 4.—Police in the Ligurian region, near Genoa, have scattered an organization of Russian, Polish and Hungarian Bolsheviks, who have been working with Italian anarchists in plotting a revolution in Italy. More than 100 Russians and Poles have been arrested and large sums of money and many compromising documents have been seized.

CANDIDATES NAMED BY VICTORY POST.

E. V. Rosenkranz and Harry E. Insley were nominated last night by members of Victory Post No. 54 of the American Legion for commander of the post. The election will take place on the 18th inst. Following the nominations, a dance and entertainment was given at the post headquarters.

Vaquero Starts New Coast Line Trips Tomorrow

Making her first voyage as a common carrier tomorrow evening, the Vaquero, a 400-ton freighter, belonging to the Vail Company of this city, will inaugurate a new class of service for the coastwise trade, with Los Angeles Harbor as her home port.

The first trip will be made to Santa Barbara. The boat will make the run between Los Angeles Harbor and Ventura, Hueneme and Santa Barbara at night. It will handle all kinds of freight. Among the products to be secured in that territory are lemons, beans, dried fruits, sugar beet pulp, fertilizers and oils.

C. P. Visel, general manager of the company, states that the line will serve as a short-haul feeder for coast-to-coast lines running through the Panama Canal, and that it will issue through bills of lading on shipments for all the big steamship lines calling at Los Angeles Harbor.

SEARCHLIGHT TURNED ON MARBLE COMBINE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 4. — The joint legislative committee investigating graft and conspiracies in the building trades in Chicago, which have throttled the industry, today gave its attention to the marble combine, which is said to have exacted heavy toll from builders of theaters, office buildings and high-grade apartments. The operation of the alleged combine works after this manner: Announcement is made that bids for certain construction work will be received.

Certain general contractors, excavators and marble men proceed to figure the cost. These, in accordance with the rules, are mailed into headquarters with the announcement that they are about to figure on a certain job, giving the name of the architect.

The secretary then receives the itemized figures of each of the marble contractors working on the job. He, in turn, sends to each the bids of his competitors. This method enables the contractor who knows he is a low bidder, to feel a sense of security and he is deaf to the plea of the architect to reduce his high price.

In addition, the lowest bidder is privileged to drop out and revise his figures upward so that he will still be low man and at the same time make the maximum profit. There is also a system of rotation so that jobs are divided and everybody gets his whack at the builder in due time.

POWER COMPANY'S BUDGET QUESTIONED.

CITY ATTORNEYS BEFORE COMMISSION SCORE GREAT WESTERN CONCERN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Proposed expenditure by the Great Western Power Company of $245,000 in 1921 for commercial expenses, such as developing new business to furnish a market for the electricity from its new Caribou project on the Feather River, came in for questioning before the Railroad Commission today from attorneys representing Northern California municipalities.

The company is seeking a continuation of the 15 per cent surcharge on its rates, which is due to expire April 10. Assistant City Attorney Leon Gray of Oakland asserted that although a wage increase of $135,000 was one reason for granting the surcharge last year, he was informed the increase had not been given and linemen's wages had been reduced $1 a day. The city attorneys also questioned today an item of $25,000 for advertising, which James B. Black, sales manager of the company, said he hoped would bring to the Great Western many customers who otherwise would buy electricity from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

OLD CASE AGAINST WILLIAMS DROPPED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SCRANTON (Pa.) April 4.—The long drawn out suit between Congressman L. T. McFadden and John Skelton Williams, former Controller of Currency, ended today when Federal Judge Witmer dismissed the suit brought against Williams by the First National Bank of Canton, in which the bank sought to enjoin the controller from demanding alleged unnecessary statements and examinations.

Judge Witmer holds that since Williams is no longer controller there is no need for an injunction.

LINEBERGER NAMED ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Assignment of Republican members to some of the fifty or more standing House committees was made today by the committee on committees, subject to the approval by the Republican caucus Saturday. Because of the big party majority the Republican representation will be increased. Among the new members on foreign affairs is Lineberger, California.

Members said the Judiciary Committee, which has supervision of prohibition legislation, would be "as dry as ever," if not a bit more so.

CHURCH BROTHERHOOD HAS MUSIC PROGRAM.

A musical program was presented at a meeting of the Vermont Square Methodist Church Brotherhood held last night at the church. Ralph Hurst, baritone; Leon Rice, tenor, and Richard Wayne, piano soloist, entertained the members. In addition T. Bromley Oxnam delivered an address on "Church Survey" and C. H. Geldert gave a talk on "A Clean Screen." A committee was chosen to prepare plans for a new church.

ASK HARDING SUPPORT FOR MATERNITY BILL.

REPRESENTATIVES OF WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS RECEIVED BY PRESIDENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Harding gave an audience today to representatives of five of the biggest national women's organizations, who have been active in supporting the maternity-infancy welfare measure through the subcommittee of the Women's Joint Congressional Committee. They asked for the President's active support for the matter at the next session of Congress and requested that if he could see his way clear to do so he would include a recommendation in his message to the coming Congress for the passage of the bill.

President Harding, while a member of the Senate Committee on Public Health and Quarantine, joined in the favorable report on the measure.

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, chairman of the Women's Joint Congressional Committee, introduced the spokesman, Miss Lida Hafford, who spoke for the following organizations: Federation of Women's Clubs, represented by Miss Lida Hafford; Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teachers' Association, by Mrs. Arthur C. Watkins; National Women's Trade Union League, by Miss Ethel Smith; American Home Economics Association, by Miss Louise Stanley; National League of Women Voters, by Mrs. Maud Wood Park.

"President Harding showed keen interest in what the joint commission said and we are very pleased with the result of our audience," said Mrs. Park after the committee had left the President's executive office.

HOTEL MAN HONORED.

Brilliant Dinner Held at Alexandria for Former Coast Manager.

James Woods, vice-president of the Pershing Square Hotels of New York and former manager of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, was the honor guest at a dinner given last evening at the Alexandria by Charles Baad, manager. Mr. Woods arrived yesterday and the dinner was in the nature of a reunion of fifteen of his closest friends in the West.

It was one of the most brilliant given at the hotel in recent months. A miniature fountain played in the center of the table. The dining service was of gold.

FIVE EXECUTED FOR REVOLT IN MEXICO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BROWNSVILLE (Tex.) April 4.—Five Mexican followers of the Cardenas brothers' "ten-man revolution" were captured by rurales Saturday night near San Fernando, south of Matamoros, court-martialed and executed at 4 o'clock Sunday morning. Official announcement of the executions was made in Matamoros today. Gen. Rafael Cardenas escaped, but is closely pursued by government troops.

ASK PROTECTION OF MOTHERS, INFANTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Administration support for a bill for protection of the mothers and infants, similar to the Sheppard-Towner measure, which failed to pass at the last session, was requested by a delegation of women, headed by Mrs. Maude Wood Park, chairman of the National Organization of Women Voters. President Harding was told that women's national organizations favored such legislation.

BISBEE POSTOFFICE LOOTED OF $40,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) April 4.—City, county and Federal officers today worked without success in attempts to find two men who, according to Postmaster L. R. Bailey, last night forced him at the point of guns to open the safe in the postoffice and turn over to them a package containing about $40,000 in currency and several thousand dollars in securities.

MEN ENTERTAIN WOMEN.

Male relatives and friends of the members of Los Angeles Chapter, No. 168, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained with a minstrel show at Masonic Temple last night. E. B. Spencer was master of ceremonies and in the chorus were Dr. W. E. Sibley, M. A. Bresee, Dr. J. W. Gray, F. A. Amis, Clyde O. Dick, C. T. Berry, J. C. Corwin and Dr. W. A. Wagner. Mrs. W. Frank Holman was "professoress of harmony."

REGARDING A BUICK.

It is only reasonable to believe that the HOWARD AUTOMOBILE COMPANY, being distributors for the BUICK would be more concerned in the performance of that particular car than any other, and, especially as this so in their fine new department where nothing but the very finest of workmanship enters into the rebuilding of the Buicks which have been taken in trade on new cars. Consider this before making a final decision.

In Song and Recital.

Robert Harkness, the Australian pianist and composer, will give a musical program and song recital in the St. Jame's Methodist Church, Union avenue and Twenty-second street, this evening. Mr. Harkness was with Evangelist Alexander for thirteen years and was under contract during that time to compose three songs per week. Tonight he will compose a song on the platform from a theme suggested by the audience. Mrs. Harkness, who is a talented singer, will accompany her husband and assist in the service of song.

Three Men Badly Hurt by Falls Involving Cars.

Three men were injured yesterday in a series of accidents in which Los Angeles Railway street cars were involved. All the injured were treated at the Receiving Hospital and then removed to the County Hospital. Police surgeons declared that all will probably recover.

Harry C. Gray, 31 years of age, of 134 South Main street, a truck driver, the first to be injured, was struck by a street car at Alpine street and North Broadway. At the Receiving Hospital he was treated for a fracture of the skull and other injuries.

James W. Harris, 56 years of age, of Ninth street and Ocean avenue, Long Beach, sustained a fracture of the left hip while attempting to board a moving street car at Temple street and North Broadway. Harris was thrown from the rear street car steps when he attempted to swing himself on board.

Trailed Through Dog; Confess and Seek Probation.

Pleading guilty to one count against them, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin B. McCarthy, who were traced to Chicago by the shipment of a pet dog, and arrested there asked for probation yesterday in Judge Reeve's court. The charge to which they pleaded guilty is that of embezzlement on December 4, last, of $3000 from the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, where McCarthy worked as a teller.

It was charged that McCarthy transferred various accounts in such a manner that $3000 was credited to the account of his wife held under an assumed name.

Hearing on the probation application was set for the 21st inst., at which time consideration will be given of the other five counts.

AMERICA STANDS WITH ALLIES.

tions is a matter of extreme regret to Germany. In their efforts to reach an agreement, the delegates of Germany went far beyond the limit considered possible for Germany in the judgment of an overwhelming majority of her experts.

"It has been asserted that Germany is reluctant to recognize her obligation to make reparations. This is not correct.

"It is clear, not only to the government of Germany, but to the German people, that Germany must make reparation to the limit of her ability. This realization will not be altered by any changes which may take place in the internal policies of the country. Every responsible group, particularly the workmen, of Germany, are imbued with the determination to do all in their power to help in reconstructing the region devastated.

"Fundamental to this determination is the sober conviction on the part of responsible circles in Germany that an early removal of all traces of the devastation caused in France is to the best interest of Germany. It is the consensus of opinion also that the proposals made by Germany on reparations must consider fully the financial necessities of the Allied and associated governments and particularly of France.

TWO CONSIDERATIONS.

"In view of the foregoing, two considerations in regard to reparations present themselves. These are the matter of the rehabilitation of the devasted regions and immediate establishment by Germany of an actual sum of cash money, in foreign exchange, of important proportions.

"In addressing ourselves to the rehabilitation of the devasted regions, certain facts are apparent. For four years, ten of the eighty-six departments of France served as the theater of the war. In the departments a number of cities and the towns and villages are either partly or entirely destroyed and wide stretches of fertile lands were laid waste. Only a little has been accomplished towards rebuilding homes, reoccupation and recultivation of the land since the ending of the war.

"For the immediate rehabilitation Germany has repeatedly prfferred labor, technical advice and material assistance. These offers have not been accepted, nor have they even reached the point of diplomatic exchange. The reason is not far to seek.

CRITICISES FRANCE.

"Peculiar though it may seem, there exists in France only a limited degree of concern for the rehabilitation of the devastated regions. Advanced indemnities have been given former occupants of the soil, and these occupants have removed to other parts of the country. Salvaging of the abandoned war materials and the cleaning up of the war areas has been undertaken by influential groups of promoters, who are making no effort to expedite their contracts. The fact that influential opinion in France sees in the devastated region opportunity for a political agitation which will always make a deep impression in the minds of the people of France and on foreigners, has an important bearing on the issue.

"The German government does not desire to see hate perpetuated between nations. It intends to submit fresh proposals to France. Should France entertain objections to the employment of numbers of German laborers in the areas the government of Germany stands ready to offer to France good offices and resources in whatever form is acceptable.

DEPENDS ON EXPORTS.

"In respect to the immediate establishment by Germany of a sum of cash money, in foreign exchange, of important proportions, it is obvious that Germany can fulfill this obligation only through large increases in her exports. The memorandum prepared by the economic experts for use at the conference in London demonstrated how huge this increase necessarily would be if great sums of money were thereby to be obtained, and the menace of this great increase would imply to the economic life of their countries. Conceding even this, it further remains that the sums could not be immediately released.

"Other considerations have been advanced, among them the proposal that our former opponents should participate in the returns from German industry, either taking shares of the capital stock of German companies or other forms of sharing in profits. Such a proposal would produce only proceeds in paper marks, valueless to foreign creditors. Indeed, the Allied and associated governments negatived these proposals, in the Treaty of Versailles, by taking a first mortgage on the total wealth and all sources of income of the German commonwealth. In addition, the Allied and associated governments, in their deliberations at Paris, reserved the decision as to what opportunity, if any, Germany may in any instance be given to obtain credit abroad, because England and France are in debt beyond their limit and the granting of a credit to Germany by a neutral power is blocked by the general mortgage.

WAIVE GENERAL MORTGAGE.

"An international loan, in favor of which the Allied and associated governments would waive their general mortgage, constitutes the only solution. Germany is prepared to offer the necessary securities for such a loan. It is the opinion of the German government that if the loan were properly organized and offered, and if those who have evaded taxation be granted a general amnesty, the large sums of German capital which have been secretly withdrawn from Germany, could again be drawn in for the loan.

"It has been reiterated by the Allied and associated governments that the situation of Germany is better than that of many of the Allied and associated countries, due to the fact that Germany has no foreign debts. Germany would not be unwilling to assume the obligation of the interest and the amortization of the foreign debts of the Allied and associated powers, within her capacity, should this measure be entertained by the Allied and associated governments and their creditors.

STANDS READY.

"Germany stands ready to meet any proposal which appears feasible for the solution of the economic and financial problems of Europe, and would invite examination by unbiased experts of its own ability to make payments. It is the opinion of Germany that the heavyweight debt borne by all the states which were participants in the World War, and the damages which were wrought in that war, cannot be laid upon the shoulders of a single people. Germany believes also a policy of duress and coercion would not bring about the reconstruction of international economic life, and that only by way of peaceful discussion and understanding can such reconstruction be obtained. The German government considers it important to give the assurance that for its part it is honestly willing to follow the path it has suggested."

LONDON, April 4.—Great Britain has not reopened negotiations with Germany on the subject of reparations.

PLEASED WITH NOTE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, April 4.—The German note by Dr. Simons, Foreign Minister, discussing reparations and suggesting Germany is willing to assume her debts to the Allies, and the reply of Secretary of State Hughes, delivered to the German Foreign Office, March 31, by the American high commissioner, Loring Dresel, was published tonight.

While the American note is brief, the German officials interpret it as friendly, and the mere fact that the United States answered at all is looked on as a hopeful sign that the American government may exert its good offices in solving the reparations problem.

Dr. Simons is still in Switzerland on vacation.

Inventor Sues for Rights He Gave to Woman

Alfonso Davino, said to be a young Italian aviator who invented an aerial cable car, filed suit yesterday against Gertrude Rye, who, he states, is also known as Gertrude Nelson, and sometimes as Gertrude Driggs, to set aside an assignment of the patent rights to her.

The complaint, prepared by Attorney Sherill B. Osborne, asserts that she induced him to transfer rights in California by asserting that she was a woman of wide business experience who had influential acquaintances, while he, being "little more than a boy," would be taken advantage of. He says it was also held out to him that he was of foreign birth, imperfectly acquainted with the English language and was sure to lose his reward in the patent. The consideration for the assignment was $50.

URGES RATE BASED UPON NATURAL GAS.

UTILITIES BOARD ALSO ASKS ACTION TO STOP WASTAGE IN STATE FIELDS.

Recommendations for increasing the supply of natural gas supplied to Southern California consumers were made to the State Railroad Commission yesterday by the Board of Public Utilities, which points out the necessity of preventing wastage of gas in the fields. The board rendered the following statement made by Chief Engineer Osborne forwarded to the commission.

"That sufficient natural gas is available to place the entire southern district on a straight natural gas basis, or upon a high BTU basis, through the substitution for field use of oil instead of natural gas for fuel, by the elimination of waste, and the construction of additional transmission lines.

"That the possible supply of natural gas, not now available, because of wastage, field or refinery use, or because of lack of transmission lines, should be rigidly investigated by the engineers of the Railroad Commission, and an early report with recommendations made thereon.

"That in view of the foregoing investigation, it is further urged that the Railroad Commission determine whether or not the reforming of high heat natural gas is an economic waste, and whether reforming natural gas is ever justified, in view of the fact that there exists a surplus of natural gas in the Midway and Elk Hills fields; also whether the saving should not accrue to the general public through a rate which contemplates such a practice, rather than as an added earning for the public utility corporation, reflected through a rate which contemplated the manufacture of an oil gas."

ROSENHEIM OFF INSTITUTE ROLL.

American Architects Suspend Former Art Secretary.

Action Taken Pending Full Inquiry into Charges.

Committee Will Investigate Asserted Fee Taking.

Suspension of Alfred W. Rosenheim, pending a more complete investigation, yesterday, was voted by the committee of the whole of the Southern California Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, of which Mr. Rosenheim was formerly president, following a two-hour discussion of the charges which recently caused the dismissal of Architect Rosenheim as secretary of the Municipal Art Commission.

The recommendation of the committee of the whole means that the executive committee, composed of President Bergstrom, Secretary Hubbard and four others, will sift the case to the bottom. This committee will report back to the chapter, and whatever action taken then, if not cancellation, will go to the Washington headquarters for confirmation before it becomes final. The decision of the chapter will be in the form of a recommendation to the institute itself.

The charges against Mr. Rosenheim were presented at a special meeting held by the Athletic Club. They dealt with the case in which he accepted a fee of $250 for his services in connection with a transaction pending before the Municipal Art Commission. He was at the time secretary of the commission.

Mr. Rosenheim and President Bissell of the Art Commission entered into the discussion of the circumstances of the case.

Although no official statement was forthcoming last night, it is understood that Mr. Rosenheim did not deny the charges, but declared he believed he was acting within his rights.

CHICAGO OPERA MEETS WITH WARM RECEPTION.

Los Angeles, Taking Rank Among Music Capitals, Greets Organization of Great Singers.

The leaders of Los Angeles society were included in the capacity house which last night greeted the Chicago Opera Association in its opening engagement of "Othello" at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

Shakespeare's masterly drama, turned into opera through the touch which only Verdi had, was listened to attentively by one of the most distinguished gatherings ever seen in this city—a gathering reflecting the cultural and social eminence of Los Angeles.

In her support of and response to the Chicago Opera Association, as reflected in the attendance on the opening night, Los Angeles took her own peculiar place alongside London and New York and Chicago and Paris as a lover and a patron of the beautiful in music. The blending of the robust and the elusively beautiful in the opera had its counterpart in the men of large accomplishment and the women of surpassing charm who made up so great a part of the audience and followed closely the unfolding of the tragedy.

Mary Garden, director of the Chicago Opera Association, has long recognized in Los Angeles one of the great cultural centers of the New World, a center which, indeed, promises more than any other to before long take the place left vacant in the musical world by the Russian debacle and the giving of Petrograd over to chaos. Her appreciation of Los Angeles as an art center was reflected in her greeting to the people of Los Angeles last night from her box.

NEED WEALTH, LEISURE.

Instead of Paris and Petrograd and Rome and London new cultural capitals are arising, Paris and London maintaining their former standing, but admitting New York and Chicago and Los Angeles. Art critics see nothing unusual in this cultural awakening in the West, for the refinements and niceties of the mind can come to full fruit only where there is wealth for their support and leisure for their development. The wealth and leisure which, not long ago, belonged almost exclusively to the Old World, have passed into the hands of the new and in that passing the Muses have moved westward, enriching their new domain with masterpieces in marble, in words and in song.

The company arrived yesterday morning in two special trains from El Paso over the Southern Pacific lines. The first train, which came in at 6:30 a.m., contained the chorus, orchestra and others, the second, which arrived an hour later, contained the leading artists of the organization.

Each train was made up of twelve cars, eight being devoted to passengers and four to the personal trunks and general baggage of the performers. Miss Garden's private car was attached to the second train.

WILL SING THREE TIMES.

The company comprises 286 persons and is under the general direction of Mary Garden, who has the distinction of being the only woman in grand opera who has at the same time managed a company and to the same time continued as one of its performers. During the engagements in Los Angeles Miss Garden will sing at three performances.

Tonight Mary Garden, Muratore and Baklamoff will be heard in the principal roles of "Carmen," with Polacco as conductor. "Traviata" will be sung tomorrow night; "L'Amore, Dei Tre Re," Thursday evening; "Lohengrin" (in English,) Friday evening; "Monna Vanna" at the Saturday matinee, and "L'Elisir D'Amore," Saturday night.

The members of the association are staying at the Alexandria and the Ambassador, Miss Garden, her executive staff and several of the more prominent singers being at the latter hotel.

Most of the artists yesterday afternoon refreshed themselves from their arduous journey of three days from El Paso by motoring, golfing or walking yesterday, Muratore being among those who took long walks. On Friday the company will be taken through one of the largest cinema studios in the city.

AN ORIENTAL TOUCH.

Mary Garden, ravishingly beautiful, and fresh as a May morning, after her train trip from El Paso, was surrounded by personal representatives and reporters yesterday at the Ambassador. Four bracelets, three jade and a diamond, a necklace of pearls, huge pearl earrings and equally huge jade rings recalled her Salome. A trim black tailored suit was ultra-New York, and her lithe grace, with Titian hair crowned by a blue turban, added to the oriental touch. Mary Garden is the quintessence of verve. Every movement and every tone of voice is vitality personified.

"I am a tower of strength," she said, "and no matter how the work, as prima donna and as general director of the Chicago opera, piles up, I am equal to it, and I revel in it. With my election to the post, I feel that the barrier of foreigners in our operahouses is gone forever. We shall always have and enjoy foreign singers, but the administration will be American, just as when we go to Paris to sing, the management is French.

"American opera has a fighter, when it gets me. I made my own conditions when I accepted the post. I insisted upon Polacco as my music manager, and Muratore, the greatest of French tenors, to sing opposite me, and they gave me George Spangler, a supremely clever business man, as my business manager.

LIKES SINGING BEST.

"I love the work, part of which shall be to free the American singer, but it is as a singer that I wish to be remembered."

"But you are really, you know, most highly thought of for your acting."

"And I stoutly maintain that I am as great a singer as I am an actress."

At the mention of her fascination and of her admirers, she shouted with laughter.

"Am I not heartless to sit here and laugh at the past? But really there has only been one time in my life when I would have considered sacrificing my career for a man. But he was married, and I never hurt a woman. I don't want to break down. I'm happier building up. Since then, it has been only one-sided, this question of fascination. I really assure you that my effect upon men is unconscious. I know you don't believe it, and neither will anyone else—save my mother and sister.

"Of course, now I have no time for men, but when I did I always loved my work best. I know my reputation quite well, and I have thought it was caused by the roles I sing, but that is not really true. I cannot deny the obvious, but I can only assure you that the emotional appeal of Mary Garden is an unfathomable secret even to herself."

The company will leave Los Angeles on Saturday night for San Francisco for an engagement of two weeks, after which it will go to Denver and then back to Chicago. In May it may leave for an engagement at Covent Garden Theater, London.

SCHWEPPES ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jewett Schweppe, who are to be seen at the opera every night this week, entertained a distinguished company at dinner and later in their box at the opera.

With them were Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Shedd, Mr. and Mrs. Edward

NEW DAWN OF REALITIES IN GRAND OPERA

"Othello" Performance is a Marvel of Massed Effects in Drama with Music.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

Personally supervised by its greatest star, with the flare and flash of real stage lightnings, and the flowering of real stage blossoms, all as the background for a glorious tonal magnificence, grand opera in all its gorgeous reality, its colossal splendor, came before an enthralled audience last night at Philharmonic Auditorium. Past, present and future of the current musical seasons seemed to blend for one gigantic climax—an epoch-making event in the musical annals—the advent of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, Mary Garden's own company, and one of the greatest organizations for the presentation of lyric drama that the world has ever seen.

All year the public has waited for the arrival of the Chicago singers. Everyone has been telling everyone else for months that it would be the gala climax of the year. Talk has been stimulated by the news of changes that have taken place in the personnel of the management, finally culminating in Miss Garden's assumption of the directorship. But all the gossip in clubs and at teas and social functions, all the exchange of opinions in the professional ranks, all the hopes and predictions probably did not quite equal the actual realization.

The reason is that the Chicago Grand Opera Company of today is no more the Chicago Grand Opera Company of eight years ago than—one might say—the Metropolitan is the San Carlo. As Mary Garden said to Len Behymer yesterday afternoon in my presence, "the company today is so far ahead of the one of yesterday that there is no use talking about it."

Just how much Miss Garden herself has had to do with bringing this about, I myself am not in a position to judge. Certainly she has infused her company with much of her own artistic esprit. Her presence in the box, where she appears like some modern La Tosca with her swagger stick and her "million-dollar" cloak, is an inspiration in itself, and I understand she has been at practically every opening performance on tour, has been greeted as the prima donna of the whole show and has waved her hand as a token of her appreciation for all favors received. Los Angeles got no less for its money than New York in this respect, which is natural, for besides being a great artist and actress, Mary Garden is a splendidly democratic woman.

The selection of "Othello" for an opening opera, while it might have caused pessimistic head-shakings for a time, attracted a scintillant audience of capacity size. The name of Chicago had done the deed, though this work is by the musical generally regarded as the supreme Verdi achievement. The enthusiasm waxed as the performance went on. Each curtain call brought insistent demands for the appearance of the artist. The comment of heated enjoyment was to be noted in the foyer between the acts, while when the curtain was up the spell of music and drama pervaded every member of the great throng every moment.

"Othello" taxes the strength and resources of any opera organization and proves the powers of singer, orchestra, director and stage technician. The rising of the curtain last night revealed a scene that was

MOTOR BOAT TO HUNT SKEETERS.

Insects Too Fast for Men in Rowboats, City Council Told by Pursuers.

The few remaining mosquitoes at Los Angeles Harbor had better beware!

The city of Los Angeles is going to pursue them with a motor boat.

The force of municipal mosquito exterminators has done well to date, the official reports show, in slaughtering the insects, but those still doing business at the harbor are now becoming wary and are dodging too fast for mosquito policemen in rowboats.

So the Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council for $400 to purchase a boat with a high-powered engine in it, and with this the death of the very last mosquito at the harbor is promised.

The City Council will this morning consider the purchase of a mosquito-chasing power boat.

Announcement of a lease on the corner store of Loew's State Theater Building, now under construction at the corner of Seventh street and Broadway to the Owl Drug Company at an annual rental which establishes a new high level for Broadway frontage was made yesterday by Hunter-Dulin Company, fiscal agents for the property. The lease taken by the Owl Drug Company extends over a period of fifteen years at an annual rental of $64,000, making the total consideration $960,000. Under the terms of the lease, the big drug firm will take over the store in an unfinished state, and will make improvements to cost not less than $75,000.

The new store will comprise an area of more than 2000 square feet, having a frontage of twenty-eight feet on Broadway and eighty-two feet on West Seventh street. This lease, it is asserted, involves the highest rental ever paid by a drug company in the United States. The transaction was handled through A. C. Blumenthal & Co., San Francisco agents for the property.

It is pointed out by officials of the Hunter-Dulin Company that the lease is particularly gratifying, since the yearly rental from the lease on this one store exceeds by one-third the total annual interest charges on the $700,000 bond issue outstanding. Negotiations are now pending for leases on the basement and on other stores in the building through the agency of the Blumenthal company and Wright-Callender-Andrews Company, local agents for the building.

WIFE LOSES SUIT; OPENS NEW ATTACK

Mrs. DeMund Continues to Seek Divorce; Omits Some of Former Charges.

Reflecting the troubled and turbulent marital career of the principals, the divorce case of Mrs. Mary C. De Mund against her husband, Charles H. De Mund, which has been leading an "in again, out again" existence in Arizona courts for the past year, has again found its way to the legal bench, according to word received last night from Phoenix. A new complaint has just been filed by Mrs. De Mund, the dispatch states, containing, in the main, the charges of the original suit, but leaving out a number of the more startling ones.

Starting before it had hardly stopped, the case is now before an Arizona judge. Three magistrates of the State have either been disqualified or have expressed a disclination to hear the suit and a fourth one was recently called from Flagstaff to Phoenix to hear the case. He dismissed the suit on demurrer and before he had time to return to his home, an amended complaint was filed charging cruelty and desertion.

One of the features in the new suit has caused a great deal of speculation on the part of Los Angeles and Arizona society people. Mrs. De Mund has asked for no alimony. The assumption is, apparently, that the principals have reached or are about to reach a financial settlement. The community property is said to be worth $300,000.

In her present suit Mrs. De Mund stated that during April of last year an effort was made to take her car away from her by force, while she was driving down Broadway in this city. A policeman foiled the attempt. She then wired her husband in Phoenix and was advised, she says, that the men were detectives acting under his orders.

In the original suits Mrs. De Mund made startling charges against her husband and he, in his answers, charged her with improper conduct. At one time he named three co-respondents.

County Prisoners Ordered to Work on Malibu Road.

After nearly six years of non-existence, the county chain gang system was revived yesterday by order of Sheriff Traeger, who stated that twenty of the thirty-two prisoners serving time in the County Jail on misdemeanor charges would "hereafter spend their spare time in aiding in the construction of the Malibu Road. Most of the men, who will work practically under an honor system, have been trusties and will welcome work in the open air rather than confinement in the County Jail. The minimum number of guards will accompany them and they will all sign an agreement with the Sheriff before being taken out for road work. Those charged with felonies will not be given this opportunity, it was stated.

PAINTERS STILL OUT.

Both Sides Say They Expect Strike to End Soon.

The strike of the Los Angeles painters continued yesterday without either side yielding a point. The employers still hold for an open shop and the men for recognition of the union and a renewal of contracts. Each side looks for an ending of the strike within a few days, expecting the other faction to give in.

Representatives of the employers stated yesterday that they are willing to pay the scale of wages desired by the workmen, but will not sign the contract presented by the unions.

BIG COAL AREA MAY BE OPENED.

Capitalists Plan to Develop San Juan Basin.

San Bernardino Ores Could be Smelted Here.

Plans for the development of coke and coal resources in the San Juan Basin of New Mexico and Colorado, which were taken up yesterday by a group of capitalists from several cities interested in the project, will be laid before the Chamber of Commerce today.

At yesterday's conference, in which prominent Colorado men participated, the idea of building a railroad from the Santa Fe to a point near the center of the basin, to bring coke and coal here and supply smelters that would use iron ore from San Bernardino county, was considered, and it was decided that the matter should be referred to a special committee for further consideration and report.

The San Juan Basin lies in a circle drawn around the point where the boundary lines of Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona meet. It lies more in Northwestern New Mexico and Southeastern Colorado than in Utah and Arizona. The area taken in is nine big counties, embracing 24,670 square miles, or 15,781,481 acres of land.

According to estimates made several years ago by a group of competent engineers, the basin is underlaid with excellent coal, one seam being 113 miles long and 200 square miles being an estimate of the coal-yielding area.

Engineers think that the water resources of the nine counties would develop 150,000 horse power of hydroelectricity. The Forestry Department states that there are in the forest reserves of that district 1,116,197,000 feet of pine timber. The latest estimate says that the basin contains 200,000 acres of grazing land and 1,974,200 acres of heavy timber land.

At present the district, of which Durango, Colo., is near the center, is served from Denver, the distance by rail being 450 miles, with heavy grades most of the way. It has been proposed that a railway be built from the Santa Fe to Defiance, N. M., to Farmington, a distance of 114 miles. Such a railway connection would place the San Juan Basin twenty-three hours from Denver and twenty-eight hours from Los Angeles, by rail. Shipping from there to the Coast would be more profitable than from there to Denver, because the grades are much easier, the engineers say.

WOMAN GIVES BOND.

Anita Carrillo, who conducts what is called a "dry" restaurant at 955 North Spring street, gave bond before U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday on the charge of violating the Volstead Act. It is charged that she sold brandy to a parole violator and disabled sailor, both of whom were found in an intoxicated condition in the place.

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A young woman is in love with a man who is a semi-invalid and wants to marry him. Her mother opposes the match, which seems very cruel to the girl, who thinks it would be perfectly lovely and sweet to devote her life to being a ministering angel to one afflicted with a combination of rheumatism and stomach trouble.

Somebody page the fool killer. Quick. In time to save this precious little idiot from wrecking her life. Husbands are hard enough to get along with, goodness knows, when they are strong and husky, with unimpaired digestions and steady nerves, without taking any chance on one whom ill health has made as irritable as a sore-headed bear.

If, after a couple are married, either one should have the misfortune to be stricken down by disease, it is the duty of the other one to meet the situation with tenderness and patience and courage, and do everything possible to alleviate the sad lot of the afflicted one. That is part of the chances of matrimony to which we pledge ourselves at the altar when we swear to take our life partners for better or worse, to cherish them in sickness or in health.

To meet misfortune with a brave front is one thing. To go out of your way to hunt for trouble and invite disaster is another, and just as the man and woman who turn their backs upon an invalid wife or husband are quitters and curs of the yellowest, so the man and woman who deliberately marry invalids are imbeciles who need to be locked up in a safe place until their temporary fit of insanity is over.

And the woman who marries an invalid man is in a degree more batty than the man who marries an invalid girl. For women have a talent for being sick that men do not possess. They can ameliorate the physical unattractiveness of disease with boudoir caps and pink and lace negligees. They can even "enjoy po' health," as our colored friends say, and get a certain pleasure out of lying around on couches and talking out their symptoms and their operations, and feeling that they have acquired a certain distinction because they can't do any of the things that other women do.

Thus you sometimes see an invalid woman who is calm and serene, and gentle and cheerful, but the sick man achieves no such pitch of grace. He is ugly, and cadaverous, and generally needs a shave and a hair-cut. He rages against the fate that has shut him out from the lot of other men, and he is just about as soothing a pet to have around the house as a fretful porcupine would be.

Nothing makes people so self-centered and selfish as ill health. Perhaps it is natural that those who are suffering should feel that the whole world is bounded by their ego, and that nothing else counts except what they feel. Anyway they do. They offer up everyone about them as living sacrifices, without compunction or appreciation.

And in this, too, the man invalid scores over the woman invalid, for every wife knows that a man with a sick headache can want enough things done for him to keep the whole staff of a hospital working at high speed.

If real life moved along on greased skids, as it does in novels, without being jarred by practical things, then a man would be justified in espousing the frail, delicate little flowerette of a girl who appeals so to his chivalry and makes him want to take her in his strong arms and shelter her from every blast that blows, and a woman might take the risk of uniting her life with that of the pale, suffering man who arouses her mother instinct, and makes her long to nurse and coddle him.

Alas, however, life isn't passed on the heights. It is lived down in the valley of the commonplace, and to be happy we have to have just the everyday things that make us comfortable. A man must be more than human if he can enjoy coming back after a hard day's work to a home in which everything goes at sixes and sevens, and where servants waste and steal, and there is disorder and confusion, because the wife is not able to look after it.

Nor is it cheering to him to know that he is going to be greeted by a neurotic woman whose only topic of conversation is her ailments, and in whose presence he must walk as warily as if treading on eggs, to avoid doing or saying something that will precipitate a crisis of nerves.

Such a man must be forever balked in his ambition, because all the money that he earns goes to doctors and trained nurses. Furthermore, he is tied like a slave to his wife's invalid chair and may neither leave her, nor take her, to where his fortune calls.

The woman who marries an invalid is even in worse case unless there be a fortune in the family. If they are poor she must earn the living as well as take care of him, and that's too big a job for any but a superwoman. Nor does it add to the gaiety of the situation that the finer the man is spiritually the more morbid and depressing to live with he will become over the burden he knows he is to his wife.

Sickness is supposed to enable people to lift their thoughts to the higher life. As a matter of fact, it makes them peevish and disagreeable, and glum, and grouchy, and gloomy, and unreasonable, and quick to take offense. Surely marriage, even with the healthy and normal-minded, is not such a picnic that one should choose as a mate a companion who is livery, and dyspeptic, and whose whole outlook and conversation are tinged with bile.

Good health means cheerfulness and amiability, and the ability to do things, and to make the best of life. We need it everywhere, but most of all does it take a good constitution, a sound digestion, and steady nerves to stand the wear and tear of matrimony.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Work for the Legion

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Los Angeles should follow the good example of Tacoma and not employ any man in any public position, city or county, whose wife also has employment. Such position should be given to unemployed former soldiers. This also applies to State and United States government positions. No man should hold two positions—which is virtually the case when his wife is also at work, as long as there is an ex-soldier seeking work. Again, men who sneaked out of military service should not be allowed to hold a city, State, or national government position, in preference to an ex-soldier.

This is especially the case when these draft dodgers have wives who are also employed. Here is work for the Legion. It would be well for them to make a general investigation and see that no man holds two positions, while an ex-soldier is unemployed. This should apply especially to "stay-at-home" men of the conscription age. They are strong enough now to hold a job, but were too weak to serve their country when needed.

Owe Them Nothing.

PASADENA, April 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Yeatman in his letter of March 29 to you proves at least partially that we owe the Colombian blackmailers nothing. He states that Colombia cut down frequent revolutions. I believe that those revolutions prove that Panama wanted her independence. Next he states that Colombia did not benefit by the canal. Why should she? Also that Panama did not assume any part of the debt of Colombia. I have yet to hear that we ever paid any part of the debt of Great Britain when we broke away from her.

Now let me add a few important things Mr. Yeatman forgot to mention. First, three days after Panama declared her independence Colombia offered to resuscitate and ratify, the then dead, treaty providing that the United States would force Panama to return to Colombia. That is, she was going to hire the American Army to do what she couldn't. Our answer was the recognizing of the republic of Panama.

Second, the Bogota government offered to repudiate the concessions to the French Panama Canal Company and confiscate the property and sell it to us for a round sum. These concessions, with their extensions, had six years to run. Yet Colombia was willing to break her word for the sake of $40,000,000, for which France, and not she, had originally expended about $260,000,000. Then finding out that she had reached too far in her blackmailing scheme she sent Gen. Reyes to Washington to settle for $8,000,000. His attorney is authority for the statement that they would have settled for $5,000,000. The $20,000,000 increase in their blackmailing scheme, to quote William Roscoe Thayer, "represents the unearned increment which an industrious and persistent lobby can give to a transaction of this kind."

The newspapers mention that we are to pay this $25,000,000 so that some oil companies may have some concessions in Colombia. And so again blackmail is used to try to get this money. I firmly believe that we owe Colombia nothing and also I might add for Mr. Yeatman's benefit that the Maine was sunk again.

Monument for Moss.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When men go out to war, and for selfish motives mow down like sheep people of an enemy country, they are hailed as heroes and when they die, great piles of stone are erected so that future generations may know of the respect and love given these armed warriors by the people of their time.

But war and conquest is not all there is to life and men of military greatness are not the only heroes. Frequently a life is given in a cause greater than conquest, more lasting than military victory. When "Uncle Moss" Lowenstein passed from his labor here, the death marked the passing of a hero. During his life he cast sunshine into dark places and made the heart of youth beat faster, and the cheeks of children glow with healthy pleasure. But for Moss many a child of the less fortunate class would have been denied even the little frolics which are childhood's heritage. The whole city knows what this one great man has done and it is fair to say that all agree that his life was worth while and his labor one of universal benefit.

This, being so, why not erect a monument to "Uncle Moss." Why not inscribe on lasting stone a tribute to the memory of one who lived to build and not destroy. Why not start here and now to make it plain to people of all time that Los Angeles does honor a citizen who has given his time and energy that some lives would be brighter, some suffering less.

Los Angeles has never produced a more useful, lovable, valuable citizen than Moses Lowenstein, so why not proclaim the fact to all the world—build a monument to Moss.

WYLIE CARTER.

Time to Study.

If democratic government is to survive and the principles of this government are to endure the citizens more generally will have to take a more intelligent interest in things political.

There are a number of questions facing the city of Los Angeles that are important, not only from a tax-paying standpoint, but from the standpoint of the general present and future welfare, and careless voting may at this time destroy plans for the city's future greatness. Every candidate that announces himself for Mayor, represents certain groups and certain ideas. Every voter can, if he begins now, learn what these divisions mean and cast a ballot backed with the weight of intelligence. The voter who allows himself to be carried away by single ideas and votes for the cause of this prejudice is not a citizen, and in doing so he makes popular government impossible.

If you love your city, vote for better things about it, now. The few hours you vote will bring returns in dollars and cents and will be more than any other act you can do to make the world safe for democracy."

HOMES A-TUNE WITH SPRING

FRESH DRAPERIES

After the house is clean as a pin, bright-colored Draperies and new Curtains bring the outdoors indoors!

Sheer Gauze is in high favor for Curtains, veiling the windows softly, but not excluding light. It is 50 inches wide and priced at $3.50 a yard.

Curtain Net, white, ivory and beige in bobbinet, filet net, colonial striped, plain marquisette and grenadine come in several widths.

Damasks, imported Scotch madras, halycon cloth and other lightweight overdrapes sell from $3.50 to $15.00 a yard.

Cretonnes, in both imported and domestic weaves, are to be had in all the diversity which a stock of 50,000 yards can provide. Practically every color combination is included. Hundreds of patterns are obtainable at 68c a yard. Other prices range to $6.50.

Velvet, the fabric that has stood for luxury through many generations, may be had in varied color tones. Plain, brocaded and cut velvet, velour, mohair, friezette, moquette and striped damasks range in price from $4.50 to $37.50.

Imported Liberty Damask, of exquisite patterning and shading, is 50 inches wide and is suitable for very handsome overdrapes, upholstery and wall work. Prices range from $12.50 to $25.00 a yard.

Madras, combines the daintiness of fragile weave with the richness of color. A wide range of choice is permitted in the colors and patterns.

LINEN NEWS

The dining room, breakfast room and bedrooms, in the process of getting renovated, will doubtless reveal the need of fresh Linens.

Robinson's is able to offer late patterns in:

Round Table Cloths from Belfast.

Centers and Luncheon Cloths, some finished with medallions or band insets of filet lace.

Imported Cloths, 36, 45 and 52 inches square, many with scalloped Napkins to match, have hand-blocked patterns in colors. These distinctive sets are especially effective in a breakfast room finished in light colors. Other squares in novelty weaves have rather wide cretonne borders, with narrow borders on the napkins.

Bedspreads, in white or colors. Some of these are hand-embroidered and have bolsters to match.

A full assortment of linen, half linen and all-cotton Towels, Bath Mats in pleasing shades and Bath Towels in many sizes is now available. SECOND FLOOR.

CLEANING HELPS

The newly decorated blue and white Basement has many suggestions for spring. There are wide assortments of:

—Paints, including a complete line of Sherwin-Williams Paints.

—Oils and Polishes, among which is Johnson's Floor Wax in containers of several sizes.

—Cleaners for windows, pipes, woodwork and woodstone sinks.

—Vacuum Cleaners, including such well-known makes as Hoover, Hot Point and Ohio Tuec.

—Hair Floor Brushes.

—Step Ladder Chairs and Step Ladder Stools.

—Cotton, Linen and O-Cedar Mops.

—Shelf Paper, in plain white, 14 and 28 inches wide.

Chamois of soft, absorbent quality.

BASEMENT.

REED FURNITURE

Furnished in reed and scattered about with gay pillows, the sun room or porch is likely to be the most popular gathering place in the house.

Glass-top Tables, Chairs, Desks, Benches, Ferneries, Day Beds, Settees, Lamps, and other occasional pieces are included in the spring showing.

SEVENTH FLOOR.

BED ROOM SETS

Within the last month Robinson's has opened a department of Bedroom Furniture.

Boudoir and Bedroom Sets come in both mahogany and ivory.

One interesting set—the pieces of which may be purchased separately—is in ivory finish decorated in polychrome. Selections may be from:

Twin Beds or Double Beds; Chiffoniers (with or without mirror); Vanity and semi-Vanity with bench; Dresser; Rocker; Desk and Chair; Bench and Night Stand.

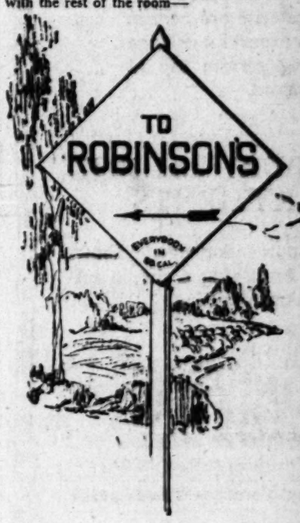
DECORATIVE SERVICE

—If one has a corner that somehow seems not in accord with the rest of the room—



—Or if the whole house needs an artistic revision—a taking down of draperies, side-lights and pictures to make way for new ones to go up!—Robinson's Consulting Decorative Service will be glad to give suggestions. Experts trained in the study and practice of interior decorating will give this service without charge.

Be Suspicious of Tender Gums

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system.

Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

Sound Sleep, the Most Effectual Restorative, Is Possible to ALL —If the BED Is Right!

To lie down at night and yield oneself to the gentle, ministering influence of a perfect bed, to feel one's muscles and nerves gradually but surely relaxing; to let one's consciousness slip softly away, and sweet, deep oblivion take its place; to awaken in the morning renewed and refreshed—eager to meet the day and its activities—that is an experience well worth making a habit.

Barker Bros.' Own Make Mattresses Are Sleep-Producers

They are as effective as sleeping powders, and far more healthful. It is because Barker Bros.' Mattresses fit the body—a point which is as necessary to sleeping comfort as that a shoe should fit the foot.

They allow the muscles and nerves of the body to slip into that blissful state of relaxation where there can be no resistance to sleep, the conqueror.

BARKER BROS.' BOX SPRINGS are another important feature of a sleep-making bed. They augment the sleep-producing principles of our Own-Make Mattresses.

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annnoying symptoms such as nervousness irritability, melancholia, heat flashes which produce headache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years of perfect health may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 18 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the result that I felt better and stronger than I have for years. I have also given it to my three daughters, and always with good results. The Vegetable Compound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. J. G. SWAREY, Route B, Thomas, Okla.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Miss Armour Leaving.

Miss Lolita Armour, who has been spending the winter on her Montecito estate and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell, parents of her fiance, at Pasadena, will leave tomorrow for San Francisco, where she will visit until Tuesday of next week, when she leaves for her home at Lake Forest, near Chicago. Friends state that her marriage to John J. Mitchell, Jr., will be an event of this spring at Lake Forest, and the young couple will probably spend their honeymoon abroad.

Going Abroad.

Mrs. William Miller Graham and her daughter Geraldine of Santa Barbara are going abroad in May, where they expect to spend a greater part of the summer. It is understood their plans call for several months in Venice. They will also visit in Paris.

Beckers Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry Rothwell and Alfred Cortot were the honor guests at a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Thilo Becker at their home Saturday evening. Her guests included Mme. Marguerite Matzenauer, Frank La Forge, Richard Buhlig, Mme. Hedwig Reicher, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Buchanan, Mme. Baranowski, P. Bodin, Mr. and Mrs. Romanov, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dreyfuss, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers, Mrs. Earl F. Montgomery, Mme. Cornelia Rider-Possart, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Crane, Miss Jeanne Redman, Mrs. Stephen Childs, Robert Farquhar, George Cole, Miss Olga Steeb, A. For San Francisco Bud.

Miss Marie Wirtner, an attractive Bay City bud, is to be honor guest at a tea, at which Miss Genevieve Maier is to entertain Sunday. Miss Maier is inviting fifty of the sub-debutante set, and is to be assisted by a bevy of young girls.

On Saturday Miss Maier gave a luncheon for Miss Wirtner and had a dozen guests.

Via Panama Canal.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Patton and daughter, Miss Anna Patton, of San Marino, sailed Sunday by way of the Panama Canal for New York and Washington, where they will visit for some time. In Washington they will visit Col. and Mrs. George S. Patton, Jr.

From Tour of East.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Marshall have returned from an extended tour of the East, including New York and Washington.

By Mrs. Post.

Mrs. Guy Bates Post is to be hostess today at an elaborate luncheon at the Annandale Country Club.

Bettingens Leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bettingen of Oak Knoll are to leave on Sunday for French Lick Springs, Ind., and Northwestern Canada, where Mr. Bettingen has large timber interests. Mr. Bettingen has just purchased the steam yacht Campanero from Capt. William Banning and is having it overhauled and will rename it the Imperial. On July 1 Mr. Bettingen will take his family for a tour of Alaska on the yacht. It will accommodate twelve.

For Veterans of World War.

At the Ambassador tomorrow the Assistance League is to give a tea-dansant in the palm room, the proceeds from which will be used for the benefit of needy veterans of the World War. The committee in charge includes Mrs. A. L. Cheney, Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas, Miss Mollie Adelia Brown, Mrs. Jotham Bixby, Jr., Mrs. R. D. Shephard, Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Charles Jeffras, Misses Eleanor Cole, Cecilia McLaughlin, Anne Moffitt, Katherine Keith, Margaret Kellogg, Byna Kinsley, Katheryn McGarry and Eleanor MacGowan.

In Honor of Visitors.

Mrs. Henry Clay Gooding and Miss Gertrude Gooding presided at a luncheon at the Ambassador Hotel yesterday as a courtesy to Mrs. Adele Vercoe of London, who is spending the winter in Los Angeles.

In honor of Mrs. Robert Burton of Chicago, who is touring California, Miss Gertrude Gooding entertained at a luncheon last week in the Mary Louise Tea Room, followed by a matinee party at the Majestic Theater.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Claire Louise Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Boyle of Washington, D. C., formerly of Kansas City, Mo., to George Willis Halm, son of Mrs. George M. Halm of Los Angeles, but now residing in Phoenix. The marriage will take place in Washington, D. C., April 26.

For Children of Europe.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A young woman is in love with a man who is a semi-invalid and wants to marry him. Her mother opposes the match, which seems very cruel to the girl, who thinks it would be perfectly lovely and sweet to devote her life to being a ministering angel to one afflicted with a combination of rheumatism and stomach trouble.

Somebody page the fool killer. Quick. In time to save this precious little idiot from wrecking her life. Husbands are hard enough to get along with, goodness knows, when they are strong and husky, with unimpaired digestions and steady nerves, without taking any chance on one whom ill health has made as irritable as a sore-headed bear.

If, after a couple are married, either one should have the misfortune to be stricken down by disease, it is the duty of the other one to meet the situation with tenderness and patience and courage, and do everything possible to alleviate the sad lot of the afflicted one. That is part of the chances of matrimony to which we pledge ourselves at the altar when we swear to take our life partners for better or worse, to cherish them in sickness or in health.

To meet misfortune with a brave front is one thing. To go out of your way to hunt for trouble and invite disaster is another, and just as the man and woman who turn their backs upon an invalid wife or husband are quitters and curs of the yellowest, so the man and woman who deliberately marry invalids are imbeciles who need to be locked up in a safe place until their temporary fit of insanity is over.

And the woman who marries an invalid man is in a degree more batty than the man who marries an invalid girl. For women have a talent for being sick that men do not possess. They can ameliorate the physical unattractiveness of disease with boudoir caps and pink and lace negligees. They can even "enjoy po' health," as our colored friends say, and get a certain pleasure out of lying around on couches and talking out their symptoms and their operations, and feeling that they have acquired a certain distinction because they can't do any of the things that other women do.

Thus you sometimes see an invalid woman who is calm and serene, and gentle and cheerful, but the sick man achieves no such pitch of grace. He is ugly, and cadaverous, and generally needs a shave and a hair-cut. He rages against the fate that has shut him out from the lot of other men, and he is just about as soothing a pet to have around the house as a fretful porcupine would be.

Nothing makes people so self-centered and selfish as ill health. Perhaps it is natural that those who are suffering should feel that the whole world is bounded by their ego, and that nothing else counts except what they feel. Anyway they do. They offer up everyone about them as living sacrifices, without compunction or appreciation.

And in this, too, the man invalid scores over the woman invalid, for every wife knows that a man with a sick headache can want enough things done for him to keep the whole staff of a hospital working at high speed.

If real life moved along on greased skids, as it does in novels, without being jarred by practical things, then a man would be justified in espousing the frail, delicate little flowerette of a girl who appeals so to his chivalry and makes him want to take her in his strong arms and shelter her from every blast that blows, and a woman might take the risk of uniting her life with that of the pale, suffering man who arouses her mother instinct, and makes her long to nurse and coddle him.

Alas, however, life isn't passed on the heights. It is lived down in the valley of the commonplace, and to be happy we have to have just the everyday things that make us comfortable. A man must be more than human if he can enjoy coming back after a hard day's work to a home in which everything goes at sixes and sevens, and where servants waste and steal, and there is disorder and confusion, because the wife is not able to look after it.

Nor is it cheering to him to know that he is going to be greeted by a neurotic woman whose only topic of conversation is her ailments, and in whose presence he must walk as warily as if treading on eggs, to avoid doing or saying something that will precipitate a crisis of nerves.

Such a man must be forever balked in his ambition, because all the money that he earns goes to doctors and trained nurses. Furthermore, he is tied like a slave to his wife's invalid chair and may neither leave her, nor take her, to where his fortune calls.

The woman who marries an invalid is even in worse case unless there be a fortune in the family. If they are poor she must earn the living as well as take care of him, and that's too big a job for any but a superwoman. Nor does it add to the gaiety of the situation that the finer the man is spiritually the more morbid and depressing to live with he will become over the burden he knows he is to his wife.

Sickness is supposed to enable people to lift their thoughts to the higher life. As a matter of fact, it makes them peevish and disagreeable, and glum, and grouchy, and gloomy, and unreasonable, and quick to take offense. Surely marriage, even with the healthy and normal-minded, is not such a picnic that one should choose as a mate a companion who is livery, and dyspeptic, and whose whole outlook and conversation are tinged with bile.

Good health means cheerfulness and amiability, and the ability to do things, and to make the best of life. We need it everywhere, but most of all does it take a good constitution, a sound digestion, and steady nerves to stand the wear and tear of matrimony.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Work for the Legion.

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Los Angeles should follow the good example of Tacoma and not employ any man in any public position, city or county, whose wife also has employment. Such position should be given to unemployed former soldiers. This also applies to State and United States government positions. No man should hold two positions—which is virtually the case when his wife is also at work, as long as there is an ex-soldier seeking work. Again, men who sneaked out of military service should not be allowed to hold a city, State, or national government position, in preference to an ex-soldier.

This is especially the case when these draft dodgers have wives who are also employed. Here is work for the Legion. It would be well for them to make a general investigation and see that no man holds two positions, while an ex-soldier is unemployed. This should apply especially to "stay-at-home" men of the conscription age. They are strong enough now to hold a job, but were too weak to serve their country when needed.

J. M. SCANLAND.

Owe Them Nothing.

PASADENA, April 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Yeatman in his letter of March 29 to you proves at least partially that we owe the Colombian blackmailers nothing. He states that Colombia cut down frequent revolutions. I believe that those revolutions prove that Panama wanted her independence. Next he states that Colombia did not benefit by the canal. Why should she? Also that Panama did not assume any part of the debt of Colombia. I have yet to hear that we ever paid any part of the debt of Great Britain when we broke away from her.

Now let me add a few important things Mr. Yeatman forgot to mention. First, three days after Panama declared her independence Colombia offered to resuscitate and ratify, the then dead, treaty providing that the United States would force Panama to return to Colombia. That is, she was going to hire the American Army to do what she couldn't. Our answer was the recognizing of the republic of Panama.

Second, the Bogota government offered to repudiate the concessions to the French Panama Canal Company and confiscate the property and sell it to us for a round sum. These concessions, with their extensions, had six years to run. Yet Colombia was willing to break her word for the sake of $40,000,000, for which France, and not she, had originally expended about $200,000,000. Then finding out that she had reached too far in her blackmailing scheme she sent Gen. Reyes to Washington to settle for $5,000,000. His attorney is authority for the statement that they would have settled for $5,000,000. The $20,000,000 increase in their blackmailing scheme, to quote William Roscoe Thayer, "represents the unearned increment which an industrious and persistent lobby can give to a transaction of this kind."

The newspapers mention that we are to pay this $25,000,000 so that some oil companies may have some concessions in Colombia. And so again blackmail is used to try to get this money. I firmly believe that we owe Colombia nothing and also I might add for Mr. Yeatman's benefit that the Maine was sunk again.

SHELDON I. JEWETT.

Monument for Mose.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When men go out to war, and for selfish motives mow down like sheep people of an enemy country, they are hailed as heroes and when they die, great piles of stone are erected so that future generations may know of the respect and love given these armed warriors by the people of their time.

But war and conquest is not all there is to life and men of military greatness are not the only heroes. Frequently a life is given in a cause greater than conquest, more lasting than military victory. When "Uncle Mose" Lowenstein passed from his labor here, the death marked the passing of a hero. During his life he cast sunshine into dark places and made the heart of youth beat faster, and the cheeks of children glow with healthy pleasure. But for Mose many a child of the less fortunate class would have been denied even the little frolics which are childhood's heritage. The whole city knows what this one great man has done and it is fair to say that all agree that his life was worth while and his labor one of universal benefit.

This, being so, why not erect a monument to "Uncle Mose." Why not inscribe on lasting stone a tribute to the memory of one who lived to build and not destroy. Why not start here and now to make it plain to people of all time that Los Angeles does honor a citizen who has given his time and energy that some lives would be brighter, some suffering less.

Los Angeles has never produced a more useful, lovable, valuable citizen than Moses Lowenstein, so why not proclaim the fact to all the world—build a monument to Mose.

WYLIE CARTER.

Time to Study.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is yet several months before the voters of Los Angeles will be called upon to register their choice for a new set of municipal officers at the polls. Now is the time to begin to study municipal problems.

If democratic government is to survive and the principles of this government are to endure the citizens more generally will have to take a more intelligent interest in things political.

There are a number of questions facing the city of Los Angeles that are important, not only from a tax-paying standpoint, but from the standpoint of the general present and future welfare, and careless voting may at this time destroy plans for the city's future greatness. Every candidate that announces himself for Mayor, represents certain groups and certain ideas. Every voter can, if he begins now, learn what these divisions mean and cast a ballot backed with the weight of intelligence. The voter who allows himself to be carried [illegible] single idea and votes [illegible] cause of this prejudice is not a citizen and is doing all he can to make popular government [illegible]

If you love your city, if you want for better things ahead, begin now. The few hours you spend to vote will bring returns to you in dollars and cents and will do more than any other act you may perform to "make the world safe for democracy."

HOMES A-TUNE WITH SPRING

FRESH DRAPERIES

After the house is clean as a pin, bright-colored Draperies and new Curtains bring the outdoors indoors!

Sheer Gauze is in high favor for Curtains, veiling the windows softly, but not excluding light. It is 50 inches wide and priced at $3.50 a yard.

Curtain Net, white, ivory and beige in bobbinet, filet net, colonial striped, plain marquisette and grenadine come in several widths.

Damasks, imported Scotch madras, halycon cloth and other lightweight overdrapes sell from $3.50 to $15.00 a yard.

Cretonnes, in both imported and domestic weaves, are to be had in all the diversity which a stock of 50,000 yards can provide. Practically every color combination is included. Hundreds of patterns are obtainable at 68c a yard. Other prices range to $6.50.

Velvet, the fabric that has stood for luxury through many generations, may be had in varied color tones. Plain, brocaded and cut velvet, velour, mohair, friezette, moquette and striped damasks range in price from $4.50 to $37.50.

Imported Liberty Damask, of exquisite patterning and shading, is 50 inches wide and is suitable for very handsome overdrapes, upholstery and wall work. Prices range from $12.50 to $25.00 a yard.

Madras, combines the daintiness of fragile weave with the richness of color. A wide range of choice is permitted in the colors and patterns.

LINEN NEWS

The dining room, breakfast room and bedrooms, in the process of getting renovated, will doubtless reveal the need of fresh Linens.

Robinson's is able to offer late patterns in:

Round Table Cloths from Belfast.

Centers and Luncheon Cloths, some finished with medallions or band insets of filet lace.

Imported Cloths, 36, 45 and 52 inches square, many with scalloped Napkins to match, have hand-blocked patterns in colors. These distinctive sets are especially effective in a breakfast room finished in light colors. Other squares in novelty weaves have rather wide cretonne borders, with narrow borders on the napkins.

Bedspreads, in white or colors. Some of these are hand-embroidered and have bolsters to match.

A full assortment of linen, half linen and all-cotton Towels, Bath Mats in pleasing shades and Bath Towels in many sizes is now available. SECOND FLOOR

CLEANING HELPS

The newly decorated blue and white Basement has many suggestions for spring. There are wide assortments of:

—Paints, including a complete line of Sherwin-Williams Paints.

—Oils and Polishes, among which is Johnson's Floor Wax in containers of several sizes.

—Cleaners for windows, pipes, woodwork and woodstone sinks.

—Vacuum Cleaners, including such well-known makes as Hoover, Hot Point and Ohio Tuec.

—Hair Floor Brushes.

—Step Ladder Chairs and Step Ladder Stools.

—Cotton, Linen and O-Cedar Mops.

—Shelf Paper, in plain white, 14 and 28 inches wide.

Chamois of soft, absorbent quality.

BASEMENT.

REED FURNITURE

Furnished in reed and scattered about with gay pillows, the sun room or porch is likely to be the most popular gathering place in the house.

Glass-top Tables, Chairs, Desks, Benches, Ferneries, Day Beds, Settees, Lamps, and other occasional pieces are included in the spring showing.

BED ROOM SETS

Within the last month Robinson's has opened a department of Bedroom Furniture.

Boudoir and Bedroom Sets come in both mahogany and ivory.

One interesting set—the pieces of which may be purchased separately—is in ivory finish decorated in polychrome. Selections may be from:

Twin Beds or Double Beds; Chiffoniers (with or without mirror); Vanity and semi-Vanity with bench; Dresser; Rocker; Desk and Chair; Bench and Night Stand.

Be Suspicious of Tender Gums

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateway for disease germs to enter the system.

Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Rigg's Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

As a matter of protection, you should see the contents of the Mattress you expect to purchase. Barker Bros. are delighted to exhibit the contents of their Mattresses.

Sound Sleep, the Most Effectual Restorative, Is Possible to ALL —If the BED Is Right!

To lie down at night and yield oneself to the gentle, ministering influence of a perfect bed, to feel one's muscles and nerves gradually but surely relaxing; to let one's consciousness slip softly away, and sweet, deep oblivion take its place; to awaken in the morning renewed and refreshed—eager to meet the day and its activities—that is an experience well worth making a habit.

Barker Bros.' Own Make Mattresses Are Sleep-Producers

They are as effective as sleeping powders, and far more healthful. It is because Barker Bros.' Mattresses fit the body—a point which is as necessary to sleeping comfort as that a shoe should fit the foot.

They allow the muscles and nerves of the body to slip into that blissful state of relaxation where there can be no resistance to sleep, the conqueror.

BARKER BROS.' BOX SPRINGS are another important feature of a sleep-making bed. They augment the sleep-producing principles of our Own-Make Mattresses.

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annnoying symptoms such as nervousness irritability, melancholia, heat flashes which produce headache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years of perfect health may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 18 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the result that I felt better and stronger than I have for years. I have also given it to my three daughters, and always with good results. The Vegetable Compound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. J. G. SWAREY, Route B, Thomas, Okla.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Miss Armour Leaving.

Miss Lolita Armour, who has been spending the winter on her Montecito estate and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell, parents of her fiance, at Pasadena, will leave tomorrow for San Francisco, where she will visit until Tuesday of next week, when she leaves for her home at Lake Forest, near Chicago. Friends state that her marriage to John J. Mitchell, Jr., will be an event of this spring at Lake Forest, and the young couple will probably spend their honeymoon abroad.

Going Abroad.

Mrs. William Miller Graham and her daughter Geraldine of Santa Barbara are going abroad in May, where they expect to spend a greater part of the summer. It is understood their plans call for several months in Venice. They will also visit in Paris.

Beckers Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry Rothwell and Alfred Cortot were the honor guests at a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Thilo Becker at their home Saturday evening. Her guests included Mme. Marguerith Matzenauer, Frank La Forge, Richard Buhlig, Mme. Hedwig Reicher, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Buchanan, Mme. Baranowski, P. Bodin, Mr. and Mrs. Romanov, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dreyfuss, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers, Mrs. Earl F. Montgomery, Mme. For San Francisco Bud.

Miss Marie Wirtner, an attractive Bay City bud, is to be honor guest at a tea, at which Miss Genevieve Maier is to entertain Sunday. Miss Maier is inviting fifty of the sub-debutante set, and is to be assisted by a bevy of young girls.

On Saturday Miss Maier gave a luncheon for Miss Wirtner and had a dozen guests.

Via Panama Canal.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Patton and daughter, Miss Anna Patton, of San Marino, sailed Sunday by way of the Panama Canal for New York and Washington, where they will visit for some time. In Washington they will visit Col. and Mrs. George S. Patton, Jr.

From Tour of East.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Marshall have returned from an extended tour of the East, including New York and Washington.

By Mrs. Post.

Mrs. Guy Bates Post is to be hostess today at an elaborate luncheon at the Annandale Country Club.

Bettingens Leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bettingen of Oak Knoll are to leave on Sunday for French Lick Springs, Ind., and Northwestern Canada, where Mr. Bettingen has large timber interests. Mr. Bettingen has just purchased the steam yacht Campanero from Capt. William Banning and is having it overhauled and will rename it the Imperial. On July 1 Mr. Bettingen will take his family for a tour of Alaska on the yacht. It will accommodate twelve.

For Veterans of World War.

At the Ambassador tomorrow the Assistance League is to give a tea-dansant in the palm room, the proceeds from which will be used for the benefit of needy veterans of the World War. The committee in charge includes Mrs. A. L. Cheney, Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas, Miss Mollie Adelia Brown, Mrs. Jotham Bixby, Jr., Mrs. R. D. Shephard, Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Charles Jeffras, Misses Eleanor Cole, Cecilia McLaughlin, Anne Moffitt, Katherine Keith, Margaret Kellogg, Byna Kinsley, Katheryn McGarry and Eleanor MacGowan.

In Honor of Visitors.

Mrs. Henry Clay Gooding and Miss Gertrude Gooding presided at a luncheon at the Ambassador Hotel yesterday as a courtesy to Mrs. Adele Vercoe of London, who is spending the winter in Los Angeles.

In honor of Mrs. Robert Burton of Chicago, who is touring California, Miss Gertrude Gooding entertained at a luncheon last week in the Mary Louise Tea Room, followed by a matinee party at the Majestic Theater.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Claire Louise Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Boyle of Washington, D. C., formerly of Kansas City, Mo., to George Willis Halm, son of Mrs. George M. Halm of Los Angeles, but now residing in Phoenix. The marriage will take place in Washington, D. C., April 26.

For Children of Europe.

OVER THERE.

Also looks as if President Harding would get a lot of votes in France if he cares to run for anything. If he were to visit Paris he could hardly escape being kissed.

THE BATTLERS.

If the British lion and Frank P. Walsh could be locked up in the same room or brought together in the same ring it would make a pretty fight. The only objection is that Frank would want to use his toe-nails or would make desperate efforts to poke his thumb in the lion's eyes.

WATCH YOUR STEP.

Now it is reported that the promoters of Clara Smith Hamon's forthcoming adventure in the movies have formed a special film company and are advertising the stock for sale among the oil magnates of Oklahoma. They are painting an alluring prospect of wealth to be garnered in exploitation of Clara in the pictures. It is understood that Clara herself is billed as the vice-president or treasurer of the new company. An Oklahoma jury acquitted Clara of the indiscretion of murdering her lover, but if she gets mixed up in any money business wherein Oklahoma citizens are trickily separated from their well-earned money all the lawyers in the United States cannot save her from jail.

BY THE MARKETS.

Representative farmers from all over the country are in conference in Chicago over marketing problems. This is good business. What the world wants is the shortest and easiest path from the producer to the consumer—a path that is freed as much as possible of the tribute-levying middleman. The Chicago conference will gather expert opinion on methods of marketing fruit, grain and live stock. California is sending twenty-five or thirty delegates who are interested in the disposition of oranges, prunes, grapes and other Southland products. The new Secretary of Agriculture will be among those present, both to give and receive suggestions and ideas. The rancher has come to realize that the advantageous marketing of his crop is about the greatest problem of all.

BACK TO NORMALCY.

One of the leading magazine editors and economic writers of America has compiled exhaustive information which convinces him that the new average price level in this country will be reached before the end of May. Below that it will not materially fall. It will be 60 per cent higher than the level of the same commodities in 1913. The high peak was reached in May of last year, when prices averaged 172 per cent above the normal of 1913. Since then the fall has been spasmodic but persistent. The same authority says that wages will reach their new level within the next two months and this will also be at 60 per cent above the 1913 figures, so far as the average trade and occupations are concerned. With this adjustment the country is assured of an extended period of good times in which neither prices nor wages will indicate any notable range. Sounds like normalcy. Seems reasonable, anyhow.

WHERE MARY WENT.

California will always demand and have good schools, but the State should not fall into the keeping of any educational trust with a passion for cluttering up our young with all manner of fads and fancies. We are spending something like fifty million dollars a year on the schools of our State and are not sure we are getting the worth of our money. If our offspring were well grounded in arithmetic, grammar, spelling and courtesy we would feel more sure of it. But when so much time is given to facial decoration and jazz one may be excused for doubt. When the school completely takes the place of the parent and undertakes to drill the pupil in everything from running a Ford to counting the stars—in Hollywood—it is going beyond its just and proper boundaries. Boards of education ought not to expect to spend all the money there is in the world in teaching the young idea how to shoot. Save some of the ammunition for a lean season.

STILLED VOICES.

The deaths of a day revive memories of the stage of long ago. We are told of the passing at her Connecticut home of Mrs. Charles M. Raymond, widow of a former New York banker, but who in earlier life was none other than Annie Louise Cotey, who more than half a century ago was believed as one of the world's sweetest singers. She was the long-time operatic associate of Clara Louise Kellogg. With them later was Anna Dickinson and they formed a trio that flooded the land with harmony. Also there is chronicled on the same day the death of Alfred Griffin Field, the dean of American minstrels, who had brought innocent merriment to millions of American men and women. He organized his minstrel company thirty-five years ago and it had continued its mirthful career throughout every season since. There was not much in common between the two stilled voices, yet both had accomplished much in making this old world endurable and companionable.

VIVIANI'S VISIT.

One result of the visit of Rene Viviani, French statesman and orator, and his commission to Washington has been to inform the American people of the probable attitude of our own government on a number of important international matters. M. Viviani and members of his suite have held confidential interviews with President Harding and Secretary Hughes. In the Viviani party is Stephen Lauzanne, editor of Le Matin, one of the leading Paris dailies. While no information was given out in Washington concerning the Viviani mission and the results it had attained, M. Lauzanne sent cables to his paper in Paris containing what, in diplomatic parlance, would be termed indiscretions.

In those cables M. Lauzanne informed the French people that the present government in the United States would never join the League of Nations as it is at present constituted. He wired that the President and Mr. Hughes are adamant on this point and that the French government and people should not build for the future on false hopes.

M. Lauzanne professes to have discovered, further, that the Senate will pass the Knox resolution declaring that a state of peace exists with Germany. It is probably due to his lack of information concerning American legislative procedure that he makes no mention of what may happen to that resolution in the House of Representatives. He apparently labors under the delusion that the Senate alone has jurisdiction in all matters relating to making peace. Unlike the ratification of a peace treaty, a resolution declaring a state of peace to exist would have to be approved by both houses of Congress.

M. Lauzanne has also cabled to his paper that the present administration would lend neither aid nor comfort to Germany's attempt to evade payment of reparations for damages done by her troops during the war. Concurrently with the publication of that cable our State Department made public correspondence with Germany which shows that our country at least does not disapprove of the attempt of the Allies to enforce collection.

While these indiscretions on the part of the French editor will not affect in any way the cordial relations existing between the American and French governments, it is naturally embarrassing, alike to Secretary Hughes and to M. Jusserand, the French Ambassador, to have the announcements of the policies of the present administration made in the columns of the French press instead of through regular administration channels. M. Lauzanne discussed certain political and economic questions affecting the two countries with the President and Mr. Hughes, not as a representative of a Paris newspaper, but as a member of a French diplomatic mission. The relations of M. Lauzanne, the editor, M. Lauzanne, the diplomat, unfortunately became slightly confused.

Former Premier Viviani's visit, however, has not been barren of good results. It has called attention to the fact that our allies will lose with extreme regret the co-operation of the United States in bringing the affairs of Europe back to what President Harding terms "normalcy." He has reiterated that France will not repudiate a dollar of the debt that she contracted with other nations during the war. France is not looking to our government for financial support. Her national finances are disorganized by reason of the fact that the reparations provided for in the treaty and which she expected to receive at once have not been made. M. Viviani points out that two and one-half years have passed since Germany signed an armistice in which she agreed in advance to make reparations, but that no money has yet been paid.

M. Viviani's mission is a confidential one. He came to this country as a representative of the French government in order to get an understanding of the contemplated policies of the Harding administration and to give confidential information concerning the general views of his own government. He acts in an advisory and not in an executive capacity. He held an important position in the French government during the greater part of the war period, was often in confidential communication with Gen. Pershing and his staff and is known as one of the best friends of the United States in French public life.

It was a great disappointment and humiliation to Viviani that the American Senate declined to ratify the Versailles Treaty; although he is not embittered by what took place. He is known to have advised President Wilson that the sentiment of France was such that the government would not object to the reservations proposed by the majority of the United States Senate. According to the dispatches in the Paris press, he has given to President Harding assurance that the French government will be pleased to enter into negotiations looking either to a revision of the covenant of the League of Nations or to the negotiation of a new covenant along the lines suggested by the President in his campaign addresses. The French press intimates that the probable result of his visit will be the arrangement of preliminaries for a new conference in which the five nations whose commissioners drew the Versailles Treaty shall participate.

PRODDING THE PICTURES.

It is hard for the meddlers to keep their hands off of the motion-picture industry. The State Senate Judiciary Committee has before it the Eden bill creating a board of review of moving pictures. This is a direct approach to official censorship and it is hoped to devise some plan whereby the Sacramento machine will be able to derive a substantial rake-off from the films. It doesn't make much difference what form the supervision takes as long as it is a revenue-producer. The Eden bill doesn't come from Edendale, nor is it indorsed by Adam and Eve. It is not as depressing as it might be, however, and from the standpoint of those puritans who demand film censorship, it is mild. But there is no reason in the world why the California legislators should waste time just now in experimental legislation. The producers themselves are doing a fine bit of house-cleaning on their own volition and merit approval rather than suspicion. It should be the purpose of California to make the course of the camera man as free and unrestrained as is consistent with public morals and public policy. In one sense he is doing more for the State than any man in it and he should never be baited or harried.

Another bill before the Assembly would eject from the stage all drinking scenes or pictures showing a dash of dissipation—whether it merely smelt of home brew or was in the madness of a mining camp. The big idea is to banish all recollection of booze, and if the last trace of half of 1 per cent can be taken out of the pictures the world could be made safe for Jack Johnson.

Between its friends and its enemies the movie industry has a ticklish path to travel.

After We've Packed His Little Bag and Everything!

OIL AS AN IRRITANT.

Oil is now troubling calm waters.

The British government has adopted an oil monopoly program which has brought serious complications. Although the British Empire last year produced less than 4 per cent of the world's oil output, England feels that she must be assured of having subject to her order from 50 to 60 per cent of the output. To safeguard that new program England entered into the San Remo agreement, virtually shutting American oil men out of the Near East. Simultaneously, she bought into the chief British and Dutch companies and closed the Mesopotamian and Persian fields to non-British producers.

Prior to this, American oil men had led the world in production here and abroad, working on a basis of letting any foreigner come here for oil and of Americans going wherever they chose in search of it. The new British program amounted to slamming the door in the face of America, Mesopotamia becoming the test center of the new policy.

Unfortunately for the effect of this policy on British opinion, the test field chosen by the authorities has been singularly unfruitful. Reputed the greatest of oil regions, Mesopotamia has so far resulted only in staggering drains on the British treasury. As a producing zone it is not at all comparable with the Anglo-Persian field. The net loss to England from the administration of Mesopotamia is now $600,000,000 annually—plus the distrust of the United States.

Meanwhile events have added to the seriousness with which the oil question is regarded on this side of the Atlantic. Although England thinks that she needs the bulk of the world's oil, the United States is more completely on an oil basis than is any other land. The consumption of oil for the whole world, including the United States, is 16 gallons per capita annually. The consumption of the United States is 210 gallons per capita annually.

In spite of being the greatest oil-producing nation in the world, the United States had to import 100,000,000 barrels from Mexico last year to meet its own requirements. We further lessened our surplus by heavy shipments to Europe, particularly to England. We are exhausting our own fields and our auxiliary fields in Mexico so rapidly that the necessity for going freely everywhere in search of oil is so pressing that it cannot be balked. It is because the British policy attempts to halt our search abroad at a time when that search must be pressed as never before that the situation becomes critical.

There are already indications in the statements by Premier Lloyd George and by leading British journals that England realizes she has taken an untenable position and is willing to modify it. But, for the sake of mutual understanding, England, if she has abandoned her oil program, should make it clear that she has done so, and not leave the matter in vicious uncertainty.

Military superiority, upon which must rest ultimately the question of the ability of one nation to check the economic expansion of another, is not with England now as it once was. Neither, in the purely economic sphere, is she what she once was alongside of us. She was, before the war, our creditor to the extent of $3,000,000,000. She is now our debtor by close to $11,000,000,000. The whip hand, then, is not England's.

But the United States does not want to use the whip hand to cause England any embarrassment when she is in a serious economic condition. The people of the United States, despite the keen rivalry born of the new situation and the lashing of jingos, want to work with England toward better world conditions and an ever-growing friendship between the two peoples.

At the same time, they want no discrimination against America in oil or in any other product. At a time when the American people want to get the government out of business and to get business into government they are particularly opposed to a situation which, if persisted in, would force the American government to practically enter the oil business in competition with the British government, with resulting loss of production and a still more acute oil shortage.

The same course, the friendly course, the only course for the British government to assume is one which will remove the oil question as an irritant between the two nations. That is the very simple one of hands off by both governments, allowing and encouraging individual citizens of any and all lands to go freely wherever they choose in search of a commodity which the whole world greatly needs.

NORMALCY IN THE BALKANS.

They are getting back to normalcy in the Balkans. The unfortunate lull in the centuries-old internal warfare which the World War imposed upon the cockpit of two continents has been practically overcome, and if the larger states of Europe do not meddle right away so as to limit contests within that peninsula to a two-sided scrap the old days of ceaseless warfare, brigandage, massacres and raids will be restored.

It is the prospect of being forced to confine themselves to a two-sided struggle that is causing apprehension to those Balkan elements which never feel natural unless they are fighting.

It was not war that irritated the races of the Balkans during the comparative lull of 1914 to 1918. What enraged and maddened the wild chieftains and their ferocious followers was the system of hard and fast lines on which the struggle had to proceed. Restrictions were imposed by outside nations which were distasteful to men trained for generations in simultaneous local, tribal, racial, national and international intrigues and acts of violence.

Not satisfied with having tried to force the Balkan peoples to take one side or the other, certain European states are now adopting the utterly preposterous course of seeking to put them all on one side. The result is that "Hell's Caldron" is beginning to seethe again, turmoil is approaching its former high level and the region is getting back to normal, which is to say to chaos.

The east and the west have met in the Balkans, as have the north and the south, the Moslem and the Christian, the Jew and still other Christians, the Slav and the Turk and representatives of almost every dominant nation looking out toward the Mediterranean. The most warlike races of Europe and Asia have planted their colonies there and those have never lost their fighting qualities or their determination to remain free. There have been not less than a dozen dominant and domineering races represented, all bent on ruling, all ready to fight to the last against being mastered.

Everything about the Balkans is wild—the topography, the customs, the people, the past. Even the gods could not dwell together in peace there, for, it will be recalled, Mt. Olympus, home of the Greek gods, is in the Balkans and the life they led there, assuming the narrative of Greek devotees to be correct, was a fitting prelude to what happened when mere mortals took that stage.

Every race that has a footing in the Balkans has its back to the wall and stands against the outside world and against every other race. In those 184,000 square miles of territory into which 20,000,000 frantic and ferocious and discordant people have been held by the pressure of external influences there has not been real peace over any great period of time in the last 2500 years.

War cannot start in the Balkans for the ghastly reason that it has never stopped there.

THE TELLTALE HAND.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) March 31.—The ideal hand, symmetrical and slender, may be absolutely characterless; even worse, it may indicate undesirable traits, according to Mrs. Harriet Gunn Roberson, the well-known character analyst.

"If you have long, delicate fingers you probably have good judgment about your dress and personal appearance," says Mrs. Roberson, "whereas the short-fingered person is apt to be less of a connoisseur in this respect. Where the owner of the stubby fingers scores is that he is likely to be a more loyal friend than the longer-fingered person. Short fingers go with a common-sense, straight-forward temperament and long ones mean greater interest in fine detail. The long-fingered person is a more esthetic type and one which is likely to be supersensitive, easily offended.

"This is not palmistry. It is psychology," Mrs. Roberson explains. "Character is written as plainly in the hand as it is in the face. The one serves as a check upon the other.

"If I see signs of strong executive ability in the hand I look for the same indications in the face. If I find the quality there in a lesser degree, then my conclusion is modified. But the face and the hand generally agree. You will not find the sign of great executive ability on the hand and the extreme opposite in the face.

"The hand which shows this particular trait of managing affairs has a long first finger. Napoleon, an outstanding example of the executive genius, had a first finger that was as long as his middle finger. This peculiarity has been shown in some of statues of Napoleon.

THIRD FINGER SIGNIFICANT.

"The third finger, or ring finger, carries the sign of success. The more it approaches the second finger in length the more successful the owner is apt to be. In the little finger length indicates capacity for friendship and business versatility.'"

It is not easy for the layman to see how psychology is connected with these theories concerning length of fingers. There are other connections between hands and character that are easier for us to understand. For one thing, schools of salesmanship teach pupils to glance at the back of the customer's hand to note the texture. The person with a coarsely grained skin will be less particular about the beauty of an article and more interested in wearing qualities or practical value.

This seems simple reasoning. We naturally accept the statement that a finely grained skin goes with an aristocratic personality. But this idea has been established in the same way as the theory of the long first finger being a sign of signal executive talent. Both are based on observation and general conclusions.

Some of the theories on this subject are very old, handed down first by traditions and superstitions and later written into books on character, or mentioned casually in general writings. Other formulas have been fixed by persons who devoted years to the study of the hand. One Frenchman, especially, observed the hands of people in various countries for thirty years and delved into literature and history to gather data on hands and their relation to character. The result of a lifelong study he placed in a thick volume with the facts and conclusions carefully detailed. That book was published over fifty years ago, but the bulk of its conclusions are in accord with what psychology says about the hand today.

Thus, modern medical science recognizes a close connection between hand and brain and avers that there is a thumb center in the brain. This bears out the theory of the Frenchman, who, after thirty years study, announced that "Infants, up to the time when their intelligence begins to be developed, keep their hands continually closed, folding their fingers over the thumb; but in proportion as, with the body, the mind becomes developed, the thumb in turn folds itself over the fingers."

WATCH THE THUMB.

As an extension of this theory that the thumb is directly connected with intelligence, it has often been said that persons who habitually hold the thumb folded inside the fingers are not intellectually fit. This has sometimes been refuted on the grounds that, while mental defectives often do this, persons of recognized mental ability have been known to have the habit of nervously holding the thumb between fingers and palm.

Character analysts say that a large, well-developed thumb indicates strong will, and an undersized, thin thumb shows a character lacking in decision. Feeble-minded people sometimes have this undeveloped thumb, and in occasional cases, no thumbs at all.

There is much medical lore back of this thumb theory. It is well known to doctors, for instance, that after death, or sometimes as death approaches, the thumb, symbol of the will and mental control, turns in toward the palm in token of surrender.

Doctors take note of the hand in general practice as a guide to the physical condition of the patient. The yellow tinge indicating a bad drainage system and the pallor of anemia are shown plainly in the hand, as well as the clear pink of the healthy person.

Character, health and experience, Mrs. Roberson says, are all written in the hand, and sometimes even more than in the face, because the hand is not under control as the face is. This is shown in the effect of trouble on the face and hand. A woman tries to keep lines of worry out of her face and, with the help of beauty doctors and constant attention, she can succeed remarkably.

"Such a woman," Mrs. Roberson says, "came to me the other day. Her face was smooth and fresh, but her hands had lines showing worry and cares. 'You have a good deal of trouble,' I said to her. 'Nothing but trouble all my life,' she answered. 'But I've tried to hide it.'"

The lines of trouble in the hand, Mrs. Roberson holds, have no connection with the life line, line of fate and other data of palmistry. It is not clear why they come. There is possibly muscular contraction as in the formation of wrinkles in the face. But the individual is unconscious of the process.

There is much more that can be read on the hand. The prominence of the joints, the shape and size of the nails, the ends of the fingers, whether pointed, square or spatulate, all show the inclinations and abilities of the owner. It should be noted it is not wise to say outright. "You have spatulate fingers; therefore you have the truly creative mind," because other signs may modify or strengthen that particular indication.

"The hand is a fascinating study," Mrs. Roberson says, "and one which gives the expert a keen insight into human character."

Here, then, is another aid to Sherlock Holmes. No longer can the villain pat on his poker-face expression and pull his hat down and his collar up and feel safe. There is just one refuge for the man who is afraid of the verdict on his hands, and that is to wear gloves.

SOUTHWESTWARD, HO!

BY HARRY BOWLING.

I.

From the solitude primeval,
Mountain, waste and wind-swept mesa,
Where the sheep-track and the wheel-rut
First inscribed these sun-baked spaces;
From the tumble-down adobe,
Rough corral and shiftless homestead,
From the Mexican pueblo,
Hopeless in its isolation.
From the old Camino Real,
Hallowed by the brown-robed padre;
Build your new and modern highway,
Lined by avenues of shade trees,
In among green groves and orchards,
Leading on to stately cities,
Bungalows in flowers embedded,
Mansions crowning noble hilltops,
In a wealth of tropic verdure,
Through a landscape, changed, transfigured,
By the genius of your people;
Still extend the modern highway,
GREATER SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA,
STRAIGHT AHEAD!

II.

By the might of captive metals,
Held in prison walls of granite
Underneath the warden mountains;
By the pools of sunken treasure,
Seeping through the shale and rubble
Where no plummet yet has sounded;
By the cataracts of water,
Foaming through a thousand gorges,
Still untamed, untaught, unharnessed;
By the Trinity Dynamic—
Iron—Oil and Power Transmission—
Onward build the modern highway
Into vaster fields industrial,
Into newer enterprises,
Into realms of untried marvels;
Till your ports are packed with vessels,
Till your harbors grip the ocean,
Like the fingers of a giant;
Till the treasures of the Orient,
South Sea Isles and far Australia,
Pour into your crowded cities,
Calling—clamoring for the produce
Of your factories and workshops;
Till the center of world commerce
Shifts to your Pacific seaboard;
Carry on the modern highway,
GREATER SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA,
STRAIGHT AHEAD!

III.

By the blessings heaven has sent you,
In the sustenance of sunshine,
In the magnitude of mountain,
In the variegated landscape,
In the wealth of art and nature
(Where man's work and God's creation
Meet in joyous, fecund wedlock)
Open up the modern highway,
Pave it with the strength of purpose,
Grade it to the loftier levels
Far above the fogs of failure;
Garnish it with architecture
Better than old bests have fashioned;
Till it shines in bright perspective,
Like the track of broad white moonlight,
Apexed on your midnight ocean,
From the circle of the shoreline
To the very stars of heaven;
Hold on high the steady vision,
"Nothing short of full perfection"—

THE WISE PHYSICIAN.

I had a lot of pimples upon my princely mug, and I took yarbs and simples and bitters by the jug. My blood was out of order, my life was full of care, and I was near the border of bottomless despair. And many learned physicians prescribed their capsules gray; alas, alas, conditions grew punker every day. And then I sought a healer who just had come to town, and many a boosting spieler proclaimed his wide renown. No silly, trifling question was by this doctor sprung concerning my digestion, my liver or my lung. He said, "You're always fussing with Jinks, who lives next door; you two are roundly cussing each other ever more. Unless you live serenely your ills I cannot cure; so long you've acted meanly it's made your blood impure. For giving way to passion gives rise to many ills, and you, in angry fashion, keep kicking o'er the thills. Go home and quit expounding the riot act to Jinks, and health and peace abounding will soon remove your kinks." His counsel, wisely given, I took and saved my life, and from my head were driven all thoughts of hate and strife; and now glad smiles and dimples are strung around my map, where once unseemly pimples were prone to overlap. Down on the beach today the girls are bare-legged and bare-headed, half the mischief brewing in the minds of the men spectators. Once there was in the heads of the boys who used to hang around the corner stores waiting for a girl to pass, a wind. It is all in getting used to things.

British explorers are arranging to make the ascent of Mt. Everest possible. What sort of a road will be necessary? If there were a perpendicular road from the base of Mt. Everest to the level to its summit it would require an elevator ascending at a foot a minute more than eight hours to reach the summit. Can you imagine the sort of atmosphere there would be found at the height of 29,000 feet above sea level—five and one-half miles?

Leave it to the Chicago police to do things. A teacher in the public schools has started a crusade against the use of "baby talk," saying that it is the cause of stammering and other impediments of speech. Whether you take it, is a serious attack on the art of courting industry. A girl would hardly be satisfied if she did not hear a little of that sugary, mushy stuff. Besides, "Mother Goose" will never step aside for the pedagogue's dictionary in this country.

THE PRIMA DONNA'S VOICE.

Her voice was like the lark
That sings in woodland dells
When fairies dance in moonlight pale
And weave their magic spells.

Her voice was like the bee
The honey-making kind
When odors from the apple trees
Are fragrant in the wind.

Her voice was like a mountain
The birth of sound supreme
An anthem grand of earth and sky
The Muse's heavenly theme.

Her voice was like a memory
That's cherished many years
When love and youth and hope meet
And mingle parting tears.

Her voice was like a sad farewell
Celestial in its woe—
A paradise that none can know
And only God can know.

Sidelights on Banking

Believing that a great many people are not taking advantage of all the varied services of modern Departmental Banks, the Guaranty Bank presents this series of short articles on banking, intended to clear up many common misunderstandings and to point out ways in which your bank can be of greater benefit to you. The next of the series will appear in this paper at an early date.

NUMBER THREE

The Rediscouting Privilege

The "rediscounting privilege" is generally given as one of the principal advantages of the Federal Reserve System. Yet there is a lack of clearness with many people as to just what it is, and wherein its merits lie.

"Rediscounting" is merely a means by which member banks may secure funds from the Federal Reserve Banks in order to accommodate business men and farmers with necessary loans in times of heavy demand for money. It is one of the features of "credit elasticity" provided by the Federal Reserve System.

How It Is Used

Let us assume that a certain man has obtained from this bank a loan of $1,000, which is necessary in his business. In order to secure additional loanable funds with which to supply the needs of other customers, the bank may find it expedient to realize on this note by "rediscounting" it. Accordingly, it guarantees the note and turns it over to the Federal Reserve Bank, receiving in return $1,000, less the total amount of interest charged by the latter. This transaction does not in any way affect the original borrower.

We value this "rediscounting privilege" with the Federal Reserve Bank not so much in making use of it as a regular practice, but in being able to make use of it when necessary or desirable.

OFT-TRIED ONE FACES DEFEAT.

Politicians See Hot Fight Ahead for the Mayor.

Declare Switch on Bullock's Alienated Many Votes.

Criswell Tells of Work of Council Majority.

BY THE WATCHMAN.

Mayor Snyder in his present eighth effort to be elected Mayor of Los Angeles faces the severest fight of his career, was the opinion expressed by politicians yesterday. With the qualifying for mayoralty places on the May 3 primaries ballot of President Workman of the City Council and George E. Cryer, the Mayor finds himself in a three-cornered fight in which he is on the defensive, they pointed out. He will be attacked, they declare, for changing his position on the Bullock's ordinance, which he signed in 1919, only to join in Hearst's hue and cry to revoke the measure.

The Mayor's friends assert, on the other hand, that he is an old and tried campaigner and can meet all attacks. He is now entering his sixty-third year and says that he is prepared to wage an active campaign.

OFFERING ODDS.

Mayor Snyder has been defeated for Mayor three times and his opponents are offering odds of ten to seven that he will be defeated this year. His first defeat was in December, 1898—twenty-three years ago—when he was beaten for Mayor by Fred Eaton. The general election of 1904 marked the Mayor's second defeat, Owen McAleer being the successful candidate, with a plurality over Mr. Snyder of 3361. In 1917, Frederic T. Woodman defeated Mr. Snyder at the primaries.

Of his seven tries at the office of Mayor Mr. Snyder has been victorious four times, defeating Julius H. Martin in 1896, beating Herman Silver in 1900, P. W. Powers in 1902, and F. T. Woodman at the last election in 1919.

Before running for the office of Mayor for the first time twenty-five years ago, Mayor Snyder had been a member of the Board of Police Commissioners, and in 1892 was a member of the City Council from the old second ward.

WON HIM FRIENDS.

President Workman of the City Council, who is opposing Mayor Snyder, was "high man" in 1919 among the councilmanic candidates, receiving 44,000 votes. He was the first white child born east of the river in Los Angeles in the first American-built house on Boyle Heights and has taken an active part in the development of the city from the time when it included only a few scattered thousands to its present position today as the metropolis of the Pacific Coast. He served as chief deputy treasurer under W. H. Workman, who was Mayor from 1887-1888 and was affectionately known as "Uncle Billy" Workman. Boyle Workman was a member of the Board of Public Service Commissioners from 1913 until 1917. He was indorsed by the Association for Betterment of Public Service when he ran for the City Council two years ago. His determined stand in the matter of keeping faith with Bullock's, as a matter of fair play and also of maintaining the reputation of the city government for integrity and good faith in the face of bitter personal attacks made on him by W. R. Hearst in the columns of the Los Angeles Examiner and Evening Herald, has made thousands of friends for Mr. Workman.

HAS GOOD BACKING.

George E. Cryer, who is also opposing Mayor Snyder in the city primaries, came to Los Angeles in 1885 from Nebraska and has made a splendid reputation as a lawyer of ability and courage. He has been chief deputy District Attorney under Mr. Woolwine, first assistant City Attorney under now Judge Shenk, and has served as assistant United States Attorney. Mr. Cryer is being backed for Mayor by Oscar Lawler, Louis M. Cole, Alfred L. Bartlett, Will H. Anderson and others of equally high standing in the city.

William Morse, Jr., an attorney, assumed charge of the speakers' bureau at the Cryer-for-Mayor headquarters, 416 South Spring street, yesterday. Arrangements are being made for Mr. Cryer to appear before several civic organizations this week, it is stated. He opened his weekly program with an address before the Business Women's Civic Club last evening. The effect of harmonious co-operation between all departments of the city government was the subject of Mr. Cryer's discourse. He emphasized the necessity for co-ordinating branches of the municipal corporation in order to obtain efficient and adequate revenue, thus reducing the tax burden.

CRISWELL SPEAKS.

Councilman Criswell, candidate for re-election, addressed the members of the Upper San Fernando Valley Improvement Association at Owenamouth last night. Besides telling of the work of the majority members of the present City Council for the San Fernando district of the city, Councilman Criswell devoted attention to the Bullock's controversy started by the Hearst newspapers in order to club Bullock's into spending money for advertising in the Examiner and Evening Herald.

HEADS COMMITTEE.

Fire Commissioner Denman is chairman of the Men's Executive Committee of Mayor Snyder's campaign forces which will work for his re-election at the May 3 primaries, according to a statement issued yesterday from the Snyder headquarters at 345 South Hill street. Mrs. Mildred Buxton is chairman of the Women's Executive Committee. The speakers' bureau will be in charge of Marshall Stimson. There were nearly 2000 names on the list of members of all Snyder campaign committees announced yesterday.

The work of checking the names on the nominating petitions of candidates seeking places on the May 3 ballot continued yesterday and will not be completed before the last of this week. City Attorney Stephens has held that any candidate whose petition when checked is found to lack the necessary 500 names of registered voters, may have until 5 p.m. Friday to file supplementary names.

West Hixton Bringing Products of Islands to Los Angeles.

According to information given out yesterday by the local offices of the Philippine American Company, Inc., with headquarters at Manila, the company has dispatched its first shipment of purchased products to Los Angeles on board the United States Shipping Board freighter West Hixton, operated by the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company. The goods included in this shipment are copra, copra cake, copra fodder and copra fertilizer.

The Philippine American Company was incorporated recently in Los Angeles. The investors in the company, which is the only one of its kind in actual operation, it is said, are Filipinos. The company was organized for the purpose of developing a broader market in the United States for products from the Philippine Islands, and to bring the islands into closer touch with the United States.

Large Sum of Money in Possession of Watts Man is Missing.

Investigation was started yesterday by deputy sheriffs regarding the circumstances of the death of Ed Oblander, whose body was found at his residence, 1915 Nadeau avenue, Watts. It was thought he had died of natural causes until F. O. Lake, a neighbor, stated he had played checkers with Oblander the night before Oblander was found dead, and that the latter had a large roll of bills. No money was found on the body.

SNOW TIES UP VALLEY TRAFFIC

Many Auto Parties Trapped on Edge of Imperial.

Some Anxiety for Deciduous Fruit in Southland.

Shipping Forced to Harbors by State-Wide Storm.

For the first time within the memory of the oldest resident of Imperial Valley, snow fell yesterday within ten miles of El Centro. According to Associated Press dispatches there was about a five-inch fall near the valley city. High winds and snow are reported in the mountains encircling the valley and a score or more automobile parties are declared to be snowbound. Sandstorms accompanying the winds have made travel difficult.

Citrus growers in this county did not anticipate fruit damage from low temperature last night and this morning, but some anxiety was felt in regard to the safety of the deciduous fruit crop. The apricot crop in San Fernando Valley is said to be only about 40 per cent of normal, while the peach crop is about up to normal. In the Ontario district it was feared last night that the young peaches might be nipped. Heavy to killing frosts throughout the Pacific Coast States, followed by fair and colder weather in Southern California and fair and warmer weather in Northern California, was the United States Weather Bureau forecast for today.

The severe windstorm Sunday night and yesterday did practically no damage in and around Los Angeles. The telephone company declares that wires are down at several points, but that no material damage has been reported. The storm was general in the State, and along the coast from San Diego to Cape Flattery. In many places snow fell and in others cold rains are reported.

Associated Press dispatches from San Diego report a hailstorm with high winds, which blew all day Sunday and yesterday, with intermittent showers Sunday night. Shortly after daybreak yesterday, though the sun was shining in the east, heavy dark clouds appeared in the north and ice pellets the size of peas slanted to the ground for about five minutes.

HIGH WINDS.

Wind velocities as reported by the Weather Bureau ranged from thirty-two miles an hour at San Diego to ninety-six at Point Reyes. At San Francisco the sea was so rough that practically no ships ventured out and those at the bar ready to enter the bay remained outside.

The cold windstorm was general throughout the Imperial Valley, and in the mountains west of the valley the coarse sand and dust at times made driving over the grades somewhat hazardous.

On the desert near Coyote Wells and farther eastward, around Diggs land, the sand and dust were extremely bad Sunday afternoon, and reports yesterday say practically the same condition exists.

Considerable trouble with telephone, telegraph and power lines is being experienced, although none of the main trunk lines has been damaged.

In Bear Valley yesterday the snow was nine inches deep, according to reports.

Much Damage by Frost Reported in San Joaquin.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FRESNO, April 4.—Some of the richest portions of the fruit belt of the San Joaquin Valley suffered heavy damage from frost last night, according to reports received today from various points around Fresno by the California Associated Raisin Company and the United States Weather Bureau office.

The most damage was reported from a belt east and south of the city of Fresno, about twenty miles long and nearly ten miles in width. In some places in this belt, fruit growers reported to the raisin company that from 70 to 90 per cent of the crop was destroyed.

Wylie M. Giffen, president of the California Associated Raisin Company said today that no accurate estimate of the amount of damage could be made.

A high wind was blowing tonight, but the Weather Bureau said this would probably diminish before morning and that another frost, more severe than the one today, is to be expected.

VOTE ON BONDS TODAY.

Installation of New Lighting System in Hollywood Issue.

Voters of Hollywood today will decide whether a bond issue of $1,500,000 shall be authorized for the installation of an ornamental post lighting system for the streets of the district.

On the eve of the election Deputy City Auditor Marshall issued a statement commenting on what he terms errors in campaign literature circulated and bearing the names of J. L. White, S. W. Garrethon, Thomas Weiss, M. H. Patterson and Austin J. Kistler. The campaign handbills say the annual interest will be $90,000; that the annual payment on principal and interest amounts to $165,000; that the tax rate on each $100 will be increased 55 cents. According to Deputy Marshall, the interest will be $96,000 the first year, but will decrease by $4500 each of the twenty years the bonds will have to run, and will average $47,250; the annual payment on principal and interest averages $122,250 and the tax rate on each $100 will be increased 40 cents.

COUNTRY-WIDE SEARCH FOR MISSING SPOUSE.

Police detectives yesterday started a country-wide search for Harry H. Hopkins, 39 years of age, of 633 North Commonwealth avenue, when he was reported missing by Mrs. Judith E. Hopkins, his wife, of 324 Mt. Vernon avenue. According to Mrs. Hopkins, who has been separated from her husband for some time, he left his home last Saturday morning and has not been heard from since.

PLUNGES SEVEN STORIES; LIVES.

Elevator Worker Picked Up Suffering Only Broken Arm and Ribs.

Plunging head first down an elevator shaft in the new Los Angeles Street Railway Building at Eleventh street and Broadway yesterday, an elevator worker employed by the Llewellyn Iron Works was seriously injured and escaped instant death only by landing in a pile of rope at the bottom of the shaft. Although he fell seven stories, the man suffered only a broken arm and several fractured ribs.

Police who investigated the accident after the injured man was removed to a private hospital were able to learn only that his name was Wheeler and that he was employed by the Llewellyn Iron Works. At the time of Wheeler's fall he was working on an elevator in the new building. The authorities were unable to learn yesterday where Wheeler had been taken following the accident.

LURE WITH DRESS, SAYS "VAMPIRE."

Misty Goods That Glimpse but do Not Disclose Are Valeska Suratt's Idea.

Vampires are as old as the world.

The vampire always loses.

Every successful wife is a vampire; she must be.

The vampire of today must change her tactics.

She gives too much and she sells too little.

Modern reformers are ninnies; they don't understand dress psychology—

So I say to the girls: "Put some clothes on!"

"Ever since the world began, Woman has been vamping man—"

Valeska Suratt lay back in luxurious ease in her chaise longue, with one gold-shod foot thrown across the other, and a scarlet peignoir concealing her artistic curves. It was Sunday, and she had just arrived from the "valley" and she didn't open at the Orpheum till today, so she had a day of rest and ease. And into her Eden had invaded an interviewer.

Softly she hummed the above little ditty, and slowly smiled.

"About vampires? Huh! they are as old as the world. Eve led the clan and Delilah added to their fame. Bathsheba, bathing on her terrace, spurred King David, and the Queen of Sheba did as much for the wisest of all kings, his Solomonic son. Helen of Troy started a war, and Cleopatra wrecked an empire. Even now, Zita of Austria is upsetting the peace treaty, and tomorrow some other fair feminine divinity will start the cross-currents of history.

"And yet, the vampire always loses. It is inevitable. That's why I am sick of vampires, and am turning, even in my stage work—for I never was a vampire in real life—back to the simple and the good. The vampire fails because at heart she is a woman, and a woman gives up with greater joy than she conquers.

"Yet every successful wife is a vampire; she must be. Otherwise, she will lose her husband's love; for man is only imperfectly monogamous at best, and her husband will tend to wander far afield if she doesn't hold him in her thrall at home. The better the wife, the more need for her vamping.

"But the vampire of today must change her tactics. She is all wrong in psychology. She gives too much, and she sells too little; she exposes her goods too freely, and she doesn't make the male seek enough. Man wants only what he has to struggle for, and the modern vampire—and I might well add, the modern woman and girl in general—is entirely too free in proffering her charms.

"To dress the coming vampire will show a decided alteration—and the reformers will not be able to take unctious credit to their souls for the change, either. She will realize that the present styles, with their double exposure—aloft and afoot—too often defeat their very purpose; they give away more than they sell, and that is a losing business. No man has to guess what physical charms a woman possesses; he has only to look and to appraise.

"So I—I who have played vampires till I know them by heart—I say to the girls: 'Put some clothes on! Cover up your legs and your armas and let your ears breathe and your eyebrows grow. Veil your loveliness in filmy, misty good that intimates, but do not disclose. Let a hint of a leg entrance, now a boldly exposed one simply passes unnoted. Let the soft fullness of a neck enthrall and entice where now it only sunburns. Be feminine; not unsexed.'"

PORTLAND RECOVERS MANY STOLEN AUTOS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND, April 4.—Less than half as many automobiles were stolen during the year ending April 1, 1921, as were stolen during the preceding twelve months, and the percentage of those not recovered during the current year just ended is only half the percentage of those not recovered the previous year, according to a report of Lieut. H. A. Thatcher covering the first year's work of the police automobile theft department, filed today.

During the past year 330 automobiles and motorcycles were stolen, of which number only twenty-two remain not recovered. The previous twelve months 892 automobiles and motorcycles were stolen and 145 remained unrecovered.

—Including original Imported Models, for disposal in a More Than Sale AT BULLOCK'S

Wednesday, Not Today

—at prices actually below manufacturers' cost of production—

—No two garments alike—the most exclusive models created this season are concerned—they are samples—released earlier than is usual—at the moment when it was intended that you should wear them—

Women's Model Suits $49.50 and $75.00

Women's Model Dresses $75.00 and $95.00

Women's Model Wraps, $49.50, $75.00, $95.00

and a few very unusual creations up to $175.00.

A group of particularly interesting

Misses' Model Dresses, will be 75.00,

—Please bear in mind that these prices are but fractions of actual worth. It is as difficult for Bullock's to present the importance of the opportunity as it must be for you to visualize the values—for this reason you should not let anything keep you away—

—Owing to the fact that these garments have been used for purposes of display in designing rooms, some of them are slightly soiled, which has been a strong factor in bringing these prices to a lower level than the nature of this event would ordinarily warrant—

It Is a Fact Worthy of Emphasis That Many Beautiful Sports Creations Are Included

—You should not ignore this event because it brings within the realm of strict economy Suits, Coats and Dresses of that beautiful realm which might be considered prohibitive—Wednesday—not today—at Bullock's Third Floor.

Vegetables

Sixty-three million dollars ($63,000,000.00) is the value of the vegetables raised in the state during 1920.

California with her wonderful all-the-year growing climate, is the leading vegetable-producing state of the union.

The Bank of Italy has always co-operated with the growers—and it operates branch banks in almost every important section of the state where vegetables are grown on a large scale. Last year the growers received the benefit of loans which were made to the various fruit, vegetable, packing, canning, and stock-raising interests to the extent of over fifty-nine million dollars.

LINEN

The Fabric Supreme

In these thick, all-linen floor coverings, LINEN, cherished as the fabric of enduring charm, completes its sphere of usefulness in the service of the home.

KLEARFLAX LINEN RUGS & CARPETING, made entirely of linen, will impart new charm to every room in your house because the inherent beauty, richness and dignity of linen are the virtues of Klearflax.

Thick, heavy and closely woven, they are flat-lying, dust-resisting and soft-treading.

Their soft, restful colors offer a range of harmonious backgrounds for all requirements, and greatly simplify your decorative problems.

And their price? Think of it—a 9x12 rug, nearly 50 pounds of pure linen, selling at only $54.50, still further commends them because of the unusual value.

Klearflax, like all things linen, improves with wear, becoming softer and more silk-like with continued use.

See Klearflax rugs and carpetings today at all leading department stores, rug and furniture stores.

Ebell Club Told Artist Was Aviation Pioneer.

Made Sketches of Airplanes Four Centuries Ago.

Dr. Houghton Tells How Not to Raise Ferns.

BY MYRA NYE.

That Leonardo Da Vinci was a pioneer in the science of aviation, his sketch books made four centuries ago showing sketches of airplanes as perfect technically as those first used for flying in this century, was the statement of Mrs. Bannell Sawyer yesterday speaking before the Ebell Club in an illustrated art lecture. She said the immortal painter was also a military and civil engineer, a mechanic of great skill, a machinist and architect of note, as well as sculptor and a painter.

Three members to serve on the election board chosen by the club were Mrs. L. C. Blakeslee, Mrs. Edward Forgy and Mrs. E. C. Gates. Mrs. Frank Caldwell and Mrs. J. B. Millard were appointed by the executive board, the latter to serve as chairman. Even at this early date fifty-eight members have signified their intention to go to the State convention in the Yosemite Valley in May. Mrs. A. Bruce Cass was appointed captain of the automobile squad, since many automobiles will travel the same road and the members of the club can meet along the way for meals.

The reciprocity luncheon given by Ebell to the clubs of the district was announced by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president, for next Friday. Three hundred members, besides guests, will be seated at the table in the auditorium. The program of a week ago, with Miss Orcella Rexford lecturing on "Harmonies in Color," and a costume revue following the address will be repeated.

Thursday the social science department will take up the subject, "Our City Jail." The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt as defender for women in the City Jail will speak and Judge Wilbur will speak on "The Juvenile Court Law."

At the regular meeting Monday Edward M. Langley, art director of the Douglas Fairbanks studio, will speak.

Elysian Heights Club.

Dr. A. D. Houghton on the subject, "Horticulture and Reforestration," gave a whimsically informal talk at the last meeting of the Elysian Heights Club. He gave this formula for the care of a fern: "Buy it, then put it where it won't get any light, let it get bone dry, and then soak it overnight." This treatment, he said, is guaranteed to put any fern in a condition to be kept indefinitely—but it will be a dead fern. Dr. Houghton stated there was a wonderful scope for landscape gardening, both in one's own lot and the near-by vacant lots. He cited a case where "just a little horticulture" made a vast improvement in a place that it was sold for $10,000, when it had cost but $3600 a short time previous to the sale.

In complimenting Elysian Heights Civic Club on its work, the speaker said, "You are on the right track when you add to the beauty and cleanliness of the neighborhood grounds."

Alfred O. Kloess, blind pianist, played.

Mrs. Frederick Hills and Frank Kirkby were chosen delegates for the Pomona convention. Mrs. William Tomlinson and Miss Miriam Paddis are to act as alternates. Mrs. Tomlinson was elected delegate to Yosemite to serve with Mrs. Emma Walker.

War Mothers.

Friday at 2 p.m. in the Blue Triangle on Spring street, near Sixth street all mothers of sons and daughters in service in the World War are invited to be present when Mrs. Maud Barrett of the City Replacement Bureau and Mrs. E. M. Ware will speak. Mrs. Ed Hopkins will preside at this semimonthly meeting of the Los Angeles Chapter of War Mothers.

Wednesday Morning Club.

"What Every Woman Wants" by Mrs. Samuel Clover, "Overtones" by Alice Gerstenberg and a part of Olga Printzlau's "Window Panes" will be given in a lecture-recital by Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith for the Wednesday Morning Club tomorrow, 2:30 p.m. Members of the club and pupils of Mrs. Goldsmith's will appear in the first two plays.

League of Pen Women.

Today at 2 p.m. at the home of the president, Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Haustis, 418 South Normandie avenue, important matters regarding the convention will be discussed by members of the Los Angeles Auxiliary League of American Pen Women. There will be a special program.

No Kisses Sent Women, Declares Spouse to Court.

Ellis D. Endsley did not beat his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Endsley, or induce her to go to Detroit for the purpose of having her out of the way or escort two young women from a train when his wife met him upon his return from a trip or show women courtesies applicable only to a single man or send Kisses to a woman in New York.

These and other denials are contained in an answer Mr. Endsley filed yesterday to his wife's separate maintenance suit. He is a buyer for a mercantile company.

Among the other denials are that he told others that he and his wife were not mated; he refused to go out in public with his wife; his conduct broke her spirit and he was boorish, unmanly or cruel. He said he did not leave her a farewell note stating:

"Try this on your piano; am awfully glad it is all over with."

DR. MacGOWAN, ILL FOR SOME TIME, IS BETTER.

Dr. Granville MacGowan, prominent physician of this city, who has been ill at his home, 3726 West Adams street, for some time, was reported to be greatly improved yesterday and is expected to be out within a few days.

ANNOUNCE PURE MILK TEST DATA

Samples from Many Dairies Were Examined.

Consumers Can See Local Firms' Standing.

City and State Experts in Charge of Contest.

Dr. Joseph P. Bushong, chief milk inspector and city veterinarian, yesterday reported the results of the tabulation of a milk-scoring period, which started December 1.

During the week ending on the 2nd inst., samples of milk were collected from every milk dealer and dairyman having over five cows. These were scored at the health department by Dr. John S. Hay, market milk specialist, State Department of Agriculture; Prof. I. C. Marsgardt of the University Farms, University of California, Davis, and Dr. F. P. Wilcox, State Department of Agriculture.

This scorecard allows 100 points for perfect, of which thirty-five points are for bacterial count, fifteen for flavor and odor, ten for absence of sediment, fifteen for butter fat, fifteen for solids not fat, five for acidity, and five points for appearance of package.

PLANS FOR NEW JAIL ORDERED.

Contract for Care of City Prisoners Contemplated.

Modern Courthouse is Urged by Judge Valentine.

Recommends Locating of Cells on the Top Floor.

The first steps toward erecting a new County Jail were taken by the Board of Supervisors yesterday. After a conference, the board adopted the motion of Supervisor Cogswell to authorize the mechanical department to prepare plans and specifications for a new building to be known as the Hall of Justice.

Supervisors Cogswell and Bean were appointed a committee of the Supervisors to confer with the Mayor and members of the City Council, at the City Hall at 9 a.m. today, with a view of entering into a contract with the city for the care of city prisoners.

The new jail building will contain the Sheriff's office, the criminal courts of the Superior Court, and the criminal courts of the justice courts and the criminal departments of the District Attorney's office.

The new building, according to the plans, is to be located on the ground owned by the county on Temple street, adjoining the present jail building.

"Instead of spending $1,000,000 for a new jail, it would be better to tear down the Courthouse, which it is expected to do in the near future, and erect a combination Courthouse and Jail," stated Judge Valentine yesterday.

"The Courthouse arrangements are antiquated. A rotunda, around which the various courtrooms would open, is a more convenient arrangement than causing patrons of the court to walk up and down corridors and use crowded elevators.

"The jail could be put on the top floor, which would give prisoners plenty of light and air. As for exercise and sunshine, the roof could be arranged for that purpose.

"Under this plan, there would be no jail breaks. The conditions would be sanitary, and the confinement of prisoners better adapted to instilling into them a more cheerful view of life."

The Supervisors will discuss the jail proposition tomorrow. Chairman Dodge has asked for the views of the public. It is the concensus of opinion that something must be done at once to alleviate conditions at the County Jail.

SHADOWING IN MOROSCO CASE TOLD.

But No Names Mentioned in Attorney Cohen's Suit Against Mrs. Mitchell.

Reports of detectives which might have been interesting if the names of the persons concerned had been given, were introduced in evidence by Philip Cohen in Judge Avery's court yesterday, in Mr. Cohen's suit against Annie T. Mitchell to recover attorney's fees of $12,000.50.

Mr. Cohen was counsel for Mrs. Mitchell in her separate maintenance suit against Oliver (Morrosco) Mitchell, and other actions involving valuable rights in the Morosco Theater. The suits were dismissed under a settlement, and Mr. Cohen asserted that he had not been paid in full for his legal services.

Approximately 100 reports of the Burns Detective Agency operatives were introduced by Mr. Cohen, only for the purpose of showing the amount of work he had performed in the interest of Mrs. Mitchell.

The operatives merely mentioned having shadowed certain "subjects," and no names were mentioned. The reports cover the movements of the presumed "subjects" in New York City and in Los Angeles. They are now a part of the court records.

OPERA HERE EVERY YEAR, DIVA'S GOAL.

Mary Garden Pledged to Behymer to Bring Company Westward Annually.

A reunion fraught with fine sentiment was that which took place between Mary Garden and L. E. Behymer, musical impresario of this city, yesterday afternoon at the Clara Barton Hospital. Mr. Behymer has been ill for several weeks, and will probably be operated on Thursday of this week. It is the first time in the history of musical affairs in Los Angeles that he has ever missed so important an event as the Chicago season.

Miss Garden and Mr. Behymer gossiped for about half an hour, and "Bee" expressed the wish that the visit of the Chicago company would be annual, and said he would do everything in his power to insure the return of the company every year. Miss Garden was equally enthusiastic for the possibilities for a yearly tour.

"We have a greater opera company by far than on our last visit," said Miss Garden. "In fact, there is absolutely no comparison between the two organizations. I am going to introduce some extraordinary new singers next season, and you must have them here."

"We certainly will," said "Bee." "All my efforts will be laid at your feet, Mary."

"And all of mine will be to insure a visit to the Coast every year," said Miss Garden.

Then the conversation became somewhat anatomical and Miss Garden remarked that they had wanted to operate on her for appendicitis several years ago, but that she had held out against the doctors and won.

"Cut my beautiful body!" and she drew up to her full stature with her eyes glinting, and her pearl earrings and necklace lustrously shining. "I should say not. Not until I'm a lot older."

THRONG HEARS TRAGEDY SUNG.

Laurence Doheny, Mr. and Mrs. James Rathwell Page, Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys and Mrs. Kersey Reed.

Mrs. Schweppe wore a gown of sapphire-colored velvet trimmed with Point de Venise lace. Mrs. Van Nuys was clad in a handsome gown of jet sequins with which she wore some magnificent diamonds. Mrs. Doheny wore an imported gown of black and silver brocade.

Mrs. Secondo Guasti, who was in a box with friends, was looking her best in a beautiful imported creation of blue and silver brocade with which she wore pearls and diamonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch were among the important folk noted who occupied a box.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Modini-Wood entertained a family group at dinner and later in their box at the opera. Mrs. Wood wore a gown of old rose and silver brocade trimmed with silver lace. Mrs. James Langford Stack was looking stunning in a gown of gold sequins, while her sister, Florence Wood, looked charming in her gown of black sequins. Mme. Genevra Johnstone-Bishop, who was with them, wore pale yellow brocaded velvet.

GUESTS AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Benton Van Nuys entertained a company at dinner, later assembling them at the opera. Mr. and Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth entertained at dinner and the opera in honor of Maj. and Mrs. Robert Wankowski. Mrs. Hollingsworth was dressed in blue and gold brocade.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of Glendale gave a dinner and box party in honor of Col. and Mrs. Oliver S. Hershman of Pittsburg, their niece, Miss Cecile Boyd, and Mrs. J. D. Davis, their house guest. Miss Winifred Jones, daughter of the host and hostess was also in the party. Mrs. Hershman wore a handsome imported gown of pale gray brocaded chiffon.

With Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bettingen in a box were among others Mr. and Mrs. Myron Etienne. Mrs. Bettingen was gowned in a handsome blue brocaded velvet gown and wore her diamond and pearl jewels. Mrs. Etienne was lovely in a beaded gown of tangerine-colored georgette crepe.

William A. Clark, Jr., was host at dinner and in his box at the opera afterwards. His guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O. McLaughlin and Mrs. L. S. Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Jr., entertained an interesting group, and so did Mr. and Mrs. William May Garland, who complimented his sister, Miss Olive Rosamond Garland of New York, who is returning East today. Miss Garland was looking particularly handsome in a gown of white and silver brocade.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Laughlin, Jr., were there with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeffras. Mrs. Laughlin was in a handsome brocaded gown and Mrs. Jeffras wore a gown of Chinese vermillion and gold brocade.

Mrs. Hugh Livingstone Macneil was there with a group of friends in her box and was one of the most striking figures noted.

Dr. and Mrs. Granville MacGowan and their daughter, Miss Eleanor MacGowan, were entertaining friends, having had them for dinner earlier in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sanders had in their party, among others, Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wade Griswold.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Bryant occupied a box and had with them a company of important society folk.

Others of importance noted were Carlton Burke and his party, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Jarvis Barlow, Mrs. Ella Brooks Solano, Dr. and Mrs. Archibald Macleish, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin J. Muma, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Silsby Morse Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. William Ellsworth Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carpenter.

Col. and Mrs. George J. Denis were among the prominent folk who were occupying a box with friends.

Others entertaining groups of friends at dinner and in boxes or loges were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Doran, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Cheney, Maj. J. G. Boswell, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, Mrs. Cora Rahman, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Heilman, Marco Heilman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Letts, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allan Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Flint.

breathtaking in its action and pictorial realism, that portraying the rejoicing over the return of the title character from his triumphs. Against a background of zigzagging lightnings and gloomy massiveness of feudal castle, rose the fiery corruscations of genius-quality music, for "Othello" music has the genius quality that is like the glory of an autumn twilight, and as someone remarked to me is like nothing else that Verdi ever wrote.

"'Othello' will live as a miracle of dramatic beauty and power. Rightfully the interpreter of the title role may claim the distinguished service medals of artistic valor, although Miss Raisa's Desdemona was a thing of rarest beauty.

The feat of singing Othello ranks as one of the most difficult. The swarthy hero of the Shakespeare-Verdi music drama has many sides, as they say in the play. And he is called on to meet contrasts that violate all rules of logic in singing.

Othellos like Charles Marshall are not made, they are born. He is a true heroic tenor with the physique and the voice to match everything that "heroic" in this instance implies. After you have heard the fullness of his voice you are always anticipating more, because rarely do you feel that you know all of his capacity. He is withal an actor who dons dignity with the robes of a romantic era, who sketches broadly and with fine conviction the stress of feeling—infuriated feeling the final outcome—which makes Othello at once a pathetic and a dangerously potent figure, which you can liken to nothing but the Toreador's victim driven to desperation.

Between the Othello of Mr. Marshall and the Desdemona of Rosa Raisa there is all the breadth of contrast that is inherent in the dramatic and musical fabric of this opera. In costume and appearance the feminine star suggested those fragile women whom Burne-Jones delineated. Her voice matched the graceful beauty, the penetrating charm and sweetness of the character, whom even Verdi and his librettist Boito hesitated to change in the least from the Shakespearean original. Miss Raisa rose to supreme heights of lyric beauty in the final act. Her tones had the quality as fine as spun gold, and yet withal a perfected velvety softness. Her "Ave Maris" in particular was filled with a rare charm and fervor. She gained the highest tributes of acclaim for her rendition.

The Iago of Giacomo Rimini was an outstanding feature. It is not deep in its subtlety but it revealed the preparation of thought, and an unconventional attitude toward the interpretation. Any suggestion of operatic stiffness may spoil this role for the critical observer, and Mr. Rimini avoids that dangerous pitfall. He was at all times easy in his acting, never therefore allowing you to become aware of the vocal difficulties which he assumed. While his "Credo" was not a great tour de force, as it is with some baritones, he did not delay the action by spreading himself in this aria, but made it an intergral part of the performance.

Then There was Trouble.

"Robert," said his spouse, "father writes me that he is going to get a typewriter. What's the best kind, do you think?"

"Well," he replied unthinkingly, "I like them about 20, with soft brown eyes."—[Boston Transcript.

TO INVESTIGATE OIL COMPANIES.

Men Indicted in Texas Said to be in Business Here.

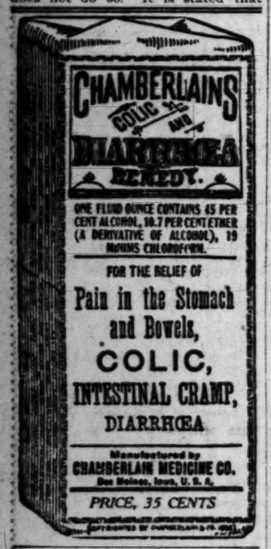
Report Promoters Pocketing Thousands of Dollars.

A searching investigation into the methods of certain oil companies doing business in and about Los Angeles is under consideration by the county grand jury, it became known yesterday. It is said that there are several companies especially active that have been selling stock without the permission of the State Corporation Commission, and that others, which have been granted the privilege, have been ignoring the rules and regulations under which they are expected to operate.

In this connection, it is declared that there is little protection for investors in some of the stock that is freely offered, and that thousands of dollars are taken in daily, most of which goes for agents, advertising and promoters' fees, so that if 10 per cent actually is spent for the development of the properties, it is the exception rather than the rule. It is said that the grand jury is especially interested in getting at the concerns which have been operating in violation of the State law under which they were granted their permits, which has already been upheld by the Supreme Court.

The State Corporation Commission, because of the pressure of business, is unable, it is stated, to investigate every case of violation of the law, which has enabled certain concerns to reap a harvest. The office is also hampered because of a difficulty in getting evidence. It is pointed out that under the system employed by certain companies, instead of selling stock they sell units of the property held in the name of the concern. This is for the purpose of evading the law, but in fact does not do so. It is stated that the purchasers of these units thereby become partners in the business of the concerns, and, therefore, liable for the entire indebtedness in case of a collapse, whereas, by purchasing stock, a holder is only liable for his pro rata share.

The investigation, which is expected to be under way this week, is likely to take a wide range, and will go into the past records of some of the promoters. It was stated yesterday that several who are under indictment in Texas for illegal stock operations are openly doing business in Los Angeles.



CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.—[Advertisement.

Resinol relieves dandruff

Dandruff is one of the most frequent causes of baldness and too much care cannot be exercised in getting rid of it. The Resinol treatment is an easy method. Shampoo with Resinol Soap working the lather well into the roots of the hair. Rinse thoroughly and when wholly dry spread the hair apart and gently rub into the scalp a little Resinol Ointment. If carefully done little Ointment will get on the hair. Resinol Soap and Ointment at all druggists.

MARY :: TO :: DON :: KNICKERS.

Star to Start Fauntleroy on Birthday.

Mary Pickford.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

MARY PICKFORD is looking forward to a great change in her life on Friday next, which is her birthday. Mary is going to turn into a boy! All her life she says she's longed to be a boy, and what day could be better for making a change like that than one's natal day?

In other words, Miss Pickford on her birthday is going to start work on "Little Lord Fauntleroy." And she says she's going to get into those black velvet Fauntleroy knickers, and go out on the lot and play a game of ball with the other kids in the picture, just as she's always wanted to do all her life.

So you can see she isn't going to spend the day loafing, as you might imagine. She's going to get up at 7 o'clock in the morning, same as any other day, eat breakfast as hurriedly as Maggie Jones of the department store, get to the studio at 8:30, ready to consult with her director, her cameraman and her scenario writer. And then at noon she's going to romp. But not for long, because she means to work as hard as any other little working girl in town. All she hopes for is that she may be able to knock off an hour earlier in the evening, say at 4 o'clock, in order to go home and rest a bit before she has to doll up for her birthday party at night. Charlie Chaplin will be one of the party, and there will be other notables there, too.

Yes, the world's most famous actress will on her birthday work as hard as Mary Smith of the ribbons and laces—maybe harder, because as Lord Fauntleroy she's going to stage a tough little fight.

And the birthday cake of the famous little actress will have but twenty-six candles on it.

Cuts Conspiracy Features Out of Brick Firm Suit.

Conspiracy features yesterday were eliminated by Judge Hewitt from the complaint of Joe Taylor Simons against the officers and directors of the Simons Brick Company asking an accounting and receivership. The court held that the assertions in the complaint that the defendants had entered into an agreement with other brick makers to form a combination restricting competition; to fix a standard price for bricks, and that the fixing of such price by agreement had not been for the purpose of obtaining a reasonable profit, were insufficient to entitle the complainant to injunctive relief. The case proceeded on the other charges of mismanagement.

UNION LEAGUE CLUB TO CONTINUE DRIVE.

HUNDREDS PLACED ON ROLLS OF ORGANIZATION, REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT.

At an important meeting of the directors and members of the Union League Club last night, the management of the membership drive made final reports that terminated the first part of the campaign, and the membership work formally was taken up by the club's own members.

Judge Weller, president of the club, announced the appointment of A. M. White as general chairman of the club's membership committee, Dr. Walter Henry as vice-chairman, J. B. Monnette as secretary and Edgar McKee, Walter F. McEntire and Leon E. Lampton as "majors" in charge of the club's "companies" which will be enlisted to work for the final rounding out of the 2500 membership list desired by Union League.

The membership majors will appoint captains, and the companies of members will start immediately a competitive campaign for Union Leaguers. Each week will close with a general committee dinner, at which a prize will be awarded the company securing the largest number of new members for the week.

Judge Weller stated last night that the resignation of Chairman J. B. Monnette and his organization from the drive work was accepted only because it was felt that the campaign had been so successful that it had placed the club in a position where it could rely on its own members to carry forward the work.

Judge Weller stated that in the drive just ended, leading professional and business men had not only joined the club by hundreds from Los Angeles, but also from Long Beach, Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice, Pomona, Ontario, Pasadena and many other places in Southern California.

"Mr. Monnette stays with us as secretary of the membership committee," said Judge Weller, "and we expect that the Union League Club soon will attain its full desired quota of members and become the largest Union League organization west of Chicago."

TALK ON WORKERS.

Whiting Williams to Compare Labor Conditions of Two Continents.

Whiting Williams, who has attracted national attention through his personal investigation of the labor problem, in an effort to find out "what's on the worker's mind," is to speak at a dinner at the Ambassador Hotel to be given in his honor by the Better America Federation for several hundred guests on the evening of May 4.

"For seven months I traveled the way of the common, unskilled laboring man in America," says Mr. Williams. "I worked with him, bending my back over the same job 'at the face' in the coal mines, or before the white hot furnaces of the steel plants, on the scaffold and on the dock. I ate with him in his dirty boarding-house. I endeavored to enjoy his amusements, and I slept under the same blanket with him on the bunks provided for the labor gangs."

When he had gained a working knowledge of the American laborer, Mr. Williams went to Great Britain where he spent three months in the mines and on the docks.

"I found more radicalism in a week there than I found in seven months in this country," he declares.

The comparison of conditions as he found them in the two countries forms the theme of the talk Mr. Williams will give.

IN LAND TANGLE.

Sues for Right-of-Way, Asserts City; Reservoir, Says Company.

A nice point of law is involved in the suit of the city of Los Angeles against the Tejunga Land and Water Company to condemn twenty-five acres of land owned by the latter. The city asserts the land is wanted for a right-of-way. The water company declares the land is sought for a reservoir site and that the city is seeking to obtain it under the law which gives the city the right, by depositing the money value of the land, to proceed with the work of building a reservoir pending an appeal. This, it is asserted, cannot be done.

Presiding Judge Shenk yesterday continued the case until Monday for argument.

PORT NOTES.

A forty-mile westerly gale blowing off the Southern California coast yesterday afternoon kept small boats in port all day. The gale blew away all traces of the rain clouds which showered the harbor district Sunday night.

The lumber steamer Brunswick, which had a cargo to be discharged at Redondo, was unable to dock at that port yesterday on account of the high seas and proceeded to Los Angeles Harbor to discharge here.

None of the vessels at anchor in the outer harbor last night was reported as having dragged anchor.

The United States Shipping Board freighter Eastern Mariner, operated by the Thorndike-Trenholme Company, arrived yesterday from Antwerp, bringing 1500 tons of high-grade silver sand to be used in making plate glass. The vessel is discharging at the outer harbor dock.

The freighter Eastern Leader arrived from Portland, and after bunkering here will sail today for Mediterranean ports.

The Pacific Mail's new "502" Granite State, on her maiden voyage, sailed at 4 p.m. for San Francisco and Manila after landing passengers and loading cargo here.

The Shipping Board freighter Eastern Sailor, under charter to the Navy Department, is expected to arrive today from Norfolk, Va. Other deep-water vessels expected are the K. J. Luckenbach from San Francisco, for New York; Manatlan, from San Francisco, for Topolobampo.

The steam schooner Brunswick, with a cargo of lumber from Mendocino, was unable to dock at Redondo yesterday on account of rough seas, and had to proceed to the local harbor to discharge her cargo.

Beginning Wednesday Morning

THE BROADWAY BASEMENT

WE DESIRE TO ANNOUNCE that we have broken ground for our second beautiful Memorial Mausoleum in Hollywood Cemetery. The building of this magnificent structure is the fourth step; we have already made a success of three completed Mausoleums.

Our first Mausoleum, in Inglewood Cemetery, completed in 1915, marks the first step of our progress. Riverside Mausoleum, our second building, was constructed in 1917, and the first Unit of our Hollywood Mausoleum, finished in 1919, has been inadequate for the ever-increasing demand for this form of interment and therefore we now make this announcement for the second Unit.

We invite you to investigate our completed Hollywood Mausoleum and the construction of this second Unit which will be of the same general construction, reinforced concrete, granite, marble and bronze, the most enduring materials known to man, and, our method of construction being so far superior to that generally used, our buildings will stand through the ages, heedless of the ravages of time. Beautiful in design, massive in structure, they are characterized by a simplicity and refinement in keeping with their dignity, faithfully guarding the sanctity of their trust.

The co-operation given us with our former buildings, together with the reservations which are being made daily, clearly demonstrates the increasing approval of this above-ground method of entombment.

CHARGE VICTIM WAS NOT AIDED.

Her Confession Admits Fight with Pursuing Citizen.

Young Woman Left in Street After Being Run Down.

A confession that he had knocked down a young woman with his auto on Saturday night, then fled, and was forced to the curb by a citizen who gave chase, he had administered a severe thrashing to his prisoner, was made by R. E. McNally of 1938 West Twenty-third street, who he was arrested yesterday at his home, according to Detectives Young and Holt of University Police Station, the arresting officers. He is held in the University Station jail charged with a felony—failing to stop and render aid to a person who he had injured.

The detectives stated that McNally had knocked down and badly injured Miss Julia Sunland of 924 West Washington street, at Washington and Norwood streets. The injured woman was taken to her home, where she has been confined to her bed since, the police stated. The full extent of her injuries is not known.

McNally fled, leaving the injured girl lying in the street, according to the detectives. J. F. Weisbard of 1211 Twenty-sixth avenue, saw the accident and chased McNally's car in his own machine. After a long chase, Mr. Weisbard forced McNally's car to the curb. Then four male occupants of McNally's car jumped out and inflicted a severe thrashing on Mr. Weisbard, according to his report at the Receiving Hospital, where he went for medical treatment. McNally and his companions got away, but Mr. Weisbard remembered their license number and by tracing the license number, the detectives caught McNally. He finally confessed to the officers after many hours of grilling, they say, but declared that he did not know the present whereabouts of the men who were with him on the night of the accident. A search is being made for McNally's companions.

SUPERVISOR'S WIFE ILL.

Mrs. Grace McClellan, wife of Supervisor McClellan, is seriously ill at her home in Sawtelle. Mrs. McClellan was operated upon some time ago and apparently recovered from the operation

BOOZE CASES JAM COURTS.

Because of the congestion of the calendars in the two departments of the local Federal court, it has become necessary to secure help from the outside, and U. S. District Judge Sawtelle of Phoenix will be in Los Angeles during the month of July to assist Judges Trippet and Bledsoe. He will have what is to be known as the third department, and will sit either in the grand jury or the term trial jury rooms on the fifth floor of the Federal Building.

The prosecutions of the violators of the national prohibition law and the Volstead Act have caused such a jam that it is almost impossible to secure a hearing either in a criminal or equity case. The local situation has become more involved by the fact that it has been necessary to spend five weeks in San Diego, instead of one, as has been the usual custom. All of May will be spent by Judge Trippet in Fresno.

Charged violators of the liquor laws are finding out, it is said, that they stand a better chance with a jury, and are demanding trials, instead of pleading guilty, which was the custom until they discovered that they had more than an even opportunity to tie up a jury. Under the law they must be given trials if they ask it. This has had the effect of clogging up the Federal courts with this class of cases.

The trial of the Pasadena bank case and the Groves brothers, charged with conspiracy to violate the liquor laws, will take all of the time of Judge Bledsoe during the entire current month, it is now believed, if both causes are tried. Then comes the Sloto case, involving a score or more of defendants, that will be tried by Judge Trippet. That means two more weeks of work.

SAY JOBS PLENTIFUL.

Positions in Citrus Belt Stated to be Awaiting Workers.

Openings for workers in the citrus belt are not scarce and there are positions for practically everyone who wants to work. Wages are good, when considering the present cost of living. These are statements contained in an announcement issued yesterday on the employment situation by George B. Hodgkin, head of the industrial relations department of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

"With the coming of the Valencia orange season," reads the report, "girls and experienced fruit packers will be in greater demand than any other class of labor. Particularly in Orange county will there be splendid opportunities for girls during the summer months."

LIMIT FOR DRUG STORE HOLD-UP MEN

Three of Four Bandits in Skinner Robbery are Given Year to Life Sentences.

Speedy justice was given by Judge Reeve yesterday to three of the four asserted bandits accused of holding up patrons of two drug stores on the night of March 14. They had been indicted on six counts and three of them, Julius Galliher, Robert G. Richtie, who stated his true name is Williams S. Seagoe, and Dewey Bell, pleaded guilty, waived time and were sentenced to San Quentin prison for from one year to life.

Frederick A. Reid, the fourth of those accused, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the 22nd inst. Confessions made by some of the defendants were introduced in evidence by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fricke and Detective Harry C. Hickok, who, with Detectives Erven and Raymond, all of the theft bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, arrested the four, testified regarding the confessions. He told of the arrests after the robbery of George Skinner of the Skinner Drug Company, Fifty-third street and Moneta avenue, and of patrons of the Ridgway drug store on West Sixteenth street on the same night.

Detective Hickok testified that fifteen persons had identified the defendants as those who had held them up and robbed them.
